March 3, At

8 P.M. In

Brown Auditorium

Frank Reynolds, news commentator and reporter, will speak at Brown Auditorium on March 3 at 8 p.m. as a guest of the Free University Series according to Paul Taylor, chairman. A one hour speech will be given with admission by I.D.

Reynolds has spent over 25 years in the field of journalism and has included in his work such accomplishments as winner of the George Foster Peabody Award for television news broadcasting, White House correspondent and anchorman for the ABC Evening News.

Reynolds was born in East Chicago, Ind. and attended Indiana University and Wabash College. His broadcasting career began after he was discharged from the Army in 1945.

In 1951 he joined a Chicago television station where he contributed as a writer, producer, and reporter to many news specials.

During the 12 years in Chicago, Reynolds toured the Middle East and was assigned to accompany President Eisenhower on a trip through the Far East.

His knowledge of the Middle East was the basis for a special television report which won him a World Understanding Award from the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations.

In 1965, Reynolds joined the ABC news staff and was assigned to the Washington Bureau where he became the network's White House correspondent.

During 1967, in addition to his reports on the network's evening news program, he was seen on three special television programs: "Free Press, Fair Trial," a study of the responsibility of the press in covering trials; and two special programs related to the Middle East war.

In addition, he served as anchorman during ABC coverage of the United Nations debates over the Middle East War.

During the presidential campaigns of 1960 and 1964, Reynolds covered the major candidates on the campaign trail. He traveled with President Johnson and was regional reporter for ABC News on election night in 1964 and in 1968.

During the national political conventions in 1964, Reynolds was one of the more aggressive floor reporters for ABC News. He played a key role in the network's coverage of the 1968 conventions.

Mr. Reynolds is a member of the National Press Club in Washington, the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations, Chicago's Headliners Club, the White House Correspondents Association and the Radio-TV Correspondents Association.

Reconsider The Budget

The spring budget has been passed by the SGA with very few dissenting votes being cast. This budget, calling for the appropriation of $16,349, must meet the approval of the administration as stated in the SGA Constitution Article VI, Section 3 "Expenditures" in paragraph 'a'. "Expenditures for the Student Government Association activities shall be subject to Senate and University Approval."

Senator Jim Luck, a freshman from the College of Business, is the leading opponent of the budget.

Luck would like to see a much more detailed budget come from his organization. He feels that the present budget allows too much room for deviation, and that this may be the leading factor if, and when a situation arises causing for such a maneuver.

We must agree with Luck. It seems a little dubious when the budget was passed Tuesday night and items on the budget included $3,500 for David Frye. Wasn't the Frye appearance last week? Another item is $150 for entertainment for Frye. What entertainment was this? Article VI, section 2, paragraph 'b' of the Constitution states "A budget shall be approved each semester showing income and projected expenditures."

For the Joe Profit banquet $1,000 was allocated. This was approved Feb. 9. The budget was passed Feb. 16. The same is true for a public address system costing $850. We are not questioning the motive behind these allocations. We are questioning the methods used.

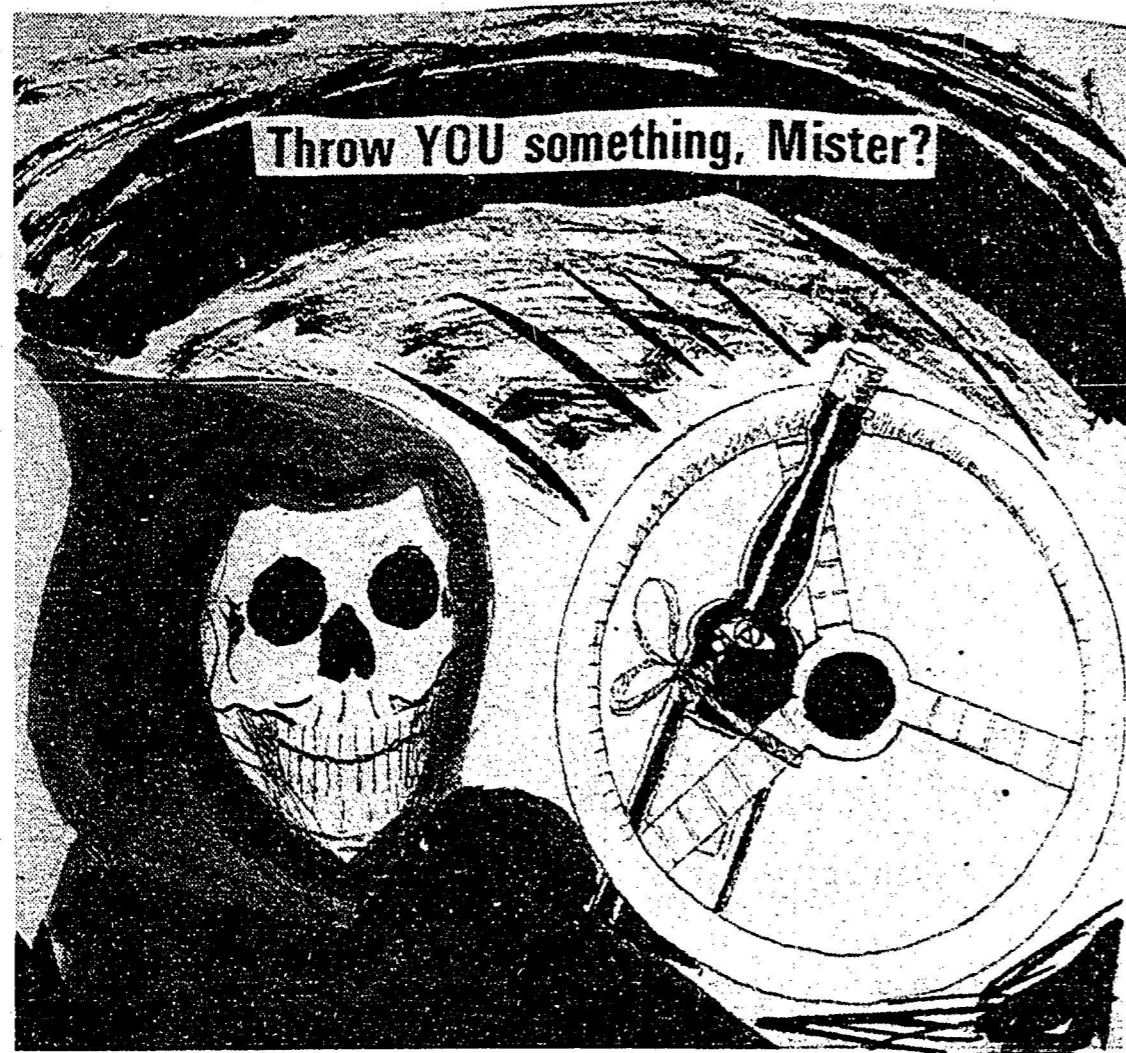

Luck stated that "two-thirds" of the budget are to be used for the SGA, this leaves one-third for the students.

Luck said, "More money can go toward the students, rather than the SGA." He stated further that the SGA's attitude is, "We have the money, why not do what we want?"

What money is being talked about? The $14 paid by each student at registration labeled an activities fee.

Before the budget is presented to the administration for their approval, we recommend that the SGA senate recall the budget and give it further careful consideration. A two-thirds vote is needed for this step to be taken.

