Summer Graduation Set; Dean Hunter Will Speak

Graduation exercises for the summer session at Northeast will be held Tuesday, August 8, at 6:30 p.m. on the lawn of the President's home.

Eighty-six candidates for degrees will hear Dr. John A. Hunter, dean of student services at Louisiana State University, give the commencement address.

Of the eighty-six candidates, thirty-seven will receive B.A. degrees, forty-eight B.S. degrees, and one a B.M.E. degree.

A nationally recognized educator, Dr. Hunter received his B.S. degree at Davidson College, his master's and Ph.D. degrees at Louisiana State. He was born in Donner, La.

After receiving his master's at LSU in 1946, he stayed to become director of personnel and associate director of the Bureau of Educational Materials, Statistics, and Research.

Several years later he left LSU to become supervisor of Statistics and Research for the State Department of Education.

Dr. Hunter returned to LSU in 1951 to serve as registrar. He held that post until 1956 when he was named dean of the junior division. In April of 1959 he was appointed to the newly created administrative post of dean of student services.

He served as a gunnery officer in the U. S. Navy during World War II.

He holds membership in a number of honorary and professional societies in his field, among them, the Louisiana Teachers Association, the American Educational Research Association, Kappa Phi Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi

Dr. Hunter has published numerous articles in his field and is the author of a handbook on "Teacher Welfare Laws," published by the Louisiana Teachers Association.

Watermelon Party Scheduled Today

The annual summer watermelon party for faculty, staff and students was scheduled this morning between 9:30 and 10:20 o'clock.

The melon cutting was slated to be held on the bank of Bayou DeSiard near the President's Home.

The class schedule was revised for the day, with abbreviated periods to permit the "hour of the watermelons," according to Dr. Clint Hanna, dean of instruction.

Enrollment Increase Is Anticipated At NLSC

A big increase in enrollment is predicted at Northeast Louisiana State College during the fall semester, with registration scheduled for September 13-14.

Students registering for Saturday, late afternoon and evening classes will register September 7-8 from 6:30-9 p.m.

The prediction of an increased enrollment is based on the more than 700 letters requesting application forms from the office of Dr. Lake Oxford, registrar. Enrollment last fall was approximately 2,700.

The freshman orientation program for the fall semester is scheduled to begin with dormitories opening at 10 a.m., September 10, and a freshman assembly docketed for 9 a.m., September 11.

Final examinations for the current summer session will be held for graduating seniors on August 3-4, with finals slated for all other students on August 8-9. The session ends officially on August 10.

Dr. John A. Hunter, dean of student services at Louisiana State University, will give the commencement address in summer graduation exercises to be held at 6:30 p.m. on the lawn of the President's home on Tuesday, August 8, Dr. George T. Walker, president of Northeast, has announced.

Final classes will begin Friday, September 15, and the final date for adding subjects for credit or making subject changes is September 23.

The college offers complete programs in liberal and fine arts, nurs-

MRS. ELOISE DENT

Mrs. Eloise Dent, associate director of the Mississippi Southern Reading Clinic, discussed remedial reading at Northeast Louisiana State College on Wednesday, July 26.

A noted specialist in diagnostic work in reading, in training reading specialists, and in tutoring disabled readers, Mrs. Dent was presented in a lecture by the Reading Workshop in Biedenharn Hall Little Theatre at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

A native of Mississippi, Mrs. Dent received her B.S. and M.A. degrees from Mississippi Southern College and has done post-graduate work at the University of Virginia.

She has taught at Sunflower Junior College and has been an assistant in the McGuffey Reading Clinic at the University of Virginia. She is a professor of education at Mississippi Southern.

Gillum Appointed To Lilly Post

Emory C. Gillum, a graduate of Northeast Louisiana State College, has been appointed a sales representative in Houston, Tex., for the Eli Lilly and Company, James H. Carey, Eli manager, has announced.

Born in Louisiana, Gillum was graduated from Farmerville High School in 1947. He served in the United States Air Force for four years and in 1961 received a Bachelor of Science degree in pharmacy from Northeast State.

