Jack Dean Accepts New BSU Position

Jack Dean, director of the Northeast Baptist Student Union for the past two years, has accepted the directorship of the New Orleans Baptist Student work which includes eight colleges and universities.

Schools included in the BSU position are Tulane, Tulane Medical School, Newcomb College, Loyola, Charity Hospital School of Nursing, Touro Infirmary, and the LSU Medical School. This work will also be coordinated with the Southern Hospital School of Nursing.

Dean leaves the BSU here, where he has been director of Baptist student work for the past two years, on June 1. He came to Northeast as the first BSU Director on the campus, though the student work had been operating for several years.

In New Orleans, the student union building is located off the Tulane campus at 7107 Freret Street.

Dean's successor has not yet been named.

Dr. Williams, Of LSU, To Speak In NLSC Auditorium March 22

Dr. T. Harry Williams of the Louisiana State University history faculty will be presented in two lectures at Northeast on Thursday, March 22 in Brown Auditorium.

Third period, Northeast students will have the opportunity to hear a dynamic and humorous lecture: "Fraternalizing and Chivalry in the Civil War." At 8 p. m. Dr. Williams will deliver a lecture entitled: "Abraham Lincoln and the American Heritage." In all of his lectures, Dr. Williams brings forth a wealth of study and ready wit.

An authority on the Civil War, Dr. Williams has gained national recognition for his writing, editing, and teaching. His recently published work, "P. G. T. Beauregard: Napoleon in Gray," has received excellent reviews and was called a "Pulitzer prize caliber biography" by the New York Times. Dr. Williams' "Lincoln and His Generals" was a Book-of-the-Month Club selection several years ago.

Lately he was selected by the editors of the "Cambridge Modern History" to contribute a chapter on the American Civil War to a new series of their publications, an honor rarely accorded American scholars.

Dr. Williams is the author of "Lincoln and the Radicals," and editor of "Selected Writings and Speeches of Abraham Lincoln." He has contributed to a number of publications, among them the

Commerce Club Plans Trip To Dallas; Learns About Buying Stock

Commerce Club members took part in a twin-feature program at last Friday's meeting.

George Miller, account executive of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane's local office; discussed investments channeled through the stock market, and a decision was reached for the club to visit Dallas as this year's field trip.

Miller, who has been associated with the brokerage firm here for 23 years, told the group that money, wisdom, and imagination are essential factors in making investments.

The best procedure to follow is to buy stocks at a low price and sell when they are high, the speaker said. Three classes of people are interested in stocks: those who do not like to take any chance; others who are willing to accept a big risk; some who take only a medium risk.

13 Students Are New AAA Affiliates

Thirteen Northeast State accounting students have become Associate members of the American Accounting Association.

In order to become a candidate for membership in this organization a student must be recommended by a teacher who is affiliated with the association. Northeast students were recommended by Mr. John Luffey and Mr. Walter Frank, Jr.

The aims of the organization are to promote research and study of accounting principles and to improve methods of instruction in schools.

New members of the association are:

James B. Terral, Jack Allen, Robert F. Cargile, Mary Louise Danna, Max Gray, O. C. Hancock, Marilyn Lane, A. B. Love, Dale C. Meachum, Ben W. Schanforber, Robert R. Townley, Donald R. Thames, Charles L. Williams.

Show On Brown Hall Stage Begins With Musical Fanfare At 7:30 P. M.

Twelve Beauties Vie For Honors Amid Lovely, Gilded Splendor Winner of Ravishing Extravaganza In Line For 'Miss America' Contest

Tonight is the climax—Tonight twelve choice, campus beauties will enter the homestretch and fight it out down to the wire—Tonight "Miss Northeast" will be crowned!

At 7:30 p. m. in Brown auditorium the Beauty Pageant will begin with a musical fanfare with the Redmen, Elvis "Chug" Stout, Connie Simmons, and Fred Marshall participating. The girls will appear in formal attire and in bathing suits. Each girl will also give some hint as to other talents.

