Rev. Webb Presents Series Of Addresses

Living one's faith at home was emphasized by the Rev. Ferry F. Webb, Jr. in his first address of the series during Religious Emphasis Week.

Webb, pastor of the Natchitoches First Baptist Church, told students that "God expects us to live our religion at home. We do not always put our best foot forward at home. Our houses may be made attractive with fine furnishings, but too frequently they do not reflect our best behavior."

"Individuals may show diplomacy and do difficult work in clubs or on their jobs but often they return home so fatigued and depressed that they indicate nothing which God has done for them. Jesus means for us to make our homes our laboratories," the pastor said.

Webb told students to "return to their homes with deep religion in their hearts." This, he explained, can be the greatest mission work.

Prayer as a challenge for modern youth was underscored at the second convocation.

"Prayers frequently are not answered because we pray out of character," the Rev. Webb told the audience. "Prayer is not supposed to change the mind of God or the laws of the universe," the speaker explained. "God could not run the universe if this were true." In offering prayer, the pastor said, "we should remember to include 'not my will but thine be done.'"

The last of the series of talks discussed the challenge of living in a big world.

The REW programs were under the supervision of the Interfaith Council headed by Betty McCartney, senior student from Bonita.

Music Professor To Conduct In Miss. At All-State Event

Eloy Fominaya, assistant professor of music, will conduct the Mississippi All-State Orchestra in concert at Mississippi College in Clinton Saturday.

The event is being sponsored by the Mississippi Music Educators Association.

Fominaya has conducted numerous clinics and served as adjudicator in Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Texas. He also conducts the Northeast Little Symphony, the Monroe Youth Symphony and the First Methodist Church Choir.

He presently is concert master of the Twin City Symphony, the El Dorado (Arkansas) Symphony and violinist in the NLSC Trio.

Prior to joining the Northeast faculty, Fominaya was instrumental band and orchestra director and music instructor in the Dallas Independent School System.

His general musical background includes three years of study at Juillard School of Music, work at Lawrence College, North Texas State, from which he received the master's degree, and advanced study at Baylor University and Michigan State, where he presently is composition toward the doctorate in composition.

Fominaya recently conducted an all-state string orchestra as a part of the clinic which was held in Little Rock by the Arkansas Music Educators Association.

'60 Chac Pictures Slated Wednesday

Retakes of pictures for the class section of the 1960 Chacahoula will be made next Wednesday.

The photographer will be set up in the Faculty Lounge, Administration 217, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. He will take pictures of new students and students who did not have pictures taken first semester, and will retake those pictures that did not come out.

Brenda Gambrell, editor of the Chac, said that the men students would have to wear coats and ties.

Foreign Students To Speak Tuesday

The Honor Society meeting scheduled for yesterday has been rescheduled for 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Faculty Lounge. Guest speakers for the occasion will be Carmen "Cookie" Poudeuida and Elba Portilla. Carrying out the theme "Education Around the World," they will discuss education in Puerto Rico, their native country.

Dianne Mears, acting president, urges all members to attend the meeting.

Council In Favor Of Hiring Name Band For Dixie Ball

Interest ran high in favor of a name band for this year's Dixie Ball, sponsored annually by the Student Council.

George Massingale, senior Student Council representative, was appointed chairman of a committee to secure information concerning the occasion.

The Paragon Supper Club, the Virginia Hotel Roof, and the Hotel Frances roof were discussed in connection with the possibility of having the affair off campus.

Massingale asked Carolyn Albritton, junior and Theo Coenen, sophomore, to serve on the committee with him.

Tentative plans call for a formal dance, in late April or early May, following a concert presented by the dance band, or orchestra, earlier that evening or afternoon. However, plans are still indefinite and incomplete at this time.

A Council member said that an admission charge would be made.

President of the Council, Floyd Prejean said that Northeast would not have an entry in the "Miss Stockshow" contest.

The Student Council had previously voted to send a candidate to the March contest. Difficulties in finding a suitable entrant who was willing to go forced the Council to drop plans for sending a Northeast coed to the Delhi show.

The Council regretfully accepted a letter of resignation from the Student Council secretary, Barbara Elliott. The letter from the former senior representative said that she felt that she could not do justice to both her Council work and her student teaching.

A change in registration fees has been approved by the Student Council.

James O. Lancaster, director of scholarships and placement, met with the Council to discuss the proposed changes (see page 4).