Prior to joining Lilly, Gillum was employed as a pharmacist in Ruston, Louisiana.

ing, pharmacy, and geology.

Persons seeking additional information or wishing to apply for admission should write the Registrar, Northeast Louisiana State College, Monroe, Louisiana.

Final Exam Schedule Is Announced

Final examinations for graduating seniors at Northeast will be held August 3-4, and for all other students on August 8-9. The session will end officially on August 10, Dr. Clint O. Hanna, dean of instruction, has announced.

The examination schedule for graduating seniors is: 7 o'clock classes set for Thursday, August 3, 7-7:50; 9 o'clock classes set for Thursday, August 3, 9-9:50; 11 o'clock classes set for Thursday, August 3, 11-11:50.

8 o'clock classes set for Friday, August 4, 8-8:50; 10 o'clock classes set for Friday, August 4, 10-10:50; 12 o'clock classes set for Friday, August 4, 12-12:50.

The examination schedule for other students is: 7 o'clock classes set for Tuesday, August 8, 7-8:50; 9 o'clock classes set for Tuesday, August 8, 9-10:50; 11 o'clock classes set for Tuesday, August 8, 11-12:50.

8 o'clock classes set for Wednesday, August 9, 7-8:50; 10 o'clock classes set for Wednesday, August 9, 9-10:50; 12 o'clock classes set for Wednesday, August 9, 11-12:50.

State Board Authorizes Bid Openings Aug. 18

In action concerning Northeast Louisiana State College, the State Board of Education, meeting in Baton Rouge on Tuesday, approved the final plans and specifications for a $1,750,000 construction of two new dormitories and a student center expansion, approved the site of an $800,000 library building, and authorized a committee to take steps looking toward the purchase of approximately 100 acres of land for the College.

Bids for the two dormitories—one for men and one for women — and for the student center addition will be opened Friday, August 18, at 2 p.m. in Room 100 of Stubbs Hall, Dr. George T. Walker, president of Northeast, has announced.

The Board approved the location of the library building on a site on Hippolite Street between Garrett Hall (the biology-geology building now under construction) and Gunby Dining Hall.

The Board also authorized a special committee, under chairmanship of Nash Roberts of New Orleans, chairman of the Board's building committee, to take steps to secure 100 acres of additional land urgently needed at Northeast State.

Construction for the dormitories for housing 152 men and 166 women and the student center addition is scheduled to begin in September. These facilities are planned for occupancy by September, 1962.

This project will be constructed under a loan through the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, as announced recently by Congressman Otto Passman and senators Allen J. Ellender and Russell B. Long.

It will be financed by the issuance of revenue bonds, which will be liquidated from revenue gathered from room rentals in the dormitories and from snack bar and other services in the student center.

Architects for the men's dormitory are Walker and Walker of Shreveport, for the women's dormitory are Turpin and Wells of Monroe, and for the student center expansion are Johns and Neel of Monroe.

The women's dormitory will be located on the corner of Hippolite Street and facing Bayou Drive. The men's dormitory will be situated facing College Avenue next to Nicholson Hall. The student center addition will attach to the rear of the existing structure and will extend to face Bayou Drive.

The library building will be financed under an allocation by the State Board and Building Commission from the $60 million bond issue provided by the 1960 regular session of the state legislature.