These twelve curvacious coeds, representing various campus organizations, will vie for the honors: Gamma Zeta, Linda Gaar; Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, Frances Adams; Sigma Alpha Chi, Annette Hartley; Alpha Theta Chi, Dot Hudson; Journalism, Doris Kitchens; Fine Arts, Betty Bandy; Home Ec., Marie Williamson; Liberal Arts, Tommy Sue Proctor; Teacher Education, Barbara West; Pure and Applied Sciences, Mary Powell; Military, Mary Jane Dresler; and Commerce, Melba Hill.

Bobby Joe Oden, director of the show was caught in a rare breathing spell. "The Pageant tonight will mark the end of seven strenuous months of preparation. We have had to work hard to present a program that will match other campus presentations during the year. I sincerely think that my staff have outlined a production that will satisfy the attending public. I also hope that the student body at Northeast will make the Pageant a success by their attendance. Again I want to thank each and every member on campus that has taken part in making this one of the most publicized affairs ever to be presented," commented the director.

Former governor of Louisiana James A. Noe will present the crown to the winner who will be selected by these seven judges:

Diehlmann Bernhardt, president of Junior Chamber of Commerce; Irving Leibowitz, Mrs. C. V. Sanders, Mr. David C. Silverstein, Mrs. Yvonne Brett Herron, Miss Jan Johnston (Miss La. of '55), Mrs. Gail Gleason Oliver (Miss La. of '54).

During the past week the entries have appeared before the public over KNOE-TV promoting tonight's show. This afternoon Mrs. Lewis C. Slater will give a "Silver Anniversary" tea from 3-5 p. m. in her home for the twelve girls, the Student Council, faculty and invited guests. Admission price for the pageant is one dollar for adults, fifty cents for students.

New Child Study Group Formed On NLSC Campus

The organizational meeting for a chapter of Childhood International was held Monday in the lounge of the Infirmary, and the charter officers elected were Connie Pickering, president; Marilyn Magnon and Pat Patterson, vice-presidents; Joyce Killen, secretary-treasurer.

Northeast State was invited to organize a chapter of the Association.

The following outstanding Northeast State elementary education majors were invited to become charter members at the organizational meeting: Pat Emanuel, Joyce Killen, Wilma Ann Adcock, Lynda Ann Gaar, Dorothy Hudson, Louise McLawchlin, Patricia Patterson, Connie Pickering, Emma Jo Watts, Mary Alice Kilpatrick, and Jo Ann Miller, Juniors; Barbara Bradley, Ann Douciere, Emma Jean Hall, Barbara Hale, Marilyn Magnon, Betty Reppond, Robbie Lee Littleton and Flora Lee Wildins, Sophomores. Freshman charter members were Marie Caldwell, Gloria For, Johnnie Herrington, Pauline Townsend, Shirley Tackett, Peggy Sue Brown, Elaine Hesketh, Lillian Garrett, and Imogene Bryan.

Mrs. Ruby Crawford, Dr. Gladys Jones, Dean William Smith, and Mrs. Evelyn Otts will serve as faculty sponsors for the group.

Informal Tea

An informal tea will be held in the campus home of President and Mrs. Lewis C. Slater from 3:30-5 p. m. today, honoring the "Miss Northeast" pageant contestants, their parents and relatives, judges, Northeast faculty, Student Council, sponsors of the pageant, and numerous friends of the college.

A Woman Is, A Woman Can

A woman is a creature in the family of man, whether we like it or not.

A woman is a lovely work of art, although we might at times rashly spank her.

A woman can make of a "speciman" a man, then cause him to ruefully wish he were a mouse.

A woman can be a man's dream, and awaken him to the awful truth of reality.

A woman strives to create a world in love, and in the process drives a man mad.

A woman bolsters the ego of man, and suddenly she is his all.

But then a woman, God bless her, is the one thing of beauty for which a man fights, lies, prays, cheats, waits, marries, lives, works, goes overboard, and finally dies.

We are certain that "Miss Northeast State of 1956"—to be chosen tonight—will be of such cultured beauty as to warrant, cherish and possess her rightful happiness and love to be provided in this, the world of mankind.