Council members were provided with a memorandum from President George T. Walker which asked for their opinion of the proposed reshuffling of registration fees.

A vote by the council indicated approval of the revised schedule.

The plan for zone-parking was also accepted by the Council.

Freshmen and junior class presidents must be contacted to hold elections for new Student Council representatives. President of the Student Council Floyd Prejean reminded the Council.

The freshman representatives and one junior representative must be replaced on the Student Council. Freshman Sherree Harrist, Johnny Parsons, and Larry Ramin, and junior Jim Aycock failed to make the "C" average required for Student Council members.

If the class presidents involved do not call for an election within two weeks after they have been notified, the Council appoints replacements.

A report from the treasurer, Jean Williams, showed that the Student Council has a total of $2,398.81 on hand, not including the fees for the spring semester.

Miss Williams was asked to check with Northeast's Grounds Beautification Committee to see if a sign identifying the college to passers-by can be placed in front of the college.

Founded in 1931, Northeast Louisiana State College was originally known as Ouachita Parish Junior College.

into his company. Information in a student's folder is kept up to date and includes letters of recommendation, scholastic records and work-experience information.

"The placement bureau is available for men who enter the armed services after graduation and need assistance in obtaining employment after they are discharged," Lancaster said.

Northeast's placement bureau is relatively new and Lancaster is building up and developing the files on companies and the types of people they want to hire.

Lancaster Aids In Job Finding

BY KAY COTTON
Managing Editor of Pow Wow

Not too long ago a high school supervisor came to Northeast looking for graduates to hire for his school. He went to the placement bureau office, but was unable to get the names of prospective teachers.

Why? Because the graduating seniors had not signed with the placement bureau.

James O. Lancaster, director of scholarships and placement, said the placement bureau is dedicated to be of service to students, alumni, faculty and employers.

Lancaster said he would make every effort to find the proper students for job openings even if they have not registered with him. However, he added, students who do not sign face a danger of being inadvertently omitted from consideration.

The placement director declared he is ready and willing to help students get on-campus jobs or part-time jobs off campus and try to place seniors with companies after graduation.

The placement bureau invites company representatives to come to Northeast to interview graduating seniors. Lancaster in turn goes to his

Curiosity: A Key To Education

Julien Bryan said in his lecture last month that students are not curious and that they don't read enough.

We are not curious enough to read. Books contain the sum of all man's knowledge. This knowledge is ours for the taking. Of course, no one person could possibly take advantage of all the knowledge. But too many of us won't even read a little bit, other than what is required for classes. And when we can cheat our way through without reading that much, we do just that.

College is a privilege, a privilege we in the United States have abused shamefully. We are not interested in learning, only in a degree and the things a degree can do for us.

Bryan showed movies of Russians attending classes in temperatures only eight degrees above freezing. I don't know if Russian students are pressured to attend college. We can thank God that we're not. But we should blush in shame that we are so unwilling to put forth the effort to develop our intellect to a reasonable degree.

Academic scholarships are being offered more and more. That's good. It's regrettable, though, that the athletic scholarship system had such a head start.

Not that I'm against college athletics. To the contrary, I believe that sports activities do a lot of good. But I also believe that we defeat our purpose in education when we place such high value on sports achievements and so little on academic achievements.

Education brings with it a kind of satisfaction that can come no other way—though, I imagine, truly educated people are never satisfied with what they know. They want to keep learning new things every day, and they do.

Bryan said, "We are going to school and taking just enough to get by on." If we, as students, would honestly take a long, hard look at ourselves, I don't think we would like what we would see.

New Ideas, New Life

(This editorial first appeared in the Feb. 13, 1959, issue of the Pow Wow.)

The general attitude of today seems to be that of the "Beatniks'" negativism. Being happy is old-fashioned and if you are happy and well-adjusted emotionally, you are not in keeping with the times.

That Americans are interested in building material wealth rather than adding to their storehouses of pleasant memories has been a generally recognized fact. Now, attitudes have turned to slant toward a more dangerous way of thinking—the new generation of ideas says, "There is no good in the world. The human race is corrupted." If we admit that moral, physical, and spiritual standards are not strong enough, what will we do to correct conditions? Probably nothing—because, while it is easy to condemn the world, correcting conditions is not so simple.

The negative attitude must be eliminated first. We are blessed to be alive. Look around us at those who are less fortunate than we. As a rule we don't have to live in fear for our freedom, our lives or our dreams. Here in America, we can be sure.