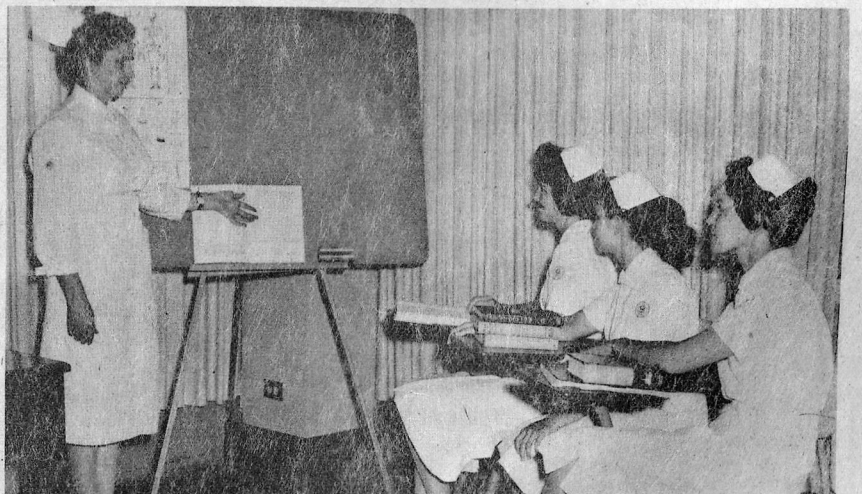

Architects for the library project are H. H. Land Jr. and Johns and Neel, associates. The building is planned for occupancy sometime between June and September, 1962.

Neptune Dance Was Last For Summer

Many Northeast students and faculty members attended the King Neptune's Dance, the last student dance of the summer session held Thursday night from 8-11 in the student center.

With the theme showing life beneath the sea and featuring Monroe's versatile popular band The Dukes, all students and their guests and faculty members were invited.

The dance was semi-formal and was sponsored by the Student Council, according to Kirby Jane Mooney, senior representative in charge of arrangements.

MRS. ELEANOR MCGEE, standing, an instructor in the Department of Nursing, is shown here in one of the modern laboratories at Northeast talking with student nurses, left to right, Billie Sue Dixon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. By Richard Greene

The past year at Northeast has seen rapid expansion both in enrollment and construction. With more than 300 new students expected this September, the total enrollment will be near 2900.

To accommodate this increase, a loan of $1,750,000 has been acquired from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency. The appropriation will provide two new dormitories to house 152 men and 166 women and will build an elaborate expansion of the student center. These new facilities are planned to be ready for occupancy in September of 1962.

In addition, construction is presently underway on a two-story, completely air-conditioned biology-geology building at a cost of $357,500. Occupancy for this building, Garrett Hall, will be sometime in January.

There's still more.

Already, plans are being made by the State Board of Education for an $800,000 library building to replace the present, out-grown hall. This is to be financed under the $60 million bond issue provided by the 1960 regular session of the state legislature. Plans now estimate the completion date of this new structure between June and September of 1962.

Two new dormitories and a modern dining hall were occupied by the students on campus during the past summer session. The new women's dorm, Breard Hall, accommodates 150, and Madison Hall for men houses 300.

And it doesn't end here. The State Board of Education is now making plans to secure additional acreage for Northeast, the fastest growing college in the state.

Now, you ask, who is responsible for this expansion. The answer is two-fold. First, you are the reason for the growth. Northeast needs you, just as you need her; without you there would be no expansion, no growth. The students are the life of any college, especially one as enthusiastic as Northeast.

Secondly, the administration has made it possible for this rapid expansion by recognizing the needs of the college. Without a hesitation, our very capable staff is to be given a word of gratitude. Without a conscientious and dedicated body of officials, none of this progress would have been possible, and certainly we all should be very appreciative.

The Pow Wow would like to extend a cordial invitation of its own to the new students, and our sincere hope is for their complete success in college adventure at Northeast.

By Jackie Hodgson

Each generation throughout the years has had to face fears and problems unconceived by previous generations. Today we look toward a future filled with uncertainties, a future which will be dominated by the probe into outer space. Because we wish to remain secure and unchanged by current events, many of us avoid facing reality, but there can be no escape from progress. Our forefathers feared the steamboat, the automobile, and the aeroplane and doubted that these machines could succeed. Yet each did and are now accepted factors of our life. So also must we accept the idea of travel into outer space.

None of our generation, no matter how we may try, will be able to escape the influence of our modern space age. "Just how vital and strong is this influence?" we may ask. Already the push toward outer space has changed the outlook of the entire world. It will be the deciding factor in the struggle of Americanism versus Communism, for Russia already has gained added prestige due to their so-called "advanced space projects." The discrepancies of the Russian claims are not apparent to the uneducated masses of the world; they are duly impressed by the Russian space propaganda, just as the Communists wish them to be.

