NORTHEAST LOUISIANA STATE COLLEGE, MONROE, LOUISIANA

Friday, February 24, 1961

Tallulah Graduates Organize New Northeast Alumni Group

Northeast's continual growth was evidenced again last week with the organization of a new alumni chapter in Tallulah.

Seventeen Northeast graduates from the Tallulah area elected officers and planned future meetings with the aid of a delegation of six Northeast representatives from Monroe.

Officers for the new chapter are Doyle Canterbury, '59, president; Herbert B. Halbach, '53, vice president; Charles Porter, '57, secretary-treasurer; and Ted J. Ivey, '58, publicity director. All are from Tallulah. journal and news bureau associate; Hanna; Marcus Mapp, chairman, department of geology; Marshall B. McDonald, chairman of the Monroe unit organization and his wife.

During the meeting a series of color slides depicting Northeast campus scenes were shown to the group. This was accompanied by explanatory remarks made by Mapp.

Class pictures are now on sale in Stubbs 201 (Administration Building). Students are urged to come by and get their pictures as soon as possible.

licity director. All are from Tallulah.

Roland Carter, Monroe, president of the Northeast Alumni Association presided during the meeting and introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Clint Hanna, dean of instruction at Northeast.

In his talk, Hanna stressed the importance of organizing new alumni chapters which are essential to the growth of the college. In comparing expansion of the college to the progress of alumni in their professions, he said that the two must still depend upon each other because an intellectual band binds them together.

Attending the meeting from Northeast were Dell Lassiter, executive secretary of the association and her husband; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Carter; Oscar Banks, instruction in

$1,500 Graduate Fellowship Set

A graduate fellowship of $1,500 for advanced study in the field of social service is being awarded by Alpha Xi Delta, national social sorority for college women. Any graduate of an accredited college or university is eligible.

Applications should be filed by March 1. They can be obtained from Hermione Driskill, 804 McGuire, telephone FA 3-9773.

Efforts of Alpha Xi Delta Fraternity are focused on the American child and methods of combating juvenile delinquency by working locally with juvenile courts and social agencies.

Ninth Annual Speech, Drama Festival Here

More than 180 students representing 17 high schools from north Louisiana have entered the Ninth Annual Speech and Drama Festival, being held on the Northeast campus today and tomorrow, James W. Parkerson, associate professor of speech and festival director, announced.

Schools entered to date include Natchitoches, Jesuit and St. Vincent's Academy from Shreveport, Alexandria Junior High School, Pineville, Castor, Ruston, Winfield, Winnboro, Waterproof, St. Mary's of Natchitoches, Davidson High of St. Joseph, and St. Matthew's, Ouachita, West Monroe, Neville and Southside of the Twin Cities.

CONTESTANTS

The contestants will participate in three divisions: debate; one-act drama; and individual events, which include original oratory, after-dinner speaking, extemporaneous speaking, radio speaking, and interpretation of prose and poetry.

The 16 schools entered in debate will argue pro and con the proposition "Resolved, That the United Nations should be significantly strengthened." Each team will debate six rounds, three on the affirmative and three on the negative.

Speakers will be rated for their performances in each event and the judges will prepare written criticisms to be handed to the contestants at the end of the festival. Also certificates will be presented to the contestants showing their official ratings.

RATINGS

The ratings with their respective point values are as follows: superior, 5 points; excellent, 4 points; very good, 3 points; good, 2 points; and fair, 1 point. Drama ratings will carry double these point values and debate teams will receive a rating for each of their debates. These points will be totaled to decide sweepstakes honors.

Serving as judges for the occasion will be faculty members, local townspeople, upperclass speech majors and several visiting coaches.

The festival officially began at 9:30 this morning with an assembly in the auditorium of Biedenharn Hall, following a period of registration and verification of entries.

A highlight of the two-day event will be a banquet at 6:45 p.m. today in Gunby Hall.

Artist's Originals To Be Exhibited Until Next Week

An exhibition of original prints by Tom S. Fricano is open to the public at Northeast in Brown Hall 115, under the sponsorship of the Art Club.

