McGEE IS MADE POW WOW CHIEF

DeBlieux To Become Business Manager As Martin Gives Way To New Editor

After generously spending much time and effort in initiating the new Pow Wow staff, Mr. Paul Martin, former sports editor of the paper and now reporter on the Daily News-Star and World, is handing over the office of editor to Mr. Walter McGee, newly appointed for the year 1933-34.

Mr. Martin served as sports editor for two years, beginning his service with the first issue of the paper, and continuing up to the time of his graduation in 1933. In September, 1933, no experienced material being available, Mr. Martin headed the Pow Wow staff temporarily in order to give some member of the present student body a chance to train for the work.

Mr. Walter McGee, business manager, was finally appointed and will assume his duties for the next issue. J. D. DeBlieux, advertising manager, will become business manager.

Mr. McGee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McGee of this city. He attended the Ouachita Parish High School for three years and was a member of various important clubs. His parents then moved to Alexandria, and he graduated from Bolton High School of that city.

He is vice president of the graduating class of Ouachita Parish Junior College and president of the Y. M. C. A. He is a faithful worker and very popular with both faculty and student body. Mr. McGee has been connected with newspapers since he was thirteen years old and hopes to train for newspaper work in L. S. U. after his graduation here. Members of the Pow Wow staff feel very fortunate to secure him as their chief.

MEETING IS HELD BY HONOR SOCIETY

The Honor Scholastic Society of Ouachita Parish Junior College met last Friday, and after a brief talk of welcome to the new members by Louise Gray, a program was given. This consisted of a talk by Dorothy Flanagan on "Why Go National?" and a talk by Clara Gallman on "The Purpose of the Honor Society." Edward Reeves was elected secretary of the society and Joseph Amman, reporter. Following this was a discussion of an entertainment to be held in the near future.

NEW MAGAZINES IN LIBRARY

Among the new magazines recently subscribed for by the college library are the following: Engineering News-Record, English Journal, Music News, School Science and Mathematics, Scientific Monthly, Survey Graphic, Theatre Arts Monthly, News Week, Review of Reviews, and World's Work.

Mr. and Mrs. Penick, Miss Veal, Miss Wolfe, and Mr. Hammond ate Thanksgiving dinner together.

We regret to hear of Miss Alyce Watson's illness at her home in Calhoun. She has been missed by her many classmates.

JUNIOR-SENIOR DANCE ENJOYED

Dee Keltner and his "Black Shirts" afforded unusual entertainment at the senior-junior dance Friday night with their own interpretation of "Tiger Rag." The piece was begun very abruptly and dramatically by an argument between the director and one of the musicians, terminating in the firing of two or three blank cartridges at the musician. With this, the orchestra swept into "Tiger Rag," playing it loudly and brilliantly. In variation, parts of one of Sousa's famous marches were cleverly inserted. The dancers thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

Among the chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Kemerer, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Penick, Mrs. Hair, Mrs. Montgomery, Miss Null, Miss Marshall, and Miss Vel.

The following "dates" were present, Rachel Haynes and Durwood Griffin, Frances Browning and Dan Moore, Nellie Breard and John Frantom, Virginia Scheen and "Doc" Devereaux, Clara Terzia and John Reynolds, "Chunky" Gray and Roy Hale, Georgine Cole and Johnny Holmes, Dorothy Calvert and Turner Reynolds, Mildred Breard and A. L. Peters, Eloise Goynne and Keith Moore.

Sarah Gulley and Fred Beckett, Eileen Hemler and Tom Smith, Blanche Thomas and Lem McGuffy, Dot Kizer and Herbert Cooper, Beverly Russell and T. J. Hunt, Carolyn Myers and Kent Beard, Priscilla Hodge and Harold Fink, Ella Rose Crawford and Tommy Sullivan, "Jinks" Zeigler and Walter McGee, Kathleen Crow and Denson Ellerbe, Wiline Boxley and Nelson Bland, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Anders, Jr., Pollyanna Shotwell and Leo Montgomery.

Miss Null went to her home in Chattanooga for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Many junior college students were at the Phi Kappa tea dance after the Parish-Bolton game.

A. L. Peters attended the L.S.U.-Tulane game in New Orleans the past week-end.

Clara Virginia Terzia spent Thanksgiving holidays in New Orleans.