A carefully planned budget may help alleviate the inconsistencies now experienced by the SGA.

Georges-Marie Quesada, a French teacher in the Teacher Exchange Program was quoted in the Feb. 12 issue of the Pow Wow as saying the U.S. schools were better than the schools of France, and that he likes the systems here much better.

These statements were later said by Quesada not to be true. Although, he likes certain aspects of the U.S. education system, he also prefers many of the aspects of the French system. He cannot say that he prefers the U.S. system over the French.

Reasons Given For 'Attitude'

By Mike Wainwright

Several administrators, particularly our adviser, Dean Tom Murphy, have remarked that my attitude has changed and I no longer project "cooperativeness" as I once did. To this, I would say that in spite of frustrations, every attempt has been made to appeal to the rationale of all concerned.

If their remarks were valid, the following reasons could be deemed determinants:

- 1. A proposed 1971-72 calendar change was rejected even though we made the original proposal two years prior to USL, LSU, and Nicholls State proposals and these schools have accepted the change.
2. We began request for dorm refrigerators in May and by September were told that we would get refrigerators by spring semester. As yet the only refrigerators on campus are in the Dean of Men's office. The Dean of Men at USL said the first refrigerators came to USL campus 45 days after the original request.

3. After being assigned a faculty lawyer to augment our students rights and responsibilities work, we find that the discussed a adjustment in his instruction load was not made.

The three reasons are contributors toward frustration. As the SGA sees other campuses converting to new calendars and enjoying dorm room refrigerators, even though we pursued the projects before they did, we can only wonder what parties are truly guilty of lacking an attitude of cooperation.

Editor's note: The Pow Wow welcomes letters to the editor. These letters do not necessarily reflect the opinion of this paper or of NLU. They reflect solely the ideas of the student writer.

All letters must be in the Pow Wow office by 6 p.m. Monday. They should be typed, and our recommendation is that they do not exceed 300 words. They must conform to the editorial standards of the Pow Wow.

Journalism Interns Working At Newspapers, TV Stations

Members of two journalism classes at Northeast are working as "interns" at local newspapers and television stations this semester, according to Dr. John A. McLemore, head of the university's department of English.

Students enrolled in Journalism 312, Radio and Television News, are organizing and presenting two half-hour productions each week at KYAY television, Channel 11-39, in West Monroe.

Dr. McLemore said the students, under the direction of L. Dupre Long, assistant professor of journalism, will participate in a 4:30 p.m. production on Tuesdays along with various university personnel discussing selected topics. At 4:30 p.m. Wednesday the students will present a university news program, in conjunction with the NLU News Bureau and Sports Information Director.

Students enrolled in Journalism 308, Advanced Reporting, will be working at the Monroe "Morning World" and "News Star," the "Ouachita Citizen" and KNOE television.

Student Opinion Polled

"Do you feel that there is a need for better traffic control procedures at the corner of Hippolite and Bayou Drive? If so what?"

This was the first of many questions asked in an SGA opinion poll conducted during spring registration. This poll was taken from 1638 students—722 commuter students and 916 resident students.

As an answer to the first question concerning traffic control an overwhelming 926 votes were cast in favor of a traffic light being placed at the intersection, with a negative vote of 261.

Should underclassmen girls' curfews be abolished or liberated? Yes, say 1386. Only 117 stated that they thought curfews should remain the same.

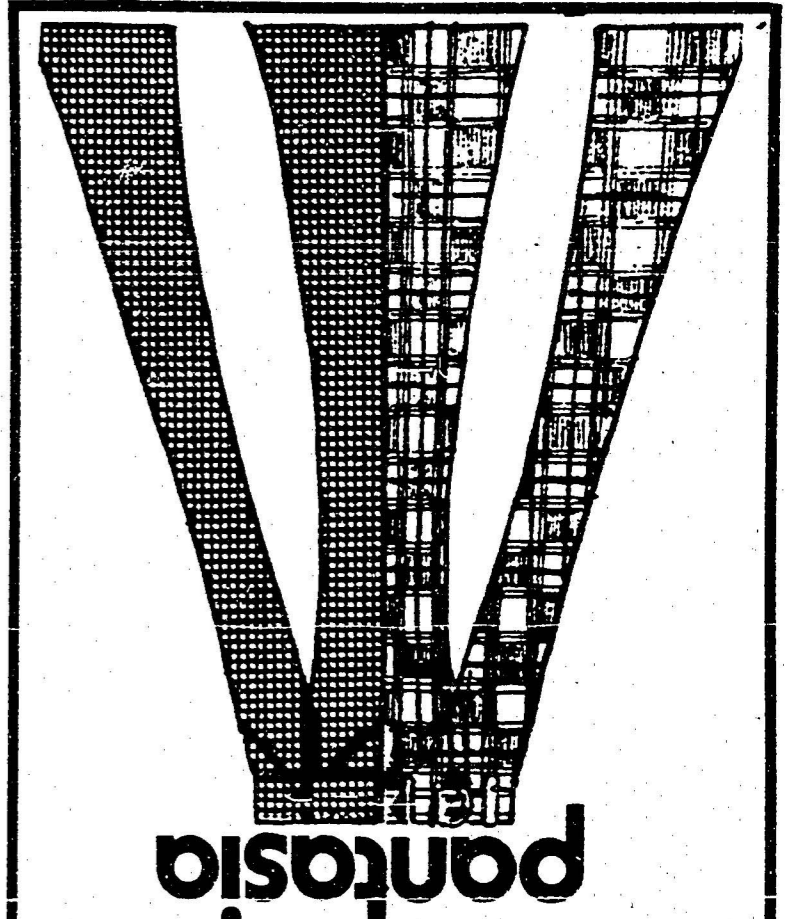

Other issues which received strong positive support were playing Dixie at ballgames, 1363 yes, 218 no; longer library hours 316 yes, 387 no; five-day meal tickets for commuters 417 yes, 165 no; five day meal tickets for resident students 626 yes, 187 no; end the fall semester before Christmas 1463 yes, 103 no; and would resident students move off campus if the rules were changed? 485 yes, 103 no.

A need for a better guidance system was also voiced by a margin of 1163 yes to 310 no. Since the time of the poll an addition had been made to the guidance staff in the person of Dr. Brythel H. Brantley, head of the new Counseling Center.

An issue that might be somewhat surprising to many students is that adding beer to the menu in the snack bar was voted down by a vote of 814 to 693 yes votes.

Of the 1638 students polled only 27 said that they had lost any articles through the Post Office. Only three of those reported their losses.

Current Miss Ouachita Believes Pageant Benefits Are Numerous

"The benefits of winning a pageant are unlimited," said Pinkie Lea Humphries, reigning Miss Ouachita Parish.

Miss Humphries, who received the 1970 title May 2, will conclude her "memorable" year March 6. During her reign, the 19-year-old Northeast coed has had opportunities to "meet many interesting people, entertain at various state functions and gain poise and ease in facing situations."

Teacher Exam Registration Ends April 3

The registration deadline for seniors planning to take the April 3 National Teacher Examination is March 11, according to Dr. Jack E. Kimball, director of Testing and Guidance.

Used by many school districts as one factor in the selection of new teachers, the exam is required of all persons completing the teacher education program at NLU.

Dr. Kimball explained that the full-day exam is administered in two parts. The morning session is the common examination, designed to cover two main categories—professional and general education.