Tom Fricano attended the Art Institute of Chicago, Bradley University, B.F.A. 1953 and University of Illinois M.F.A. 1956. He is now an instructor of art at Bradley University, Peoria, Illinois. He has studied print-making with Dow Mitchell, Ernest Freed and Les Chesney all well-known graphic artists in America and abroad. He has exhibited in national print shows since 1952 and has received many prizes and awards including: purchase award, Delaware University; 50 years flight award, Penn., 1953; 1st sculpture decatur 1953; Bradley University purchase award; Library of Congress purchase; Chicago Institute of print prize; California Society of Etchers purchase prize and many others.

Fricano's work is included in many museum collections and several private collections in the U. S. and Europe.

There will be no admission charge to the show which will remain on display until Tuesday.

'South Pacific' Plays To Capacity Crowds Last Week

Capacity crowds filled Brown Hall Auditorium for the performances of a three-night run of the Rodgers-Hammerstein musical, "South Pacific," last week.

Director of the campus production of the Broadway hit, George C. Brian, associate professor of speech, commented that he was extremely proud of all three performances given by the students in the play.

Brian added that he thought that the three performances were well received by the audiences.

The Fine Arts department of the college sponsored the two-act production.

Council Constitution Committee Votes For Improvement Of Present Document

The Constitution Committee of the Student Council has voted to work with the present constitution as a basis for improvement rather than use the proposed constitution of last spring.

The fundamental difference between the two, as pointed out at a meeting this week, is that the executive, legislative and judicial powers are distinctly separated under the proposed constitution of last year and are not in the constitution that governs the student body now.

COMMITTEE

The committee is scheduled to meet again tomorrow at 1 p.m. in the faculty lounge of Stubbs Hall. All interested persons are invited to attend, Joyce YelDell, chairman of the committee, said.

Council members at their regular meeting this week approved the recommendation of Blake Pitre, president of the junior class, that Charles Malloy replace Bennie Farrar as class representative to the council. Farrar resigned last semester.

Dwight D. Vines, assistant professor of business administration, was introduced as the co-adviser to the Student Council. Dr. Fred J. Vogel, dean of student services, is also co-adviser.

The council discussed tentative plans to attend the annual convention of the Southern Universities Student Government Association in April. Tallahassee, Fla., has been named site of the meeting. The local student government has become affiliated with the organization only this year. A delegate from Northeast's council to the convention as guests last year recommended membership.

TWO CONSTITUTIONS

Arthur L. Tatum, professor of government, met with the Constitution Committee at its request to discuss advantages and disadvantages of the two constitutions under consideration of the committee. Tatum, who helped draft the present constitution, said the college would probably benefit from a more specific document, but did not commit himself in favor of either of the two considered.

Two Dismissed For Irregularities

Two students have been dismissed from school for an indefinite period of time for attempting to take tests from offices located in the library, Dr. Fred J. Vogel, dean of student services, said this week.

The irregularities occurred during the final examination period of last semester. Vogel said that it is against the college's policy to release the names of the students.

Director Works In Band Clinics

Joe Barry Mullins, associate professor of music and director of the Northeast Band, recently participated in clinic work with high school and junior high bands throughout the state and in Arkansas.

Mullins was one of two guest conductors at the Farmerville Band Clinic. He also appeared at a district clinic held in Camden, Ark.

Mullins was scheduled to do guest work at the Jena-LaSalle clinic last Friday and Saturday, at Bolton on Monday and at the North Caddo (Vivian) Clinic today and tomorrow. He is also engaged at Rushon Jr. High School in Bossier City tomorrow.

Science Fair Slated Here March 17-18; Winners To Receive Ribbons, Medals

Northeast will again play host to the Region 3 Science Fair held annually for several years on the campus. Being presented March 17-18, it will include exhibits ranging from elementary pupils to twelfth grade students.

Entries for displays should be received by the college fair committee not later than March 14 at 12 noon, Edward C. Whatley of the biology department and director of the fair said. Entry blanks may be secured by writing Edward C. Whatley at Northeast Louisiana State College. Persons bringing blanks to the campus should take them to the biology office, 211 Caldwell Hall.

Medals and ribbons for first, second and third places will be awarded in the junior and senior divisions. Elementary exhibits will be displayed but not judged.