Very few of us or the people we know are poverty stricken. We have food to eat, clothes to wear and houses to keep us warm. We have someone to love and someone who loves us: families or friends—if we want friends.

What do we do? We gripe about assignments, food in the cafeteria, the way our hair looks or the way our car runs. Think in positive terms; happiness is everywhere.

Why should we deny ourselves the blessing of happiness that God has given to us? It is ours for the taking.

Colloid And Surface Chemistry Contest Invites Entries From Undergraduates

The opening of the 1960 contest in colloid and surface chemistry among college undergraduates is announced by the University of Southern California. The contest is sponsored by the Continental Oil Company of Houston, Texas and Ponca City, Oklahoma, and is now in its fourth year.

Students of chemistry, biochemistry and chemical engineering at all accredited colleges and universities of the United States and Canada are eligible if they are regular undergraduates on April 1, 1960.

The contestants may enter either a report on a research project conducted by themselves or an essay on the subject "The importance of the ultracentrifuge in colloid chemistry." The best essay and the best report will each receive prizes of $500 and the second best $200 each under contest regulations. Honorable mention prizes of $50 each are also provided.

The deadline for submitting entries is July 1. Entry blanks may be obtained immediately by writing to Prof. K. J. Mysels, Chemistry Department, University of Southern California, Los Angeles 7, Calif. The prizes will be awarded by a panel of anonymous judges and will be distributed September 1.

As contest chairman, Mysels is being assisted by an advisory committee composed of Dr. S. Brunauer, Portland Cement Association, Chicago, Ill.; Prof. P. H. Emmett, Johns Hopkins University; and Prof. Marjorie Vold, University of Southern California.

Freshman, Junior Classes To Meet

The freshman class will meet in Brown Hall Auditorium at 12 noon Tuesday to elect three representatives to the Student Council. Included in the election will be two men delegates and one woman representative.

Jerry Crooks, president of the freshman class, asked that all freshman students attend if possible.

There will be a meeting of the junior class Tuesday at 2:15 in Brown Hall Auditorium.

Dedicated respectfully to the committee which came up with the traffic regulations which go into effect tomorrow in an attempt to solve our local parking problems.

American Student Information Service Seeks Applicants For European Jobs

The American Student Information Service, a non-profit agency that locates summer jobs in Europe for American college students, is looking for students to fill summer jobs. Lifeguard on the French Riviera, construction engineer in French Equatorial Africa, jazz musician, gun-maker in Spain, water ski instructor in Switzerland and private secretary in Germany are examples of the jobs available.

The Service, which has been placing American college students in Europe for two years, now has over 3,000 positions, in all fields, open to US students.

ASIS also has arranged a special student "summer package", costing $329.00, for members of the organization. Included in the three hundred twenty-nine dollar package is the round-trip air fare to Europe, three hour orientation course upon arrival, free first night accommodations, a summer job, complete health and accident insurance for 95 days and the use of the many ASIS facilities which include free postal service, social receptions, etc.

The non-profit agency headquarters is located at Jahnstrasse 56-a, Frankfurt/Main, Germany, and they have a branch office at the University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Connecticut. However, students interested in summer jobs are requested to write directly to the European office.

Jobs are to be filled by May 1.

'Open-Door' Policy Of Walker Praised

Thank you President Walker. Thank you for having a sympathetic ear when it seemed as though no one else cared.

I have always had a friendly welcome and a chance to present my case on all matters with the President.

As we all know, it is best to solve problems on the lowest level possible. Sometimes if we cannot solve our problems we go to an instructor, department head or a staff personnel. After seeing one or all of these people our problem has been solved or advice is given so we will understand the WHY of it.

It is comforting to know, that if these people cannot, or will not, solve our problems, that the president's "Open-door" policy is a reality.

Final Rites Held For R. E. Baldwin

Rites were held earlier this week for Ralph England Baldwin, father of Frances Pryor Baldwin, assistant professor of chemistry. He was 39.

Funeral services were held in the chapel of Hixson Brothers Funeral Home with the Rev. Lea Joiner, pastor of the Southside Methodist Church, officiating.