This test, Dr. Kimball stated, is selected by the applicant from a number of subjects in order to satisfy the requirements of the school system to which he wishes to apply.

Public Appearances

The sophomore journalism major has entertained at the Louisiana Watermelon Festival in Farmerville and the Northeast Louisiana Stock Show Pageant, along with appearances before Monroe and West Monroe civic groups. Miss Humphries also served as Mistress of Ceremonies for the West Monroe "Little Miss Pageant."

The coed listed Al Dodd of the Saints, Archie Manning, James Drury and Shari Lewis as a few of the "personalities" she met and appeared with during her reign.

New Orleans Saint Tom Dempsey entertained at the cerebral palsy telethon held in Monroe last spring with Miss Humphries, and again in the Alexandria-Pineville area. Through him, the coed met a number of professional football players.

Title Prizes

More than $1,000 in prizes accompanied the parish title. Miss Humphries said that she also received a chance to appear in various parades, make commercials and television and radio appearances and represent the parish in last summer's Miss Louisiana Pageant.

While attending NLU, Miss Humphries has attained a 3.1 average and serves as freshman advisor to Breard Hall. She was chosen as a Sigma Tau Gamma Rush Girl and "Playmate of the Year" and a Phi Delta Chi Rush Girl. Miss Humphries is also a Pow Wow reporter. She is active in the Phi Mu social fraternity, Warbonnets, Ten Little Indians and the 1970 spring concert band.

She has provided special entertainment at campus functions such as Parent's Day, the Alumni Banquet held at homecoming, the Scholar's Banquet, and the Mother's Day Banquet.

The coed enjoys writing poetry during free time, and won Louisiana's 1969 Poet Laureate Award.

Hook Says Freedom Is Right To Seek Truth

"Academic freedom is not a human right, it must be earned," said Dr. Sidney Hook, professor of philosophy and former head of the All-University department at New York University, in Brown Auditorium Tuesday.

Dr. Hook's appearance was sponsored jointly by the Honor society of Phi Kappa Phi and the University Recognition Committee and was open to faculty, students and the general public.

In his speech entitled "Academic Freedom and Academic Anarchy," Dr. Hook said, "Academic freedom is the freedom of the professionally qualified persons to define and publish the truth as they see it, in their fields of competence."

"This freedom is not the right to teach but the right to seek the truth. A man who is qualified to teach in pursuit of the truth has the right to be wrong."

Realistic Liberal

He said some educators disagree with his ideas, but Hook, who describes himself as a "realistic liberal," said those people were "ritualistic liberals. And a ritualistic liberal is a man who thinks he can be a liberal without being intelligent."

Hook said academic freedom is also the freedom to learn but this freedom "depends on more than curriculum choice, it also depends on material things that may be absent."

Dr. Hook listed four demands students have the right and obligation to make:

1. The right to regulate their "own social life through student organizations to a certain extent and be accountable for their actions, but the faculty must have a certain amount of veto power."
2. The right to consult. "This is the right to be heard and receive explanations of situations which concern them. If a student wants to know why he has to take a certain course and a faculty member can't give him a reason, then why should he?"
3. The right to individualization of curriculum.
4. The right to a central and continuing concern of the teacher to which they have been assigned. "Teaching is an art. Most colleges are indifferent to the types of teaching taking place. A student has the right to the best instruction possible."

In a question and answer period Dr. Hook said, "The fact that a teacher is praised by students doesn't mean that he is a good teacher but if there is widespread criticism you pretty well know he is a bad teacher."

Student Respect

"A student has respect for a teacher who teaches him something even if he hates his guts."

Dr. Hook ended his address by saying that everything he had said "flows from my concepts of the types of universities today."

The first type of university is the one which "is primarily vocational."

The second type is one which "regards itself as a master of society and not as a servant of society; one which wants specific solutions and not just to meet the demands of society."

The third and last type is one "based on the principle of academic freedom, on in which there is a partnership between the faculty and the students in search for truths, not THE truth, but many. One with many goals in the hope that from these pursuits they may develop a culture to benefit all mankind."

Dorms To Close For Mardi Gras

NLU dormitories close 9 a.m. Saturday for the Mardi Gras holiday and reopen 1 p.m. Wednesday, according to Thomas Murphy, dean of men.

Dining facilities will be closed during this time. Students who eat in Schuitze will eat the Friday evening meal in Gunby Dining hall.

Students unable to leave for the holiday because of employment, financial hardship or some other reason must secure permission from the office of the Dean of Men to stay in the dormitory.

A fee of $8 will be charged those students staying in the dorm which must be paid to the auditor's office.

Those students found in the dormitory without permission will be subject to severe disciplinary action. All cars that are not registered with the Dean of Men should be parked in Monroe Hall parking lot.

Auditions Set Today For Musical

The Spanish Department of NLU will hold readings for a three-act "zarzuela" entitled "El Estudiante." Initial tryouts were held Thursday at 5 p.m. and the last auditions will be today at 4:15 p.m. in Brown Auditorium. Anyone who is interested is but unable to attend the Friday reading should contact Foley Nash at 387-0494, or Mrs. Priscilla Roach at 372-4091.

The "zarzuela," which is usually a short "slice-of-life" musical, was a very popular theater genre in the last century. This particular "zarzuela" will be presented on April 6 in conjunction with the high school affiliated Foreign Language Festival of the Louisiana Foreign Language Teachers' Association.

The plot of "El Estudiante" centers around Juanito, a fun-loving student sent to the university at the tremendous sacrifice of his elderly parents, Don Pepe and Dona Pepa, both aged 60 years. Characters needed include Juanito, Don Pepe, Dona Pepa and Melchora, the old family cook. In addition to these speaking parts, there will be a large chorus (although no professional singing is required) of country folk, students and professors.

The Spanish Department hopes to draw its talent from the student body at large. The only prerequisite for participation is patience, endurance and a good sense of humor; a rudimentary knowledge of Spanish would be helpful.

Hester Chosen Magazine Editor

Mrs. Joy Hester, a senior in English, has been selected by the editorial board of the campus literary magazine as the editor of the first publication.

The editorial board has set a deadline of March 8 for all material to be submitted for consideration for the first issue to be published in April.

Works will be accepted on the basis of originality, depth and relevance of subject matter and over all literary quality. Poems, short stories, essays and short plays will be evaluated.

Sunday afternoon, Tulane hosted races entered by LSU, LSUNO, Florida State, University of West Florida, Pensacola Junior College, Tulane, McNeese, USL, Loyola and Northeast.

SEISA is one of seven districts which make up the Intercollegiate Yacht Racing Association of North America, Inc. Several colleges in Texas, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida are members.

The Northeast club placed second in the finale on Lake Ponchartrain.

Drudgery Must Go, Says Education Dept.

"We are attempting to eliminate the drudgery of teaching by having our students use bulletin boards of their own designs for instructional purposes in the elementary schools," commented Dr. Bernard Shadoin, head of the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education at Northeast.

Shadoin said Dr. Robert Ward, assistant professor of education at Northeast is editing a book entitled "Creative Bulletin Boards for Elementary School Mathematics," concerning the construction and use of bulletin boards for teachers of elementary school mathematics.

"Dr. Ward first conceived the idea of preparing a book on bulletin boards for elementary math last spring. He noticed many of his students possessed excellent creative abilities and decided to consult them to see if they would agree in helping him prepare his book," said Shadoin.