Students in the junior division (seventh, eighth and ninth grades) are eligible to enter displays in three areas: biological science, physical science and mathematics.

Students in the senior division (tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades) may exhibit in the following seven areas: electronics, physics (engineering, astronomy and meteorology), chemistry (including biochemistry), earth science (including geology, geography, conservation and archaeology (including botany, zoology

English vs. American Education . . .

'CREWCUTS AND CRICKET'

By LAWRENCE THAW JR.

"You watch him disappear hesitantly through the gate . . . It's his first day at his new British school, and as those forbidding, ivy-covered walls swallow him up, you wonder if you have made the right decision . . . are you fulfilling, or abdicating, your parental responsibility?"

"British kids start school as early as 4½, at latest five—a full year before American children. By six they can read and write; a Canadian newspaperman told me matter-of-factly his daughter could read the Manchester Guardian at seven.

"American kids plunged into British elementary schools have few problems . . . Adjustment seems fairly easy up to the age of 12, but American teenagers face very real problems—especially girls. Sex segregation begins at the secondary school level in Britain, at an age when American kids are beginning to "date" and acquire poise.

"But what disturbs U.S. teenagers more is the barrier of silence between students and teachers—the lack of give-and-take in British classrooms.

"There are other problems. American teenagers find that the casual approach to learning in British secondary school education is OUT . . . The elite who reach state-run grammar and comprehensive schools or privately run public or independent schools are there because they are smart and want to learn.

"American teenagers also find they have to scramble to keep up with their British counterparts, . . . because the whole system is geared to finishing secondary school education by the age of 15-16.

Doctrine of Discomfort

"The cult of the Stiff Upper Lip was born in British boarding schools and no wonder—after a 6 a.m. ice-cold shower and a brisk canter up the nearby mountain, childish lips are too blue with cold to be anything else. But it's well to remember that these schools are just as interested in building character as they are minds. The Doctrine of Discomfort and rock-hard beds breeds fortitude . . . Besides, the spartan existence in these schools takes the boys' minds off girls.

Intellectual Democracy

"One of the most interesting phenomena today is the drawing together of U.S. and British systems of education . . . In Britain, where little time is wasted on dull children and a great deal spent on exceptional ones, the tendency is toward intellectual democracy, as exemplified by the new co-educational comprehensive schools, a post-war experiment which most closely resemble U.S. high schools . . . In America today, Sputnik has caused educators to think again. The trend is toward specialization and giving bright children more opportunity, instead of lumping them democratically together in classes with mediocre students.

"What is the value of this impact (of the two cultures on the student)? . . .

"The acid test for many parents comes after their off-spring have had a chance to settle in at their new schools . . .

"You see him racing toward you, beaming all over. You all hug and then comes the crucial question: 'Well, Butch, how do you like your new school?'

"The answer is a bolt out of the blue. Simply smashing, Sir!"

The above article is an excerpt from "Crewcuts and Cricket" by Lawrence Thaw Jr., which appeared in "London American" November 24/30, 1960. It was sent to the ARGUS, campus newspaper from Illinois Wesleyan University, by Dr. Rolf Soellner, IWU professor of English, who is studying in London on a Guggenheim Fellowship.

Local Librarian Invited To Join National Group

Instructor and assistant librarian, Barbara Meades, has been invited to join the internationally-chartered library science fraternity, Beta Phi Mu, announced head librarian Maude Merritt Bentrup.

In achieving the honor, Miss Meades met high qualifications of scholarship and professional accomplishment and was specially recommended for membership by her library school.

Beta Phi Mu exists principally for the recognition of attainments in the study of library science and for the sponsorship and promotion of various professional projects.

Miss Meades joined the faculty at Northeast last July. She holds a bachelor's degree from Centenary College, Shreveport, and master's degree in library science from Louisiana State University.

She is a member of the Louisiana Library Association, the Louisiana Teachers Association and the American Library Association.

On Campus

PHI MU

Installation of new officers for the Alpha Rho chapter of Phi Mu, social sorority for campus women, was set Monday night in the home of Mrs. C. B. Flinn of Monroe.