FACULTY MEMBERS ENJOY TRIP WITH LOCAL COLLEGE STUDENTS

By Miss Lillian Baker

Last week-end, Misses Wolfe, Veal, and Baker, and Messrs. Jack Selig and Leo Montgomery motored to the historic city of New Orleans. They were delighted with this picturesque nouvelle Orleans, founded in 1718 by Monsieur Bienville, a French governor of Louisiana.

Much time was spent in the French quarters of the city, at the old French market, where delicious French doughnuts and French coffee are served and where every kind of vegetable may be brought, and at the Spanish Cabildo, a town hall, where meetings were once held and where one of the Lafitte brothers, Jean, a pirate, was held prisoner. At this Cabildo, the province of Louisiana was transferred from Spain to France, and later from France to the United States.

In the city proper, which is several

PRES. COLVERT ATTENDS MEET

Mr. and Mrs. Colvert returned Sunday from a trip to Nashville, Tenn., where Mr. Colvert attended a meeting of instructors from many colleges and secondary schools. The convention was in session from Monday to Friday.

Mr. Colvert said, "We were privileged to hear many fine speakers. There was a general note of optimism throughout the meeting."

There were representatives from several Louisiana schools, namely, L. S. U., State Normal, Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, and Southwestern.

After a Kiwanis luncheon Friday noon, Mr. and Mrs. Colvert motored to Muscle Shoals in Alabama. In coming through Alabama they visited the University of Alabama, and continuing, arrived home Sunday.

HAMMOND SAYS NEW ERA LOOMS

Many Students Take Part In First College Broadcast Program At Local Station

Saturday was junior college's first radio day. The program, which was a varied one, was carefully and successfully carried out. Mr. W. R. Hammond of the Social Science department, gave an enlightening and inspiring discussion of the economic situation and resulting problems of today. In conclusion, Mr. Hammond stated that out of the present chaos will be born a new era, an era in which there will be scientific progress and social justice.

The rest of the program was as follows:

Devotional, Charles Freeman; debate, "Resolved, That the Education Received in a Junior College is more Advantageous to a Student than the Education Received the first Two Years in a Senior College or University." The affirmative was delivered by J. D. DeBlieux and Martin Webb. The negative by J. P. Crowley and Earl Garland.

Harmonica selections, John Frantom; piano selections, Dorothy Calvert; vocal selections, Beatrice Forrest, John Frantom and Helen Freeman.

"The Origin of Y. W. C. A.," Beatrice Forrest; "The Origin of Y. M. C. A.," Walter McGee.

Organ selections, Paramount theatre; Farm and Home program, Jimmy Malone; orchestra, Eddie Jacobs; orchestra, Jewel Medaides; orchestra, Milton Coverdale; vocal selections, Eddie Vorhoff; vocal program, Nelson Bland, June and Jerry Hodge, and Natalie Hudnal.

Play, "Strains from India," dramatic club; vocal selection, Nellie Breard; orchestra, Milton Coverdale; selections, Junior College glee club.

SCAVENGER HUNT GIVEN BY D. B. S.

The first scavenger hunt to be known in Monroe was put on by the Delta Beta Sigs Wednesday evening. The objects hunted for were the following: a horse collar, a pool ball, an Indian, head penny, nightshirt, American flag, live flea, Sunday's Morning World, baby diaper, lady's high-top shoe, rabbit's foot, advertisement of a coming movie, mazda light globe, feather duster, and a golf tee.

The following college students took part in the hunt: Jane Dawkins, Beverly Russell, Carolyn Myers, Marshall Russell, Henry Florsheim, Mabel Hunt, Jason Berry, Bernard Price, "Chunky" Gray, Roy Hale, Tommy Sullivan, Ella Rose Crawford, and Leo Montgomery.

Miss Sadye Lou Peters had as her house guest last week-end, Miss Heloise Metoyer and Mr. Francis DeGarimore, of Alexandria.

Miss Katherine Adams spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents in Strong, Arkansas.

ATTEND CLASS MEETINGS.

Turkey Day festivities are over and ten weeks of our work have passed, but there are yet a great many responsibilities and duties that both Junior and Senior classes have to meet.

The only way we can keep in touch with each other and accomplish anything at all is to attend our class meetings. Our sponsors can do nothing unless we help them, and our classes will fail to carry out their plans unless all of us do what we should by cooperating with each other in new undertakings.

The Senior class especially has several matters confronting it, and these matters had to go uncared-for at the last meeting because of the lack of attendance. Some of the students do not even know what is being discussed.