"Response was excellent. The students were enthusiastic and answered the challenge with many interesting and original designs of their own. The students were told to use their creativity and they did admirably," he said.

Shadoin went on and said Hays Publishing Company was interested in Ward's book and were satisfied with the bulletin board designs his students created. They were impressed to such an extent they felt Ward's book will be unique in its field. Publication on a national scale is scheduled for this spring.

Shadoin explained the elementary school teacher tries to communicate to his students effectively by using various teaching aids such as the bulletin board. They prepare these boards from ideas of their own. The basic concepts of a particular subject is stressed by using any number of available ideas such as cartoon or animation. Peanuts is a favorite among the teachers.

"The teacher can employ any number of ideas he wants through the use of an unlimited source of materials. Vivid colors are used but on a limited scale, for we do not want to confuse the child by associating different numbers or objects with a wide variety of colors," stressed Shadoin.

Shadoin said all education courses at Northeast place the importance of bulletin boards as a teaching aid. Students are taught how to use color, balance, titles, border designs and three dimension effectively in constructing their bulletin boards.

"The elementary school child can easily be bored. The teacher must frequently change the design of his bulletin board in order to hold the child's attention. These boards are not permanent fixtures. After they are used they are put on file for future use and alterations for other teachers to sue," said Shadoin.

"Production can't overcome the concept. The teacher has to relay his message over to the child effectively by using bulletin boards that are simple but yet creative. The board should not scream at the child," he said.

Shadoin further explained experienced teachers have always used bulletin boards as a valuable teaching aid. Workshops have been held in order to instruct teachers concerning the preparation of an effective bulletin board.

Northeast Designated As Test Site

Northeast Louisiana University has been designated as a test center for administering the National Teacher Examinations April 3, said Dr. Jack E. Kimball, director of Testing and Guidance.

College seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require applicants to submit scores on National Teacher Examinations are eligible to take the tests.

The designation of Northeast as a test center for these examinations gives prospective teachers in the area an opportunity to compare their performance with candidates throughout the country who take the tests, Dr. Kimball said.

At the one-day session a candidate may take the common examinations, which include tests in professional education and general education, and one of the 24 teaching area examinations, designed to evaluate understanding of subject matter and methods applicable to the teaching area assigned.

"Bulletins of Information" describing registration procedures and containing registration forms may be obtained from Testing and Guidance, Room 1-155, Administration Building or directly from the National Teacher Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, N.J., 08540.

Prospective teachers planning to take the tests should obtain their "Bulletins of Information" promptly, Dr. Kimball advised. All students completing the teacher-education program at Northeast will be required to take the common and teaching area examinations.

Loan Program Might Relieve Money Pangs

Students with financial problems may find their answer in the National Defense Student Loan program, according to James C. Fryer, financial aid and placement office.

Under this program, an eligible student may borrow up to $1,000 per year with a maximum of $5,000, during his attendance at college. Repayment is deferred until nine months after the end of his studies. The applicant must then begin payment of the principal with three per cent interest.

Eligibility, Fryer stated, is determined by federal regulations. The applicant must be enrolled of planning to enroll in a course of higher education as a full time student. United States citizenship or intention to reside permanently in the country, ability to maintain good standing and a definite need for assistance are required, said Fryer.

Applicants planning to teach on elementary or secondary school level and promising students in science, mathematics, engineering or modern foreign language are given special consideration. However, students in any field or major are eligible, Fryer pointed out.

For those students entering the education field, the loan is cancelled at a rate of 10 per cent per year for each year the applicant teaches in a public elementary or secondary school.

NLU Graduates Display Works

Paintings by recent B.A. and M.A. graduates of Northeast were recently on exhibition at the Bry Hall Art Gallery.

The paintings were curated by Robert G. Ward, assistant professor in painting at Northeast, to become a part of the permanent art collection of the department.

Also on exhibit in the gallery were black-and-white and color prints which include intaglios, woodcuts, lithographs and cerigraphs. The prints were executed by Edward E. Schutz, assistant professor of printmaking, from his last semester printmaking students.

The College Scene

FORT WORTH, Tex. (The Skiff, Feb. 5)—Black students at Texas Christian University presented a list of demands at a press conference in the wake of the withdrawal of four black football players from the TCU team.

The black students said the withdrawal resulted from dress codes and policy changes within the university instead of inadequate social life as football Coach Jim Pittman had claimed.

The blacks discussed the need for a black studies program and a recruiting system for black students. They also demanded that a black minister and black psychologist be hired to handle problems of black students.

LAKE CHARLES (The Contraband, Feb. 12)—The administration at McNeese State University has changed hair regulations for male students.

Hair, according to a university official, must be "out of the eyes, shall not extend below ear lobes and must be regular collar length in back."

Previously a male's hair had to be off the collar in back and above the ears.

The administration spokesman said the hair issue would be forced if the administration had to.

SEATTLE, Wash. (The University of Washington Daily, Feb. 9)—Washington State legislator Michael K. Ross, a Republican, introduced a bill which would allow sealed, stamped, graded lids of marijuana to be placed on state liquor shelves.

Under the Ross bill, the state would be the salesman of marijuana, with receipts from sales going into the state's general fund or to the University of Washington for study of hard drug abuse.

The bill would allow the sale of up to one ounce—a lid-of marijuana a day to persons over 21.

SEATTLE, Wash. (The Daily, Jan. 15)—Washington Gov. Dan Evans proposed an enrollment freeze and steep two-year tuition and fee increases for the University of Washington and Washington State University in his budget message to the state legislature.

Evans described the budget as austere in the midst of the state's worst economic recession since World War II. The University of Washington's share of the budget is $287,317,638, up from $282,200,000 for the 1969-71 biennium.

The sharpest increase proposed by Evans would come in out-of-state tuition, which would be hiked $501 per year to $1,581.

Danti Presents Paper At Drug Education Meet

Dr. August G. Danti, head of the Department of Allied Health Sciences, recently attended a meeting of the Blue Ribbon Committee of the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy in Chicago, Ill. and the First Drug Education Conference in Alexandria.

The Drug Education Conference, sponsored by the Rapides Parish School Board in conjunction with the Louisiana State Department of Education, was held Tuesday through Thursday.

At the conference, Dr. Danti delivered a paper on the "Pharmacology of Drugs Most Commonly Abused" and a profile of a drug education program for the elementary and secondary school.

Other presentations revolved around the social effects, emotional and medical aspects of drug abuse.

This is the fifth Drug Education Conference of its kind to be held in Louisiana. Dr. Danti has participated in all four previous conferences.

The Blue Ribbon Committee, which met Feb. 2-5 is engaged in developing a uniform practical examination for the use of pharmacy and examining boards in the profession.

The new test would "more closely test for fitness of the individual to practice", Dr. Danti said.

Dr. Danti is a member of the Louisiana State Advisory Council on Drug Education, a consultant to the Ouachita Parish School System on Drug Education, a member of the Drug Abuse Committee of the American College of Apothecaries and a member of the Board of Directors of the Northeast Louisiana Alcohol and Drug Abuse Council.

Unsolvale Problem? In Case Of Fire, Pull Alarm -- Then Shout 'Help'

In case of fire pull the fire alarm then call the fire department on the telephone, because the fire alarm may be disconnected. This is the condition of the fire alarms in the men's residence halls at NLU.