New officers for the organization are president, Gay Demmary; vice president, Linda Clark; recording secretary, Millie Wendorf; corresponding secretary, Dianne McBride; treasurer, Jo Mary Tetteleton; reporter, Brenda Youns; parliamentarian, Ellen Walker; social chairman, Camilla Hamon; panhellenic delegates, Ann Walker and Janet Hyman; standards director, Linda Rogers; membership director, Sandra Simpson; fraternity education, Pat Ford; and pledge director, Sandra Johnson.

The advisory council consists of: faculty sponsor, Ruby Ball; alumnae advisor, Lee Herron; membership advisor, Zanona Flinn; scholarship advisor, Winetta Thomas; standards advisor, Mrs. C. P. Gray Jr.; financial advisor, Carolyn Boyce; pledge advisor, Alice Guyton.

BSU

The annual Northeast Louisiana State College Baptist Student Union installation banquet will be held Friday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Northeast Baptist Student Center. Ed Seabough, associate in Student Department, Nashville, will be guest speaker for the occasion.

Mrs. Violet Holland of Bastrop will install the officers. The theme for the banquet is "Exploring the Depth." Tickets for this occasion will cost $.75. This is a semi-formal affair.

HONOR SOCIETY

Dr. Marvin McKneely, associate professor of English, was guest speaker at the annual open meeting of the NLSC Honor Society Tuesday night.

McKneely provided slides of Great Britain which the group viewed. Last summer he attended the University of London for study in the neo-classical period of literature. After the summer session, he toured the British Isles and Europe.

Students, staff, faculty and the public were invited to attend the meeting.

WOMEN'S RESIDENT COUNCIL

The council of Resident Women Students is making plans for a Mother's Weekend on March 18 and 19.

The program will consist of a style show followed by a tea Saturday afternoon and a breakfast Sunday morning.

Alma Lufcy, counselor to women students, said that cooperation is earnestly solicited from each resident in order for the program to be among the most outstanding ones the mothers have enjoyed with their daughters.

Letters of invitation will be mailed to the mother or guardian of each resident, Miss Lufcy added.

PI SIGMA EPSILON

Pi Sigma Epsilon, national sales fraternity, met Tuesday night to discuss plans for going to the 1961 national convention in Garden City, Long Island, New York.

The delegates, R. D. Williams,

John Leist, Billy Caldwell, Charles Archibald, James Bailey and Thomas Brock will leave at 12:00 noon next Tuesday. They will be gone about a week.

Pecans, donated to the fraternity by National Sales Executive Club, are to be bagged and shipped to New York for distribution among the other delegates to the convention. The fraternity slogan "Every PSE a VIP in Monroe" will be attached to each bag. Match folders with this slogan on them have also been ordered to be distributed at the convention.

The Monroe Chamber of Commerce has prepared a report on Monroe, listing its many excellent facilities. This report will be presented at the convention along with pamphlets telling about the city. Signs are also being made for the convention car advertising the fraternity and NLSC.

The promotional activities are to be used to get the 1962 national convention here in Monroe.

KAPPA ALPHA

Kappa Alpha kicked off their spring rush week last Saturday night with a dance at the Commercial Solvents Camp in Sterlington. Rusbees and actives danced to the music of "The Kats" from 8:00 til 12:00.

Geologists Hear Thailand Student

A native of Thailand presented a new look at his country's politics, education, economy, international relations and local customs when he spoke to members of a geology seminar recently.

Vera Kirivatana, a junior geology major, told the group that Thailand's natural resources have been exploited very little because of the scarcity of geologists in that nation. Kirivatana, attending Northeast for the first time this semester, has been in the United States for seven years.

Thailand was called Siam until 1949. Rice and fish are two of its most important commodities.

As a rule a very small percentage of the people furthers its education upon completion of high school Kirivatana said. Although the rate of illiteracy is high, measures to counteract that rate, including compulsory education through the seventh grade, have been initiated.

Jack Harper, president of the Geological Society, assisted Kirivatana in the discussion.

Louisiana State Library is offering two $2,000 scholarships for graduate study leading to a Master's degree in Library Science. Announcement of these grants, which are included in this library's State Plan and made possible through funds available under the Library Services Act, is made by Dr. Essae M. Culver, state librarian.