Signs Of Northeast Times

Signs of Northeast growth and public recognition of that growth are increasingly evident. The fraternity going "national", the sorority going "national", the many conferences and clinics held on our campus are just a few of the signs. And now we hear that Northeast will be host to the College Writer's Society conference next year.

These signs are like the streams and the winds and rains that erode and break down and carve, and eventually there is a giant monument of stone, firm and towering and strong.

This is what these signs of growth do to Northeast. They wear down the veil of adolescence, working to form a mountain, the NLSC of the future.

Does America Face A Future Of Individual Helplessness?

On the horizon of America's future there appears an ugly spectre of growing helplessness and inability of the individual to think for himself.

Unless this malignant dependency is extracted from our people, America faces a future of social paternalism, led by a few warped intellects whose objectives may be questionable and not to the best interest of the nation. God forbid that.

This weakness in America today may be traced to a number of causes.

To begin with, human nature seems to guide the individual toward the course of least resistance. A normal child, during infancy, cares for little more than food, attention and pacification. As he grows older, and into physical adulthood, he tends to become more independent and self-sustaining.

But a person who is coddled and pacified from birth until he is grown is not likely to ever be self sufficient and able to think objectively for himself.

To overcome the natural instinct to look for an "easy way" an individual must be gradually denied paternalism as he grows into maturity and taught a philosophy of independence and objective thinking. Therefore, it must be the duty of parents and educators to produce a nation of mature thinkers instead of a society of satisfied followers.

In America today there are too many people who are ready to let someone else do their thinking. America needs—she has had many in the past—more independent thinkers to assure a continued progress, scientifically and socially.

Cries From The Business Department

By: The Business Bug

Most second semester Freshmen will agree that this semester is by far harder than last semester in the Business Department. After talking to several Business students, who think the world is down on them, I got the conclusion that certain teachers are pouring on the work.

It seems that the Short Hand classes are in a maze this semester. After losing their cheerful teacher of last semester, Mrs. Ackins, they feel they have lost the knack for writing short hand also. One student was really down in the dumps, because her present teacher dictated twelve letters for her class to transcribe. It seemed she could only read about four of them, and she knew that she would make a very low grade.

There hasn't been much talk from the typing classes. Dr. Stapleton, Mr. Watkins, and Mr. Morton are doing a wonderful job and I have heard no complaints from this section.

Accounting II appears to be much more difficult than Algebra I and Trig. The classes got off to a bad start because the workbooks didn't come to the book store on schedule. The workbooks are here now, however, and this hasn't helped the screaming freshmen.

The Business Administration classes of Section 50, had quite a bit of trouble at the first of this semester. There were three additions of their text book, and students in each class had a variety of all three.

Mr. Smith and Dr. Stapleton, teachers of this course, straightened this matter up by having the students trade books, until all students of one class had the same edition of the book. Now that this matter is settled these classes are digging in and should progress nicely.

Even the English classes are complaining about work being so hard. Although second semester English is not thought of as a difficult course, some freshmen are falling behind considerably. One student said that his English teacher told the class that they should put in two hours for every one hour they spent in class. The freshman says his professor is helping his class keep this amendment by giving lengthy assignments.

FTA To Meet

The F. T. A. will meet in room 210 in the Science building third period Monday, March 19th to elect officers for the 1956-57 school year. Other business to be taken up will be making plans for the spring banquet and discussion of the proposed trip to the state convention of the F. T. A. at Louisiana State University, May 3rd, 4th, and 5th.

College Writers To Meet At NLSC

The next annual meeting of the College Writer's Society of Louisiana will be held on the Northeast campus about the latter part of February, 1957, it has been announced.

The Writer's Club of Northeast will spend one day entertaining delegates from various colleges throughout the state presenting an elaborate morning, afternoon and evening program.

It is hoped that an outstanding speaker in the writing field can be obtained for the afternoon session.

At the last conclave which was held February 25 at Southwestern, Dr. Willa Claire Cox, associate professor of English at Northeast was elected president and Dr. L. M. McKneely, assistant professor of English, was elected secretary-treasurer.

W. L. Perkins Speaks At Business Clinic

Mr. Wilbur Lee Perkins, head of the Department of Business Administration, was one of a panel who spoke to the Small Business Clinic which was held at the Hotel Frances in Monroe on March 9 and 10.