Baldwin was associated for twenty-two years with the City of Monroe as superintendent of streets and parks and executive secretary of the Commissioner of Streets and Parks. Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Irene Palmer Baldwin, a daughter, Miss Baldwin; his mother, Mrs. John W. Baldwin, Sr., Borger, Tex.; three sisters, Miss Kathleen Baldwin, Mrs. D. Thornton Odum, both of New Orleans, and Miss Virginia Baldwin of Borger; three brothers, Dr. Jack A. Baldwin, Marksville; John W. Baldwin, Jr. and James H. Baldwin, both of Borger.

Pallbearers were W. E. Lawson, George N. Dawson, Richard M. Troy, Sr., Dr. Joseph Brown., Dr. George Wright, Jr., Dr. F. E. McCarthy, Frank Simpson and C. E. Jones.

Book Reviews

BY VIVIAN THOMAS

Brown Girl, Brownstones (310 pp.)—Paule Marshall—Random House ($3.95)

The setting for this, Miss Marshall's first novel, is a long row of brownstone houses in Brooklyn, once lived in by the Dutch-English and Scotch-Irish who had built them. "For a long time it had been only the whites, each generation unraveling in a quiet skein of years behind the green shades. But now . . . the last of them were discreetly dying behind those shades or selling the houses and moving away."

And as they left, the West Indians slowly edged their way in—especially the Bardiens, who had never owned anything except a few acres in a poor land . . . "people who had lived down in the gullies and up on the hills—and loved the brownstones with "the same fierce idolatry as they had the land on their obscure islands."

This is a long book but the reader is never conscious of the length. One of its charms is the rhythm of the Barbados speech.

The characters live, and you travel with them through their sorrow and their joy.

The Autobiography of Cecil B. DeMille (320 pp.)—Cecil B. DeMille—Prentice-Hall ($5.95)

DeMille, perhaps the father of the Hollywood film industry, takes the reader back to the days of Los Angeles' beginning as the movie capital. In a rather dull style he tells how the early pictures were made.

A great deal of the book is devoted to "The Straw Man", his first picture. Somewhere near the end he casually mentions "The 10 Commandments," the most spectacular of his religious films. For reasons best known to himself, DeMille hardly mentions "The King of Kings" and "Sampson and Delilah," which earned him the title of "a prophet in celluloid" by Billy Graham.

Sometimes accused of being a notorious labor-hater, DeMille relates how, when he had been invited by a post of the American Legion to speak in New York, his appearance was bitterly protested and several of the bands walked out of the musical program planned for the day.

The director also tells of the early struggle to survive against "the Trust" and its hired strong-arm men.

The book contains interesting bits about such film greats as Mary Pickford, Gloria Swanson and John Barrymore.

Twirler Finalists To Vie Thursday For Top Awards

Twenty-one baton twirler finalists from area high schools will compete for top awards next Thursday afternoon.

The awards will be presented during the halftime ceremonies at the Northeast-McNeese basketball game. The game will be held at the Ouachita Parish High School gym at 8 p.m.

The winners will participate in the halftime show and the awards will be presented at that time.

Registration for the contest will begin at 1 p.m. in Brown Hall Auditorium. The judging will start at 2:30 p.m. there.

The graduating seniors will compete for monetary prizes in amounts of $160, $80 and $40 (first, second and third). They also will be competing in the senior division.

The third division that will be competing is the junior division.

In the graduating senior competition will be Sheron Peters, Ouachita; Linda McCalman, Homer; Carol Joyce Waller, Farmerville; Mary Ann McKee, Columbia; Brenda Crowe, Bastrop; Mary Ann Harley, Jonesboro-Hodge; Glenda Calk, and Glenda Kay Allen, both of Jena; Carol Crawford, Neville; and Juanita Barfield, Ferriday.

The other twirlers in the senior division are Tana Rhodes, Ouachita; Shirley Tarver, Columbia; Virginia Stewart, Jonesboro-Hodge; Cherie Martin, Pineville; and Fran Varnell, Winnfield.

In the junior division will be Margaret Martin, Winnfield; Martha Guyton, Neville; Diane Barthel, Rayville; Carol Woods, Columbia; Donna Weaver, Ouachita; and Marcia Dawson, Homer.

Pow Wow Invites Letters To Editor

Letters to the editor are invited, Joyce YelDell, Pow Wow editor, said.

They must be signed with the correct name of the author and must be temperately written.

Attacks on personalities or letters calculated to stir up purely political, religious or racial prejudices will not appear in print.

Up to 500 words may be accepted, but ordinarily letters should not exceed 300 words.

Letters are published at the editor's discretion, but Miss YelDell added that letters complying with the policy as described above will be printed.