Recipients must be citizens of the United States and residents of Louisiana or neighboring states. They must hold a Bachelor's degree from a four-year college or university and be acceptable scholastically and personally by a library school which is accredited by the American Library Association.

Among these, they may attend the school of their choice. Upon completion of their degrees, they will be expected to work for at least two years in a Louisiana public library which serves rural areas.

Information and application forms may be secured by writing to: Dr. Essae M. Culver, State Librarian, Capitol Grounds, Baton Rouge.

Malloy Chosen VP Of APhA District

A pharmacy major, Charles Malloy, was chosen vice president of the American Pharmaceutical Association, Student Branch, at the District VI Convention last week.

Malloy, a Shreveport junior, is vice president of the local student branch of APhA and a member of Phi Delta Chi, pharmaceutical fraternity. He and five other students from the School of Pharmacy attended the meet at the University of Texas College of Pharmacy in Austin, Tex.

Listed as delegates were Richard Aycock, president of Northeast's APhA chapter, and Don Goins. Non-voting delegates were Jack Armstrong, Paul Lasseigne and Joe Baughman.

A University-of-Houston student, Robert Stanley, was elected president of the sixth district. Next year's meeting will be at the University of Arkansas Medical Center in Little Rock, Ark.

Guest speakers were from the faculty of the host school. They used as topics "Pharmacy in Outer Space," "Duties of the Professional Student," "Objectivity of Values," and "Opportunities in Pharmacy."

57 Indian Football Prospects Undergoing Spring Practice

With football practice well underway at Northeast, Coach Rowan expressed satisfaction with the progress his charges have made.

"We have a group of willing boys and the coaching staff feels that we are having one of the best spring sessions in three years here," Rowan said.

The 1961 season could be a banner year for the Indians, with 23 lettermen returning, but the Tribe

Religious Emphasis Week Observed On Campus; Dr. W. A. Benfield Guest

Emphasis on religion was given to a program Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, as Religious Emphasis Week came on campus.

The traditional program was sponsored this year by the campus religious committee.

Meetings emphasized "Christ, Campus and Communism," the theme which the guest speaker, Dr. William Avery Benfield Jr., developed at the morning assemblies.

Each denomination on campus was represented at dormitory seminars, also. A reception following the program Tuesday in the Student Center was planned especially for college students and persons interested in the religious program. Women from the various religious centers served at the social affair.

Dr. Benfield came from the First Presbyterian Church, Shreveport, where he has been pastor since 1958. He also has served as minister of the Beechmont Presbyterian Church, senior minister, Highland Presbyterian Church, Louisville, Ky., and he has been a professor of Hebrew and Old Testament, vice president and professor of practical theology, and instructor in homiletics during his association with the Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary.

2 Ag Instructors Attend Convention

Two representatives of the agriculture department received data on the latest developments in agricultural research at the Southern Agricultural Workers' Convention recently.

E. H. Allen, assistant professor of animal industry, and Dr. Jasper G. Hammons, associate professor of agronomy, attended the three-day convention at Jackson, Miss.

Allen participated in sessions on animal, poultry and dairy sciences. Hammons attended sessions on agronomy of soils and crops.

Thirteen southern states were represented.

Speech, Hearing Disorders Meet Slated March 6-8

The 8th annual conference on Speech and Hearing Disorders is being planned for this year.

The conference will be March 6, 7 and 8 on Louisiana State University campus.

Guest lecturer for the meeting will be Dr. C. Paul Moore from Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill. He is a well known authority on disorders of speech and hearing.

Anyone interested in obtaining further details concerning the conference should contact Ed Rynes, instructor in special education, at the special education center on campus.

Carlos P. Romulo Appears Tonight At Neville High

Gen Carlos P. Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the United Nations and president of the Fourth General Assembly of the U.N., will appear at Neville High Auditorium at 8:15 tonight as featured speaker-lecturer of the Northeast Concerts series.