"The alarms are disconnected and the fire extinguishers are not in their cabinets because of vandalism by some students," said Thomas Murphy, dean of men.

"We are almost faced with an unsolvable problem. We have fixed the alarms over 500 times, I guess, and everytime we reconnect them someone sets them off again," said Murphy.

The Dean added that they had tried letting the alarms ring all night after someone had set them off, but as soon as they were turned off and reconnected someone would set them off again.

Vandalism has also made it necessary for the fire extinguishers to be placed in the lobbies and storerooms of the men's dorms.

The danger of fire is not that great, according to Murphy, because of the outside corridors in the men's dormitories. "Since each room has an outside exit there is little danger of anyone being trapped in the rooms or overcome by smoke before he could get out," Murphy said.

A fire did occur in Madison Hall about three or four years ago and the fire department was called but, Murphy said, "the profs were able to put the fire out themselves using the fire extinguishers in the dorm."

There is no procedure outlined in the current residence hall manual to follow in the event of fire, but Murphy said that the manual is being revised and a procedure concerning fires will be added.

"If a fire does occur after the office of the dormitory is closed," Murphy said, "the student should call the house director or his proctor."

A New Name Is Heard, A New Position Filled

A new name and a new position have been added to the administrative roster at Northeast this year in the person of Miss Susan Featherston, director of women's housing.

A native of Marked Tree, Ark., Miss Featherston graduated from high school there and then entered Memphis State University. She graduated with a bachelor's degree in 1969 and entered graduate school at the University of Missouri at Columbia, Mo.

Armed with a master's degree in guidance counseling and student personnel services, Miss Featherston approached the administration at Northeast. She was accepted for the position of Women's Housing Director and began work here in September, 1970.

Miss Featherston's duties encompass all phases of women's housing, including dorm and room assignments and any problems which may arise in these areas.

Special Education Sunday School To Aid Mentally Retarded Children

Plans for a Special Education Sunday School Department for Mentally Retarded children were announced by Cecil Libscomb Jr., an instructor at the special education center of NLU.

This service is being set up to meet the spiritual needs of the educable mentally retarded children of the city of Monroe and Ouachita Parish.

Libscomb said this program will start the first Sunday in October at the First Baptist Church in Monroe during the 11 a.m. worship hour.

According to Libscomb, his idea evolved from a similar program set up at Calvary Baptist Church in Jackson, Miss., to which he was a consultant for the Special Education Department there several years ago.

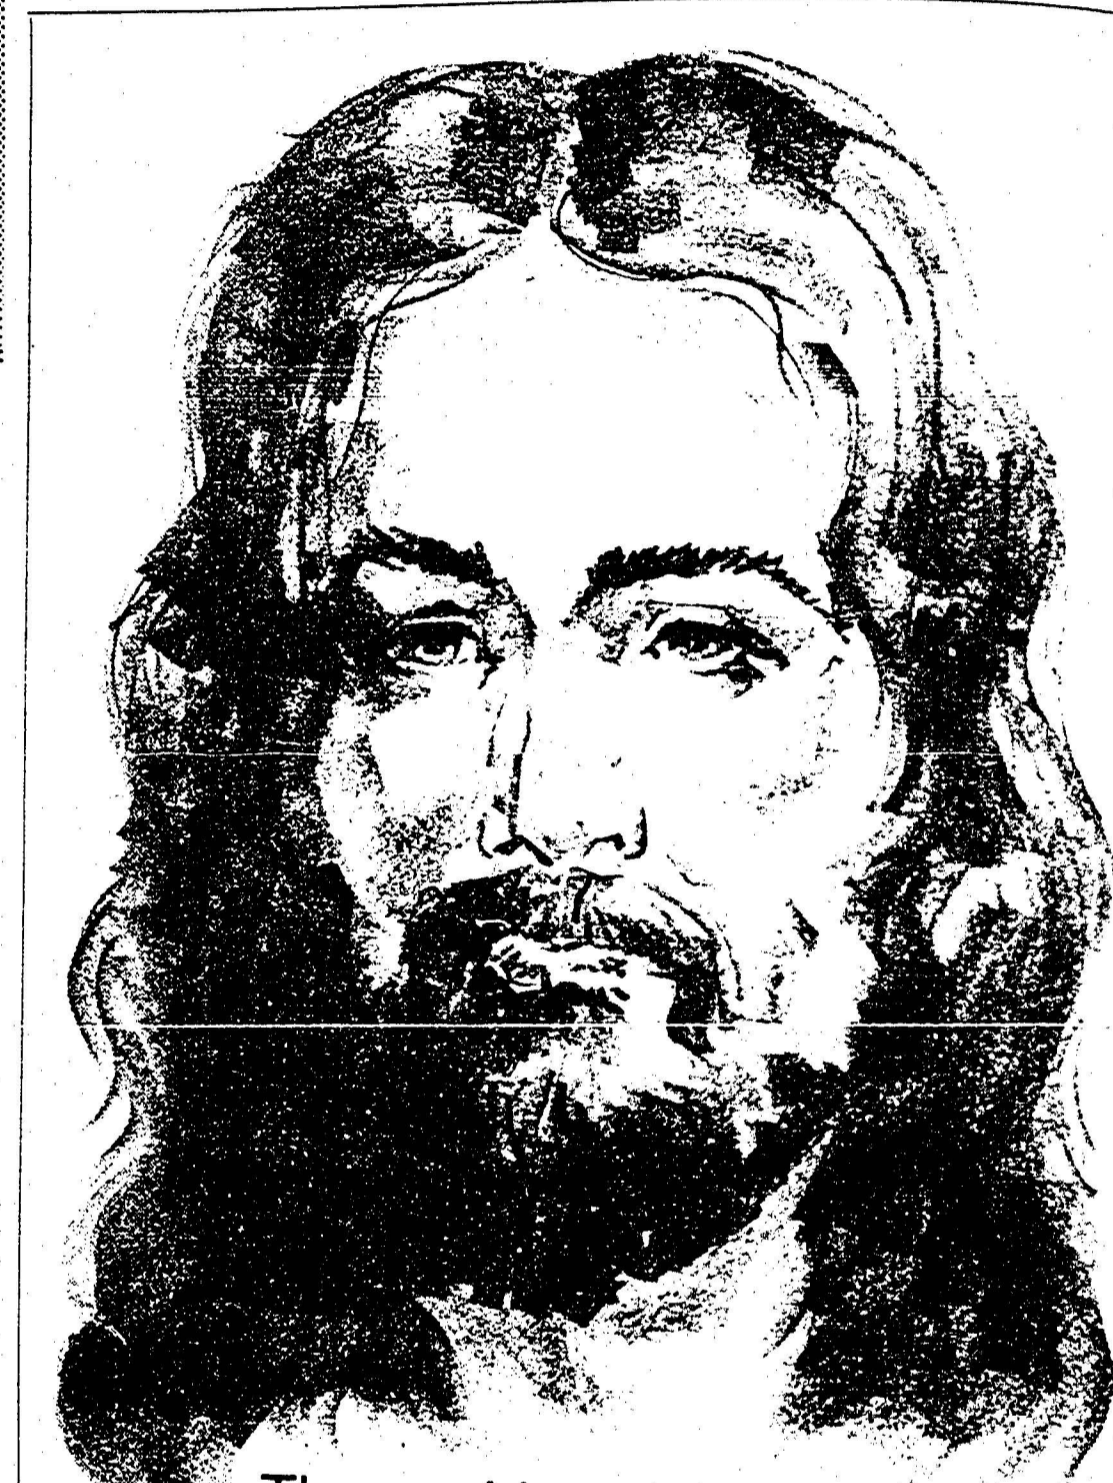

This will be the first such service of its kind in this area, Libscomb said.