Visiting Teachers Meet On Campus

Dr. T. Eugene Holtzclaw, dean of education, discussed who should attend college at a meeting of the Fifth District Visiting Teachers.

The meeting was held in the Faculty Lounge of the Administration Building. Holtzclaw said that more than 20 persons were expected to attend.

After the meeting the group were guests of President and Mrs. George T. Walker for lunch at the president's home.

Northeast Opens Track Season Tomorrow

Indian Squad To Compete In Coliseum Relays

Northeast's talent-laden track team steps up into top-notch competition against university opponents tomorrow in the season opener at the Coliseum Relays at Montgomery, Ala.

Facing the Tribe cindermen in their initial test of the season will be defending champion Florida State University, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Auburn, Alabama, Kentucky, Mississippi State, Mississippi College and Clemson.

Northeast, with most of last year's Gulf States Conference championship squad back intact, will be one of the favorites along with Florida State in the indoor meet. However, one of the Indians' major problems will be that of entering the competition in top physical condition.

Freshman George Abbott, one of Louisiana's top all-time milers, is out with a cracked bone in his foot and definitely won't suit up. Roger Beumer, a promising sophomore sprinter, has a pulled muscle and may not make the trip.

Expected to be recovered by meet time is Dave Styron and Jerry Dyes, both hampered by the flu, and quarter-miler Dick Hays, limping on a turned ankle.

The Styron speedsters, Don and Dave, GSC co-athletes of the year in 1959, will again anchor the Tribe. Both will enter the 60-yard dash, 60-yard low hurdles and the mile relay.

In addition Dave is slated to broad jump and Don will compete in the 60-yard high hurdles.

Sophomore Don Eiland, one of the South's top long distance runners, will be a major threat in the mile and two-mile runs. Eiland ran the nine in 4:33 here last Saturday in an intrasquad meet.

One of the Indians' strongest events promises to be the mile relay squad—the same foursome that finished first in the Sugar Bowl. Teaming with the Styrons will be Hays and Jim Mouser, tabbed by Coach Lew Hartzog, as the hardest working man on the squad.

Dave Styron will lead off the event, with Don Styron anchoring the squad and Hays and Mouser running the middle laps.

Northeast should be much stronger in the field events this season than in the past. Hoy Rogers, James Copeland and Dyes will handle the shot put, John Pennel and Casey Boyett the pole vault and Dyes and Owen the broad jump. Dyes and Walton will carry the Northeast hopes in the high jump.

Competing in the freshman division of the 60-yard dash will be Gene Christen and Bill Koerner. A frosh team composed of Christen Koerner, Jerry Lowrey and Karl Hecker will also enter the mile relay.

Indian Linksmen Face 13-Meet Slate; Only 2 Lettermen Back From '59 Squad

Only two lettermen are back for action with the Northeast golf team this season but a developing squadman and two promising freshmen should assist the Tribe swingers in improving over last year's fifth place finish in the Gulf States Conference.

Thirteen matches have been scheduled, according to coach Bob DeMoss, with the opener set for Mar. 3 here.

Larry Tilley, team captain and No. 1 player for the past two years, and Sonny Harper are the only monogram winners on the 1960 squad. Tilley placed sixth in the GSC meet last year and averages 70 strokes per 18 holes. Sonny Harper, the club's No. 3 swinger in 1959, has a 74 average.

Bill King, the team's longest hitter, was on the squad last year and turned in an average 74.

Freshmen Clayton Cole, son of Bayou DeSaird professional Winnie Cole, and Jim Harper, younger brother of Sonny, are the brightest new prospects. Both played on Neville High School's state championship team last year.

Cole, who averages 70, has a string of golf accomplishments. He won the Twin Cities title, was second in the Bayou DeSaird Invitational and finished fourth in the Cotton States meet in 1959. Jim Harper won the state prep title last year and captained the Neville champs.

Louie Irving and Gene Adams, both of whom have four years of high school experience at West Monroe, round out the squad.

Inexperience and bad weather which curtailed practice greatly hampered the Indian linksmen in 1959.

The schedule:

Mar. 4—Ouachita College, at Monroe
Mar. 11—S'West Meet, at Fort Worth, Tex.

Mar. 17—McNeese, at Lake Charles
Mar. 25—McNeese, at Monroe

March 29—La. Tech at Monroe
Apr. 1—Miss. Southern, at Monroe

Apr. 8—Tulane, at Monroe
Apr. 12—Ouachita College, at Arkadelphia, Ark.