This Clinic represented small businesses, developed by individuals who turned hobbies into money-making enterprises.

Problems with which Mr. Perkins dealt in his remarks included the following: amount of capital required, location, employment problems relating to social security and wages.

Dr. Christmas Joins Faculty

Dr. William Christmas has joined the staff of the Education department as an assistant professor, Dean Smith announced last Friday.

He has been a teacher and principal of public schools in Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

He received his B. A. and M. A. from the University of Alabama and his Doctor's degree from Columbia University.

His most recent position was specialist in education for the United States government at Fort Rucker, Alabama.

Dr. Christmas and family will make their home on McGuire Avenue.

Two BSU Students Hold State Offices

Marilyn Magnon and Pat Patterson, of Northeast, have been elected to positions on the State BSU Council, a group composed of outstanding Baptist students from all over the state.

Miss Magnon, who is Devotional Vice-President of the Northeast BSU, was elected as Promotional Director.

Miss Patterson, Social Vice-President of the Northeast BSU, was elected to the same position on the state council.

This marks the first time that Northeast has ever had two representatives on this group. Thomas Lolley served as Host on the state council this past year.

France Offers Study Abroad

The French government with the cooperation of France-Amerique de la Louisiane, Inc. of New Orleans offers to a Louisianian a Fellowship for advanced students in France for the next academic year which is November, 1956 to June, 1957.

This fellowship is open to Louisiana students majoring in all fields.

ATC Pledges Choose Officers

At the regular weekly meeting of the Alpha Theta Chi Fraternity, which recently became affiliated with Tau Kappa Epsilon, one of the top ranking national social fraternities, the pledges chose the officers to pilot the pledge class for the spring semester.

Under the supervision of pledge master C. B. Roberts, the Alpha Theta Chi ledges chose: president, Benny Franklin of Monroe; vice-president, Loyd Crocker of Calhoun; secretary, J. D. Cascio of Monroe; treasurer, Cleburne Fails of Mangum, Okla.; sentinel, Ray Gardner of Tallulah; program chairman, Guy DuPriest of Monroe.

The pledge class is composed of the following men: Bennie Franklin, Jack Crocker, Lloyd Crocker, Johnny Hammonds, Howard Stapp, Billy Jordan, Louis Koch, Fred McDowell, Bennie Cowan, Cleburne Fails, Ray Gardner, Gardner, Bobby LaCaze, J. D. Cascio, Guy DuPriest, Vincent Genusa, Glynn Swett, Wiley Joe Gates, Norman McRee and Doug Comeaux.

The pledges have a dance planned for members of the fraternity, to be held at Chemin-a-haut. This dance will be the first function planned and conducted by the Alpha Theta Chi pledges, but many more suggested activities have been mentioned and the semester is expected to be a lively one.

Ag Dept. Active In Conferences Over Louisiana

Five members of the faculty of the Agriculture and Home Economics Department have been busy in attendance to off-campus meetings recently, serving in various capacities.

L. L. Price, head of the department, spent two days, March 1 and 2, in Lake Charles with representatives from the other agricultural departments of the state colleges, the State Department of Education and the Soil Conservation Service, developing plans for teaching land evaluation. While in Lake Charles, Mr. Price attended the agricultural section of the Louisiana College Conference and was elected Vice-Chairman of that section for the ensuing year.

Frances Kelso, assistant professor of Home Economics, served as Secretary of the Home Economics section of the Louisiana College Conference last year, and attended the conference this year in that capacity. She visited the Natural Gas Building in Shreveport with 15 of the Home Economics majors on Tuesday, March 6, as guests of the gas companies.

Dr. J. G. Hammons, associate professor of agronomy, was among the group from Northeast Louisiana State College that participated in the Career Day at the Tallulah High School on Saturday, March 3. He spoke to three different groups.

C. W. Blackkmon, instructor in Horticulture, spoke to the Sterlington Lions Club on Tuesday evening, February 28. His subject was "Landscaping Your Home Grounds". Mr. Price served on a committee of judges to select the Ouachita Parish 4-H Clubs Queen to be represented at the Chick-

Tomorrow Show to be held in the near future in Alexandria.