This program is available to educable mentally retarded children from ages six to 18, regardless of denominational preference or church affiliation and without cost.

The departmental staff will consist of a director, outreach worker, five teachers and three aides. The five teachers will rotate among their classes with two being able to attend church every Sunday.

Libscomb said he hopes there will be a large response to the program and he now needs people to submit names for the program in order to determine eligibility and appropriate class placement.

Northeast Edges USL With Balanced Attack

The Northeast Indians pulled a fantastic two-point upset Monday night in the Civic Center by knocking off nationally-ranked USL, 100-98.

In a frenzied contest that saw the score knotted 12 times and the lead change hands 13 times, the NLU cagers managed to take the lead for good on two free-throws by Bob Carson with 5:54 showing.

The biggest lead for the Indians came in the first half, when NLU led by seven points, 23-16, with 12:50 remaining in the opening frame.

USL held an eight-point advantage, 82-74, with 8:49 to go in the contest.

The victory was assured by two free-throws by Henry Steele in the final 11 seconds, boosting the Redskins lead to four, 100-96.

Two points by the Cajuns in the waning seconds was not enough to pull them out of their losing position.

Henry Steele again led the Tribe in scoring and rebounds, by collecting 31 points and 10 rebounds. He was followed by Roger Stockton with 26 points and 10 rebounds.

Bill Snellings supported the cause by sweeping the boards for a whopping 23 rebounds and adding 19 points. Andrew Harris earned 15 points. Bob Carson got seven and Lester Wyatt added two more tallies.

The effort of USL was sparked by Dwight Lamar, who collected an outstanding 44 points. Roy Ebron hit for 24 points and took 18 rebounds.

Frank Klu added nine and Peyton Townsend managed eight for the Cajuns. Garland Williams tacked on seven more tallies for USL.

Southwestern, ranked No. 1 by Carr ratings, No. 2 in Associated Press ratings, and No. 3 in United Press International standings, fell to 17-3 on the season and 6-2 in the GSC.

The NLU squad tightened their hold on third place in the conference and upped their season mark to 13-5. The win boosted their conference record to 7-3.

Halftime saw USL leading by one point, 52-51. The Cajuns managed to maintain a slim lead most of the second half, but the final five minutes belonged to the Indians. When the smoke cleared, the Redskins stood victorious in one of the most exciting games of the season.

Saturday night, the Indians downed Southeastern 76-66 in a

Gulf States Conference bout, upping their conference mark to 12-5.

Using a balanced attack, the Tribe overcame a slow-down strategy employed by the Lions. Southeastern fell to 1-8 in the league, their only win being over Nicholls State earlier in the season.

Four players hit in double figures for the Indians. Henry Steele fired in 18 points, and Carson, Stockton, and Snellings managed 15 apiece. Andrew Harris added nine for the Tribe.

Southeastern's Curlee Conners displayed his talents by taking game scoring honors with his 23 points. Young tallied 17, and Huss managed nine for the losers.

The ten-point spread in the final score is an indicator of even shooting. Southeastern hit 27 of 50 for 54 percent and the Northeast made only 25 of 51 for 49 percent.

An uneventful game throughout, the contest was rather low-scoring. This is accounted for by SLU's stall tactics, which succeeded in stalling the Indians' running attack.

The Indians managed to build their lead to 12 points on five separate occasions, but the Lion's slowdown kept NLU from running, which is usually their style of playing.

The Redskins routed the Demons of Northwestern State 97-69 last Thursday night in the game that moved Northeast into third place in the GSC.

NLU's cagers took the lead from the starting gate and never relinquished that lead. The loss was NSU's third straight losing effort.

Andrew Harris, freshly returned to action after a bout with the flu, bombed the nets for a team high of 22 points. In fact, Harris scored the first bucket of the game from 15 feet out only three seconds into the game.

Vernon Wilson took game scoring honors for Northwestern with 27 points, although it was a hopeless attempt.

Three other Redskins made it into double figures, balancing the NLU attack. Roger Stockton earned 18 points and Bob Carson and Henry Steele managed 17 each.

Halftime found Northeast head 49-32 and the Demons never came closer than 13 points in the second frame.

Indians Close Season With Eye On Playoffs

Northeast will finish its regular season with two games next week. The Indians play their last home game Monday night in the Civic Arena against North Texas State.

Following Monday's game, NLU will end the regular season with a tilt against Southwestern in Lafayette Thursday, Feb. 25. An earlier game with Delta State which was postponed because of the snow will not be rescheduled because neither school could arrange a date for a rematch.

North Texas State is the third major college opponent the Tribe has faced this season. The other two teams were Lamar Tech and Ole Miss. Northeast lost to Ole Miss in a 112-97 contest, but whipped Lamar Tech with an 87-76 score.

The North Texas State Eagles play in the Missouri Valley Conference, perhaps one of the finest leagues in the country. Coached by Harry Miller, the team went into a Thursday game with a record of 8-11.

One of the Missouri Conference's leading players is Al Shumate who averages 18.7 points and 10.1 rebounds per game. Other starters are guard Larry Tucker (6-3), Ben Sayles (6-6) at center, John Coleman (6-5) at forward and Jim Struck (6-1) at guard. Sayles is averaging 13.5 points a game, Tucker 7.4, Struck 5.8 and Coleman 5.5.

Northeast's latest victory came Monday night over Southwestern, who is the last scheduled opponent. The tribe defeated No. 2 ranked Southwestern in a close 100-98 contest. The loss was only the third in 20 games for USL.

Star players instrumental in the victory were Henry Steele, Bill Snellings and Roger Stockton. Steele scored 29 points, Stockton 26 and Snellings 21. Snellings matched his best career record with 23 rebounds.