Apr. 22—SLI, at Lafayette
Apr. 29—Centenary, at Shreveport

May 6—Northwestern, at Monroe
May 19—GSC Tournament, at Lake Charles

Intramural Meeting Scheduled Monday

Student director Gene Andrews announced this week that there will be an intramural meeting Monday in the teacher's lounge, room 217 of the Administration Building at 4 p.m.

Andrews said basketball managers and all-star football team members, as well as teams interested in volleyball, should attend the meeting.

Northeast's First Coach, Athletic Director Dies

J. Paul Kemerer, first coach and athletic director at Northeast State College when the school was a junior college, is dead, it was learned last week.

With a varied background in sports as a player, coach and professional athlete, Kemerer came to the Northeast campus—the Ouachita Junior College—in 1931 to organize an athletic program for the school in its first year of operation.

In the three years through 1934 Kemerer established the foundation for the present Northeast athletic program. He was also in charge of men's physical education program, conducted intramural athletic games, and directed the school's first track meet.

After serving as athletic director in 1934 Kemerer moved to Pennsylvania where he was active in high school coaching. In 1959 he was in charge of student driver training at Hyattsville, Md., and was cited for his work in a national magazine.

Coach Kemerer was associated with the University of Maryland when he died last September 7. His wife, Mrs. George Anne Kemerer, was in charge of the college bookstore from 1931-34. She now lives in Adelphia, Md.

Dr. W. R. Hammond, dean of the liberal arts department, and Mrs. Dorothy Younse, associate professor of English, are the only present faculty members at Northeast who were teaching with Kemerer.

Bulldogs Defeat Tribesmen By 93-81 Margin

Paced by four players connecting in double figures, Southwestern's Bulldogs avenged an earlier Gulf States Conference setback by downing Northeast, 93-81, at Lafayette Friday night.

The loss was Northeast's 20th of the campaign against 2 victories and dropped the Tribe further in the CGSC cellar with a 1-7 slate against league foes.

The Bulldogs' Tim Thompson was the game's top scorer with 23 points and teammate Larry Simon dropped in 22 counters. Bill McHarris followed with 19 and Howard Humphries netted 16.

Senior forward Ronald Doyle was the leading point-getter for Lanny Fant's Tribesmen, bagging 20 points. Sophomore Lanny Johnson and freshman Stuart Toms put in 16 apiece and Charley Barnes hooped 15.

Northeast, which defeated the Bulldogs, 68-55, in their first meeting, matched the SLI quint basket for basket in the first half before retiring at intermission with a 37-36 deficit.

However Southwestern quickly widened the margin to ten points as the second half began an coasted to victory.

Northeast's Robert Cook turned in a fine rebounding show, clearing the boards 21 times.

Baseball Tryouts Slated Monday

Northeast will begin full-scale spring baseball practice Monday afternoon, coach George Luffey announced this week.

Pitchers and catchers have been working out for two weeks in preparation for the Mar. 23 opener here against Oklahoma Baptist.

Luffey also said that anyone wishing to try out for the team should report for practice Monday.

Northeast is a member in good standing of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

PI SIGMA EPSILON

The Pi Sigma Epsilon, professional business fraternity, met last week at the Trianon Restaurant to make plans for attending the national convention.

Floyd Ham, president, introduced John Craft, guest speaker for the occasion, who spoke on "How to go in to Business for Yourself."

R. D. Williams was elected secretary and Freddie Fezatte public relations officer.

Billy Howell and Fezatte were named official delegates to the national convention to be held in Memphis next week-end. Nine members will attend the convention in an unofficial capacity.

WRITERS' CLUB

The Writers' Club and Sigma Tau Delta, national professional English fraternity, have 24 entries in the writers contest of the College Writers' Association of Louisiana.

Advertising Prizes Awarded Students

Vernon Cottrell, senior student majoring in commercial art, was first prize winner in the college division of the Advertising Week poster contest sponsored by the Advertising Club of Monroe and West Monroe. Capturing second and third prize awards were Phil Oszuscik, freshman student majoring in music, and Donnavae Hughes, junior majoring in art.

Three Quachita Parish High School students, Tish Poe, Jimmy Furr and Wayne Radar won all three prizes in the high school division.

Prizes will be savings accounts provided jointly by the Advertising Club and Central Savings Bank and Trust Co.