Let's be more loyal and assume our responsibility by being one hundred percent at the next meeting. It is your meeting.

Parties . . .

Miss Jesse Grey Worthington, student at L. S. U., who spent week before last in the city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Worthington, entertained with a charming little luncheon at her home on Bres avenue, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in honor of three Baton Rouge guests.

The beautiful luncheon table was centered with delicate pink roses and bathed in soft candle light from tall tapers in silver candlesticks. A luscious three course luncheon was served to guests of honor, Miss Joyce Love Allen, daughter of Governor O. K. Allen, Miss Dorothy Zeigler, Miss Helen Brock and Miss Joel Nichols, Miss Sara Florence Coon, Miss Louise Gray, Miss Sadie Ruth Buckner, Misses Neva and Bernice Worthington and the hostess. Mrs. Worthington was assisted in the courtesies by her mother and Mrs. A. R. Holloway.

Last Friday night, Miss Nellie Breard entertained a few couples with a weiner roast at Bernstein Park. Those enjoying this delightful outing were, Mr. and Mrs. Armand Breard (chaperones), Nellie Breard and John Frantom, Joy Griffing and Sam Ebert, Sara Florence Coon and Rogers Warner, Mary Jeanette Ziegler and Earl Malette, Jinks Zeigler and Nelson Bland.

Coffee Hour . . .

A charming coffee hour brought together a group of intimates in the home of Miss Joel Nichols. Wearing a smart sport model of black and red, she fitted perfectly into the picture. Golden chrysanthemums of unusual beauty formed the floral note in the reception suite and inspired the color theme for the beautifully appointed

COLVERT'S CORNER

It is Christmas time!

The spirit of the season is good will toward all. It may be that you have ill-feeling toward someone. It would, I believe, be worth something to you personally to get rid of this feeling by a personal visit or a proper deed of some sort.

The spirit of the season also implies giving. Gifts may be of the usual type but had you thought of expressing some appreciation to some person whom you had neglected to express appreciation at the time you should have?

I wish each and every one of you a very happy and a most merry Christmas.

coffee table in the candle-lit dining room. The color scheme of purple and gold was carried out to a large extent. Mrs. Nichols, seated at one end of the table, poured coffee from a handsome silver service, assisted by Mrs. Sperry, and Mrs. Joe Renrick. Refreshments of unusual delectability were selected by the hostess for her morning coffee. The guests called between the hours of 10:30 and 12:30 to pay their respects to Miss Nichols and guests.

Personals . . .

Miss Mariam Bell, Miss Louise Pitts, and Mr. Julius Aerial, of Alexandria, were the guests of Miss Sara Florence Coon for the Thanksgiving vacation.

Miss Joyce Renwick spent last week-end in Baton Rouge as the guest of her cousin, Miss Joel Nichols. She had the pleasure of attending the L.S.U.-Tennessee classic.

Claudia Scharf has been absent from school several days because of illness.

Burdette Trichel spent Thanksgiving in Harrisonburg. He says, "No chicken . . . all turkey!"

SENIORS TRIM JUNIORS 12-4

Led by the outstanding play of Warner, the Seniors defeated the Juniors 12 to 4, in a well played game before a group of students at activity period on December 5th.

Warner accounted for 7 of the Seniors' points, while Florsheim, who played both a good defensive and offensive game, accounted for 4 of the 12 points. Medaries made a foul shot. Lowery and Kyle chalked up one goal each for the Juniors. Trichel, although he did not account for any of the Juniors' 4 points, played an outstanding passing game.

Both teams fought hard from start to finish, and showed excellent cooperation in both passing and shooting.

The lineup:

Seniors	Pos.	Juniors
Florsheim (4)	forward	Embry
Medaries (1)	forward	(2) Lowery
Ellerbe	forward	Caldwell
Hart	center	Underwood
E. Warner (7)	guard	(2) Kyle
A. Warner	guard	Hightower
Lieber	guard	Garland

Miss Sara Elizabeth Moffett spent the Thanksgiving holidays in New Orleans as the guest of relatives. She attended the L.S.U.-Tulane game.

ATHLETE'S FOOT

By OLMSTEAD

Ouachita has entered two strong teams in the city league, one from the junior class and one from the senior class. The seniors opened their schedule last night when they met the fast Pan-Am five.

The league is composed of ten teams, Adler's, Y's Men, Missouri Pacific, Ouachita Business Men, L. T. I., Ouachita Junior College Seniors, and Ouachita Junior College Juniors, Brown Paper Mill Junior, Pan-Am, and Tampa Seals.