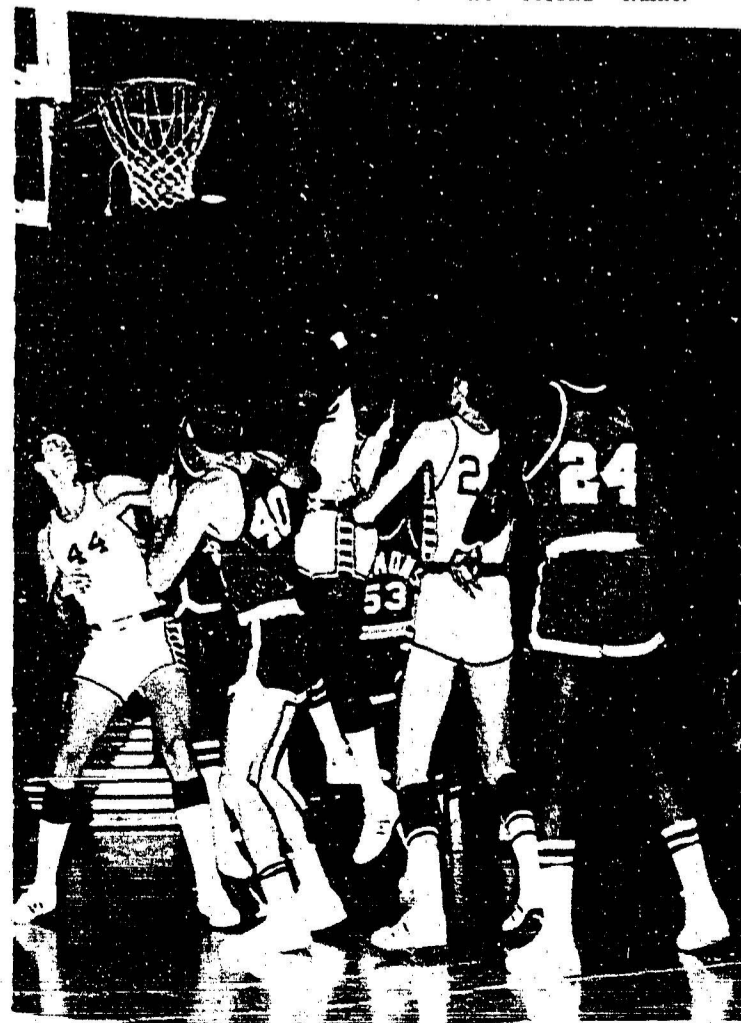

Steele's average per game has now increased to 21.1 points and 11.1 rebounds. Snellings now averages 16.8 and 13.5 rebounds. Steele leads the team in goal accuracy with .493.

Andrew Harris is averaging 15.8 points, Stockton 15.1 with 8.5 rebounds and Bob Carson 8.2.

Coach Lenny Fant in describing Stockton's action, said, "His rebounding was the most impressive thing to me because he was going against kids that outweighed him 60-70 pounds." Stockton's 26 points against USL Monday was his 1970-71 high but he also had good nights against Louisiana Tech (23), New Haven (25) and Lehigh (23 points and 12 rebounds). Stockton has a career record of 1,236.

Northeast is expected to see further action after its battle with USL. The Indians are expected to play in the NAIA District 30 playoff. NLU won the title last year and reached the second round of the national tournament in Kansas City.

In a crowd, Big Henry Steele, tips in two against Northwestern. Steele finished the game with 17 points as the Indians avenged an earlier defeat at the hands of the Demons. (NLU Staff Photo)

Tennis Team Prepares For Opener

With a March 5 opening date with Nicholls State fast approaching, this year's Northeast tennis squad is characterized by one word—depth. In the past, NLU's teams have been strong but many times would falter after the long season and finish low in the GSC tournament. This season, however, the story has changed and the team has more than the necessary number of strong players. Heading the list is Padg Bolton, who was recently voted the No. 1 singles player in the state by the Louisiana Tennis Association.

Phil Trahan, a freshman from Crowley will play the number two position while Chris Burns mans No. 3, Randy Cooper fills No. 4, Richard Stuart is No. 5, Bill Cooke, No. 6, Robert Taylor, No. 7, Steve Hutchins, No. 8, and Jimmy Wood, No. 9. This was the singles listing after competition last fall, but the lineup may change with the start of challenge matches this week.

In the GSC only five singles matches are played per match, leaving the Tribe with an additional five players. Robert Carson, the fifth man, will join the team following the completion of basketball season. Last year Carson was a member of the No. 1 doubles team.

Lane Rejoins Staff

Dixie White, NLU athletic director and head football coach, has announced that Ralph Lane, assistant coach at Northeast for six years before resigning in 1970, has rejoined the NLU football staff as offensive backfield coach. Lane, a former all-Gulf States Conference halfback at Louisiana College, replaces Lynn Amedee, who will join the Tulane staff. Amedee who replaced Lane on the Northeast staff last year, resigned in January. Lane was a member of White's original staff at Northeast in 1964. He served as defensive backfield coach for six years. After resigning last year, he took a position in the Monroe City School System and worked on his master's degree. He has served as director of student affairs at Carroll Ninth Grade Center.

Coach White said, "We're delighted to have Ralph back with us for several reasons. First, he is an excellent football coach and did a great job here for six years. Second, since he has been with us before, Ralph is thoroughly familiar with our system and most of our boys, so he will be able to step right in and go to work without any 'breaking in' period. We feel fortunate to get him back."

Lane, born in West Monroe, grew up in Alexandria and graduated from Bolton High School. He was an all-around athlete at Louisiana College in Pineville before graduating in 1953. After graduation, he joined the football staff at LaGrange High in Lake Charles. He served there 10 years and was then named athletic director and grid coach at Denham Springs. Lane coached Denham Springs to a 4-2-3 record in 1963 before coming to Northeast.

White said Lane would begin work immediately. Tentative date for beginning of spring practice has been set for mid-March.

The grid staff for the Tribe next year includes Wallace Hargon, defensive backfield coach, also a member of the original staff in 1964; Bill Dotson, offensive line coach who joined the staff in 1965; and linebacker coach Billy "Red" Hendrix, a staff member since 1969.

Profit Recognized With Special Day

The most honored football player in Northeast history, Joe Profit, was given tribute by the University Thursday with a day set aside in his behalf.

Norm Van Brocklin, coach of the Atlanta Falcons, the team that picked the all-American in the first round of the pro draft, was to be featured speaker at a banquet climaxing the day's activities.

Others on the agenda included local television sportscaster Harry Arthur; Student Government Association President Mike Wainwright; Northeast President George T. Walker; Mackie Freeze, who was Profit's coach at Richmond High School in Monroe; and Dixie White, Northeast head coach and athletic director.

Among other activities of "Joe Profit Day" was a press conference at 6 p.m.

Profit is the son of Mrs. Simon Profit and the late Mr. Profit of Monroe, and is married to the former Debora Robinson of West Monroe.

Roger Stockton (20) pulls the string for two points over the outstretched arm of Southeastern's Al Deamer (41). Northeast went on to win convincingly, 76-66. (NLU Staff Photo)

Miller Makes Academic All-America Grid Team

Former NLU football punter Tom Miller has become the second member of the Indian football team to be named to an All-America first team this week when he was selected to the College Division Academic All-America team.

The team, which is selected annually by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA), was announced by Ted Emery of the Gator Bowl, chairman of the selection committee. The other NLU team member chosen was Joe Profit named earlier to the Associated Press Little All-America team.

Miller is the first NLU player to make the Academic All-America. He averaged 40 yards a punt or better for the past three seasons and last fall was the punting champion of the Gulf States Conference with a 41.1-yard average. Miller's career average was 39.7 yards. He also holds two Gulf States Conference records—most punts (77) and most yards (3,116). In addition to these impressive records, he holds six NLU records.

Coach Dixie White said of Miller, "one of the finest young men it has ever been my pleasure to coach. Tom's selection to the Academic All-America team is a fitting climax to his athletic career and all of us at Northeast are proud of him."

In addition to playing football, Miller also participated in track and golf at Northeast. He was second in the 1968 GSC golf tournament as he led NLU to the conference title and twice placed in the top five in the GSC pole vault. During his collegiate career, he earned a total of 10 varsity sports letters. Four were in football and three each in golf and track. During class time, Miller made the honor roll with a "B" average or better each semester he was in school. He was the top honor graduate in the 1970-71 commencement exercises with a cumulative grade-point average of 3.84.

Matherne Signs Pact In Canadian Grid Loop

Northeast defensive back Wayne Matherne spurned offers from the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League to sign contract with the British Columbia Lions of the Canadian Football League.