Winning posters have been displayed in the Central Bank DeSiard Street main office lobby starting Monday. They will be on display in other business firms throughout the Twin Cities for the next several weeks.

represent 14 major colleges in the state will be invited to a meeting which will be held at Baton Rouge in early March.

Entries are now being prepared for the new contest. It will contain poetry, one-act plays, essays, short stories and feature stories. Dr. Willa Cox and Dr. Marvin McKeenly, faculty sponsors, said anyone interested in submitting material for the contest should contact one of them.

Winners of the contest will be announced about the middle of April. A meeting honoring the winners will be held at this time in New Orleans.

PHI DELTA CHI

Eddie Leatherman was recently elected president of Phi Delta Chi, fraternity for pharmacy students.

Other officers are Larry Giambelluca, vice president; Jack Armstrong, secretary; Morris Albritton, chaplain; Frank Cusimano, sergeant at arms; Ben Juneau, inner guard; and Don Coins, pledge captain.

Since Phi Delta Chi holds bi-annual elections for all officers except that of treasurer, Dickie Koonce will remain treasurer for this semester.

VETERANS' CLUB

The Veterans' Club elected officers and presented two honorary memberships at its first meeting of the semester.

Jim Malone and Jack Rushing were given honorary membership certificates for "cooperation and service extended to the Vet Club," Rogers M. "Mickey" Prestridge, club president, said.

Officers of the club include Prestridge (re-elected); Charlie Jackson, vice president (re-elected); Howard Russell, secretary; and Joe E. Magee, treasurer.

Prestridge said the club's purpose is to promote more interest in school and school activities.

He added that anyone interested in joining the club is urged to contact any of the officers.

Meetings of the Veterans' Club are the first and third Thursdays of each month at 7 p.m. at the College Friend.

Faculty Member Authors Filmstrip

A Northeast faculty member is the author of a geographical filmstrip on Georgia.

L. Le Mar Stephen, assistant professor of geography, has sold the slides and text to an educational-filmstrip concern. The firm, Herbert E. Budek Co. of Hackensack, N.J., will market the series on Georgia on a nationwide basis, probably beginning in March.

Titled "Views Across Georgia," the series consists of about 40 colored slides and a printed booklet of text material. Stephan took many of the photographs himself, and others were contributed.

The author, who holds degrees from Western Kentucky State College and the University of Wisconsin, is also the author of a filmstrip on Alabama.

The slides illustrate and the text discusses the landscapes and natural regions of Georgia, its historic sites and landmarks, its agriculture, underground materials, manufacturing and places to visit.

Lancaster Aids

Lancaster, director of scholarships and placement, and his secretary, Mrs. Carol McVeety, inspect some of the information on file in the placement bureau.

"Our biggest problem is getting the students to turn in the information to complete their folders," Lancaster added.

Lancaster urges students to come by the placement bureau office (218 Adm.) to sign up or to bring their folders up to date.

Vogel Addresses WMHS Students

Dr. Fred J. Vogel, dean of student services, stressed perseverance as he addressed students at West Monroe High School last week. Vogel was the principal speaker at the annual Career Day which included guest speakers and advisers from six surrounding colleges.

The program was sponsored by the high school student council. Billy Webber, president, served as master of ceremonies.

Other Northeast faculty members participating were Dr. Clint Hanna, dean of admissions; H. W. Morton, assistant professor of business administration; Mrs. Evelyn Barnes, director of secondary school teaching; Dr. R. M. Wilson, dean of the school of pharmacy; L. L. Price, head of agriculture and home economics; A. S. Huffman, chairman, department of health and physical education; Miss Ada Bess Hart, associate professor of health and physical education; Edward Schutz, assistant professor of art; Dr. Harry Lemert, dean of fine arts; and Miss Francis Kelso, chairman, department of home economics.

Education Officials Attend Convention

Two Northeast officials attended a meeting of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education in Chicago.

Dr. T. Eugene Holtzclaw, dean of education and Dr. William K. Russell, associate professor of education, represented Northeast at the annual meeting.

Sen. Albert Core (D-Tenn.) was one of the speakers at the convention.

Dr. Easley To Be Visiting Speaker

Dr. William K. Easley, chairman of the chemistry department, will discuss careers in chemistry as he addresses the Columbia High School Key Club this evening. The meeting will take place at 6:30 p.m. in the Columbia Methodist Church.