Robbie Lee Coxe, instructor in Home Economics, and sponsor of the Home Economics Club, attended the Louisiana Home Economics Association meeting in New Orleans on Saturday, March 10, accompanied by five Home Economics majors.

Wails and Wahoo

By Fred McDowell

The Pow Wow is delighted to welcome a new member of the staff. Roger Robinson will be the new sports writer covering the baseball side of the news.

A well known figure on the campus, Roger is working with coach George Luffey on the baseball team. The work he will do on the Pow Wow is of course completely voluntary and is done because he is interested in such work.

Anyone who takes an interest in school affairs, who likes newspaper work (it's more fun than work), who likes to know what is going on around school, and who wants an extra-curricular activity that is fascinating, is urged to drop in at the Pow Wow office and get acquainted with a bustling group of students.

Members of the staff are very happy when a student expresses interest in the workings of a newspaper, and they are happy when he expresses a desire to work on the Northeast paper.

Let's face it. Besides being fun it has a definite value to you in later life. There is nothing so important today as being able to express yourself clearly in print. If you want to learn how, drop in and learn along with us. We'll be glad you did.

Notice

First home baseball game scheduled for last Tuesday was rained out and has been re-scheduled for Tuesday, March 20 on the Northeast diamond.

Tribe Travels South To Loyola

The Northeast baseball team, to play Loyola University, took to the road yesterday afternoon as they started enroute to New Orleans. The team traveled by way of Hammond, where they spent Thursday night on the Southeastern campus.

The Tribe will spend two days in New Orleans where they engage Loyola on Friday and Saturday.

Coach George Luffey stated that he hoped to make a good showing there with his steadily improving ball club.

The starting line-up was announced as follows: Ike McMullin, catcher; Frank Scalia, first base; Dennis Fields, second base; Harold Davis or Harry Rushing, third base; Bill Bradley, shortstop; Bobby Roberson or James Mock, left field; and Jackie Neal, right field.

The starting pitcher for the game Friday will be Tommy Leos, a product of Neville High School.

For the game Saturday, Bo Laird will be the choice of the coach to start the game.

NS Participates In High School 'Career Days'

A large group of department heads and other faculty members as well as students of Northeast have been active in the promotion of "Career Day" with speakers addressing students at Ouachita Parish High School, West Monroe High School and Tallulah High.

Mrs. Evelyn Otts, director of teacher training at Northeast, represented the college at "Career Day" at Columbia High School in Caldwell Parish.

Dean Smith addressed the P. T. A. of Start High School in Richland Parish and the Business and Professional Girls Club in Monroe. Monday he spoke before the First Christian Church Fellowship. On Tuesday, Dean Smith, Carole Eady and Sonny Fisher presented a program at the Kiwanis Club in Columbia. Dean Smith spoke on different phases of education. Carole and Sonny entertained the group with several musical selections.

Dr. Henry W. Sageser, Guidance Counselor spoke before the South Side P. T. A. in Bastrop, Tuesday.

Meet The Team

DONALD STEWART

Donald Stewart has been chosen to lead off the new Meet the Team series on the baseball team. This is Don's second year of playing for Coach George Luffey and his last year.

Last season Don scored as many or more runs than any other man on the team. He is rated as a good base runner—fast, smart, and alert. He usually manages to get on base somehow and once there he can drive a pitcher crazy with his antics and will steal him blind if given half a chance. Don batted .286 for last season while playing shortstop and outfield.

Stewart is known for his baseball sense, and his aggressive, alert playing. If it were not for the current trend of signing major league ball players for their beef, Don Stewart would have long been signed to a contract. Coach George Luffey has talked with many scouts who have been heartbroken because Don is so small. He has everything a major league player needs, except the weight.

Pow Wow Staff Meet

A Pow Wow staff meeting will be held third period today in the entrance of the Infirmary building.

All staff members and organization and department reporters are urged to be present at the meeting, at which there will be discussions of newspaper policies and news-gathering.