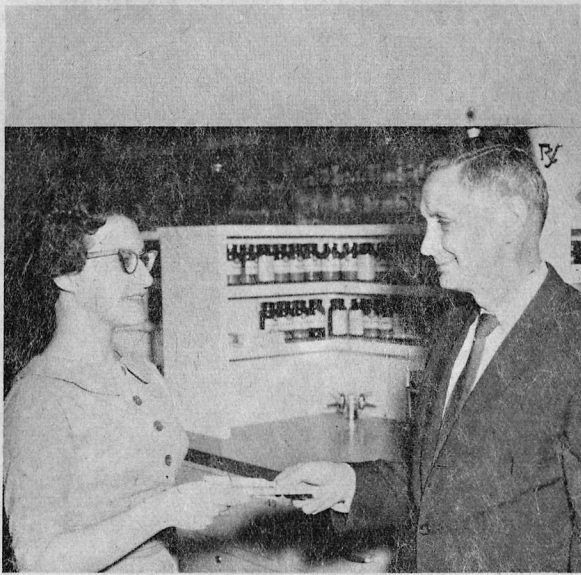

Rated one of the most dramatic orators of the time, Romulo is a recipient of 36 honorary degrees from many of the world's great institutions of higher learning.

The lecturer has held numerous high governmental positions.

During the 2nd World War, he served as Gen. Douglas MacArthur's aide-de-camp on Bataan, Corregidor and Australia. He accompanied MacArthur and the liberating forces in the invasion of Leyte and later in the recapture of Manila.

He has received many decorations including the Philippine Congressional Gold Medal of Honor, Distinguished Service Star of the Philippines, Gold Cross, Silver Star, Purple Heart, and the Presidential Citation with two Oak Leaf Clusters.

Romulo, a Pulitzer prize winning author, has written a number of best sellers.

Accounting Club Being Organized

An accounting club is in the process of being formed on campus for all interested accounting majors.

The first meeting was slated for Feb. 13 to set the qualifications for becoming a member of the organization.

Qualifications are being an accounting major, having completed or being enrolled in Intermediate Accounting, and having an over-all scholastic average of 1.0 and an average in accounting of not less than 1.5.

James Modisette, Dr. Frank Ross, Will Smith and Van McCraw, members of the business faculty, were present at the meeting.

Anyone interested in joining the club should contact Modisette or Smith in the Nursing Building.

Pow Wow Adviser Represents College At Convention

Northeast was one of five Louisiana colleges represented recently at the annual tri-state convention of American College Public Relations Association in Hot Springs, Ark.

Representing the college was Oscar E. Banks, instructor in journalism and adviser to the Pow Wow, college newspaper.

Other Louisiana colleges attending the meet were Tulane University, Louisiana State University, Northwestern State College and Southeastern State College.

Colleges from Mississippi and Arkansas were also represented.

Northeast maintains a placement service for students.

Jazz Ensemble To Play At State PMAS Convention

The Northeast Jazz Ensemble will present a concert tomorrow morning at Northwestern State College to climax a two-day state convention of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia.

The trip will be the third of the season and will include the fifth concert for the jazz group, directed by Del Sawyer, assistant professor of music.

The NLSC Jazz Ensemble is the only one of its kind in Louisiana and is one of the few to be formed in the United States. In contrast to dance bands, groups of this kind offer a higher polished, more powerful form of jazz as an art form.

Eta Iota Chapter of Northeast will be represented at the province-wide convention.

Pow Wow Invites Letters To Editor

Letters to the editor are invited, Joyce YelDell, Pow Wow editor, said.

They must be signed with the correct name of the author and must be temperately written.

Attacks on personalities or letters otherwise showing bad taste in the opinion of the editor will not appear in print.

Letters are published at the editor's discretion, but Miss YelDell added that letters complying with the policy as described above will be printed.

COOL — FUN

COLORFUL BROCHURE — Joann Dew, left, senior from Collinston; Guy Coates, junior from Monroe, and Zella Collins, sophomore from Jonesville, inspect the colorful brochure which is being distributed to high school seniors in this area. The brochure depicts opportunities ranging from the beautiful and friendly campus to estimated expenses of living, general fees, books and supplies. The story of college life is told in pictures and illustrations pointing out the rapid growth of the campus. The buff tone emphasizes sepia and soft green photographs, which illustrate life on campus. (News Bureau photo.)