Six games will be played each week, two being played on Monday, two on Tuesday, and two on Thursday of each week. This schedule started Monday.

The schedule for next week will be: December 18, at college gymnasium, Ouachita Juniors vs. Y's Men; Ouachita Business Men vs. Missouri Pacific.

Dec. 19, at college gymnasium, Ouachita Juniors vs. Tampa Seals; L. T. I. vs. Missouri Pacific.

Dec. 21, at Brown gymnasium, Tampa Seals vs. Brown Paper Mill Juniors; Pan-Am vs. Missouri Pacific.

After the games on Dec. 20 there will not be any games until after the Christmas holidays. The schedule opens again on January second. Come out and see them sometime, any old times—only 10 cents. . . . The Juniors seems to have the best of it when it comes to football. They won this year for the second time straight. "Waterboy" Underwood, after taking a punt on his side of the field, sprinted for a lone touchdown. How does it feel to be a hero, Underwood? The by side. To be sure, there were up-to-date dry goods stores and stores of every kind in the business section on Canal street, Maison Blanche, D. H. Holmes, and the rest were decorated for Christmas and displayed beautiful afternoon and evening dresses in their windows. Our instructors found window-shopping very interesting.

For motion picture shows, there were theatres like the Saenger's, which is exquisite in its beauty.

They saw "The Private Life of Henry VIII," and "Little Women," two of the outstanding pictures of the year.

It was interesting to see salt water taffy being made in a little shop in Canal street.

Seniors put the blame on their water-boy. . . . Devereaux claims Fred Hightower is too "fast" with his women, and Fred also has been seeing a certain blonde too much, the one who lives in front of the college. If Hightower doesn't watch out, the women will be asking him to go to backward dances with them as they do Florsheim and Price.

Trichel says he's going to take his woman hunting, but Portis and Poulan seemed to be beating his time when they took her to the Junior-Senior dance. . . . If anyone is going to Alexandria soon, why not take Carl Davis? He wishes to see the Bolton cheerleader. Tell us more about her, Carl, and that special train Bolton had. . . . Where does Ellerbe go every evening, even before he has time to eat supper?

JUNIORS BEAT SENIORS 14-6

The Juniors avenged a defeat handed them by the Seniors when they trounced the Seniors 14 to 6 in their second unofficial game.

Trichel Junior guard, led the scoring with 12 points. E. Warner led the scoring of his team with 4 points.

The Juniors will tackle the Y's Men on December 18, and the Tampa Seals on December 19.

The lineup was as follows:

COLLEGE SHOPPER

Knowing that this is the last issue of the Pow Wow before Christmas, Nell and Joe decided to do their Xmas Shopping Early. After depositing their books, notebooks and, etc., home, which anyone could have seen came from the COLLEGE BOOK STORE, they start out with a POW WOW in hand. Joe stops long enough to get a hair cut at the NORTH SIDE BARBER SHOP. As soon as they arrive in town Nell goes for a permanent at FRANCES BEAUTY SALON. At this time Joe has a chance to do some shopping of his own. The first place he makes for is R. & A. JEWELRY CO., INC., to get a beautiful wrist watch for Nell. Going by JULIUS & SON he gets his Xmas suit that he had ordered from them. Joe also goes by and gets the photos of themselves at GRIFFIN'S STUDIO that they are going to send Mother and Dad. By this time Nell has had time to do some shopping of her own. At the PALACE she bought a new dress to wear on Xmas day. Afterwards she goes down to FERD LEVI STATIONERY CO., INC., for some new books for Joe's

Nellie: "I'm just lov-ly."

Clarice Roan: "Jinks, what makes you so cute?"

Sara T. Coon: "Let I do it."

Walter McGee: "Well, I guess we're just about there."

Xmas, Joe is literary minded even if he is a college student. Where else would they meet but at the ECONOMY DRUG. Here they drink COCA-COLA, purchase several other needs, and then to the PARAMOUNT THEATRE to see 'Christopher Bean,' the picture that was released on Marie Dressler's birthday. After the show back home to address Xmas Cards purchased from J. D. DeBlieux, to their many friends to read the NEWS-STAR—and so to bed. Now these are wise College students. If you take their advice and shop likewise, you will benefit, too.

Miss Mary Clay has just returned from her home. Her mother accompanied her back and will spend the rest of the year with her.