Terms of the contract with the Lions, based in Vancouver and coached by Eagle Keys, were not disclosed.

Matherne became a starter as a freshman and played 39 consecutive games for Northeast as a safety. He made the all-Gulf States Conference first team as a junior and repeated in 1970. He led the league in interception return yardage in 1969.

The 6-foot, 185-pounder led the Indians as a junior in interceptions, punt returns and kickoff returns and as a senior in punt returns with 16 for 219 yards and a 13.7 average. He finished second on the club in kickoff returns with four for 79 yards and intercepted one pass for seven yards. Matherne finished fourth in tackles with 42 individual stops and 27 assists, recovered one fumble and broke up 10 passes.

Matherne had 16 kickoff returns in 1969 for an NLU season record, and returned them for a record 353 yards. He threw the longest pass in Northeast history—an 81-yarder to Don Zimmerman for a score in the victory over Louisiana Tech last fall.

Sherrouse N B-team vs. West Swampers at 9 p.m., and the main event, PEMM vs. DSP, is also listed for 9 p.m.

Fraternity league records show KE, TX, and Acacia sporting 1-0 won-loss records.

In the Organization league, Soul Society and PEMM club are each waving a 2-0 won-loss record.

New Egg Queen Is Promoting Her Namesake

Pat Ford reiging Louisiana Egg Queen, is concerned with promoting eggs throughout the state.

She was nominated by the Home Economics Department at Northeast and competed with other girls in the November contest. Miss Ford was chosen as Egg Queen by the Louisiana Egg Council, in conjunction with the Louisiana Department of Agriculture. The decision was based on an interview, personality, grades and activities.

As a freshman home economics major, the egg queen has maintained a 4.0 average, is a member of the Warbonnets, and the Ten Little Indians and is president of the Kappa Delta pledge class.

The highlight of Miss Ford's reign as Louisiana Egg Queen will be a two-week tour in August, to include visits to many Louisiana cities. She will meet officials, make speeches and promote eggs as a part of Louisiana Egg Month.

Currently Miss Claiborne Parish, the coed graduated from Homer High School in May and participated in Louisiana Tech Rome last summer.

Miss Ford believes being chosen Louisiana Egg Queen "is a great way to represent Northeast and Louisiana."

TWX

Sandel Now Has 'Computer Pals' In Every State

Sandel Library has nationwide connections. With the new teletypewriter, TWX, (nicknamed Twix) Sandel can contact many libraries throughout the U.S. and Canada. According to Miss Diane Green, assistant librarian, Sandel has sent 1,086 requests over the rapid communications system since the beginning of this fiscal year.

TWX, funded by the state library and a government grant, can only be used to send faculty and graduate students requests in most cases, but the library takes any call that isn't collect.

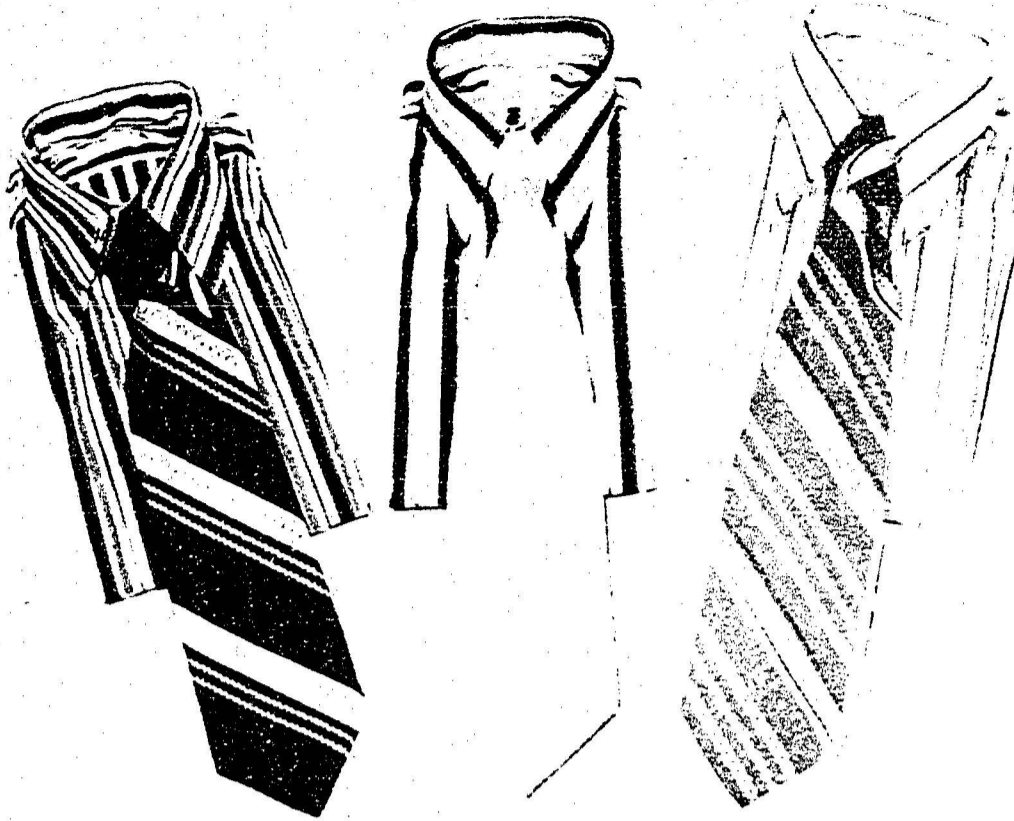

Since libraries answer messages within 24 hours, Sandel can locate a book or magazine more quickly. The pharmacy school has made requests to the medical schools and recieved them the next day.

Most calls are made within the state, but Miss Green said, "a call has been placed to Montreal, Canada."

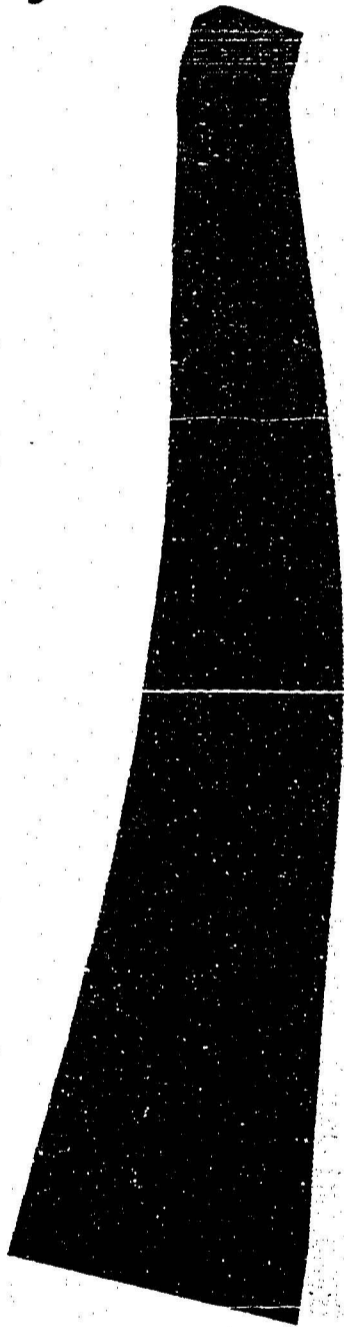

Mrs. Maud Bent up, head librarian, estimates that the total TWX cost, including a base rental fee and request charges, is between $115 and $135 a month.