The growth of scientific awareness among the laity, as well as the scientists in America, has brought about startling changes in many widely separated areas. No longer is space flight a Buck Roger's dream; it is an accomplished fact which affects every phase of our lives from the cars we drive to the subjects our children are taught in school. This influence is there, whether recognized or not, and may even decide America's future as a free democracy.

The race to the moon has vastly changed our academic viewpoint. No longer is it considered an oddity to be thought of as an "egghead." The intelligent person who applies his knowledge is sought out by a nation desperate for brain power to inject into our scientific program. Our nation's schools and universities are now emphasizing the training of students for careers in all branches of science, for we have a great need of scholars and scientists if we hope to advance into space.

We have gained much knowledge during the past decades, not all of it good. As a giant bestrides the world, so the fear of nuclear energy encircles the globe. It dominates and dictates, and we are all enslaved by the fear of what may come from the improper use of this fearful weapon. Yet, we cannot escape but can only fight back with equal and, we hope, greater strength, so that we may emerge triumphant and so that democracy may survive on the earth and some day in the great spaces beyond our world.

150 Attend Closed Circuit Television

Approximately 150 adults attended the demonstration of closed circuit television as a means of teaching in the classroom at the remedial reading workshop at Northeast Louisiana State College on July 14.

The group sat in Stubbs Hall amphitheatre and peered intently as the television set showed teachers working with children who have reading problems.

This was one of the first demonstrations of closed circuit television as a means of teaching ever given in the northeast Louisiana area.

Dr. T. Eugene Holtzclaw, dean of the division of education, reported that members of the audience expressed that they were impressed with closed circuit TV as a means of reading.

Dr. Leville Haynes, director of the Special Education Center, and Miss Sarah Taylor, director of the reading workshop, were in charge of the presentation.

Expansion Plan Gains Impetus

The rapid increase in enrollment at Northeast Louisiana State College has caused a $4,424,500 construction-expansion program now in progress.

With the enrollment having jumped more than 500 percent in the past ten years, Northeast State officials have expedited the building program to provide adequate facilities for the fastest growing college in Louisiana.

A $1,750,000 loan recently acquired through the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency will provide two new dormitories to house 152 men and 168 women and to build an elaborate expansion of the student center, Dr. George T. Walker, president of Northeast, has announced.

Bids are scheduled to be let in late August, and the facilities are planned for occupancy in September, 1962. The construction and expansion will be financed by revenue bonds which will be liquidated from revenue gathered from room rentals in the dormitories and from snack bar and other services in the student center.

Construction is now underway on a two-story, completely air-conditioned biology-geology building at a cost of $357,500. The schedule calls for occupancy in January, 1962.

Preliminary plans have been completed by the State Board of Education for an $800,000 library building. Current plans estimate the date of occupancy between June and September, 1962.

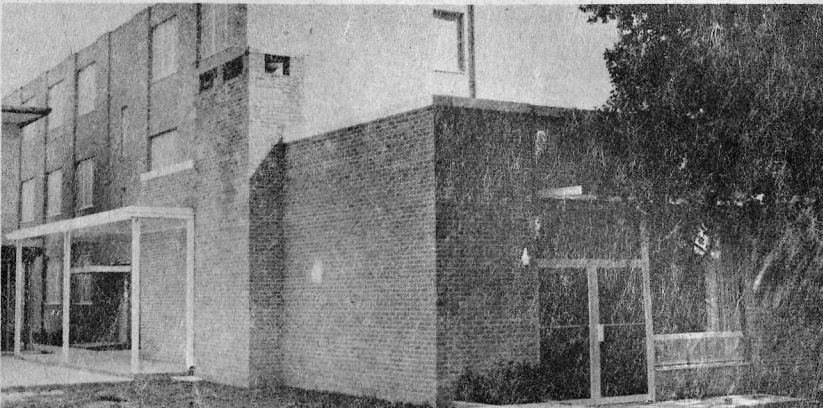

The library building will be financed under the $80 million bond issue provided by the 1960 regular session of the state legislature.

Two dormitories and a modern dining hall at a total cost of $1,517,000 were occupied at the beginning of the summer session. Beard Hall for women houses 150 and Madison Hall for men houses 300.

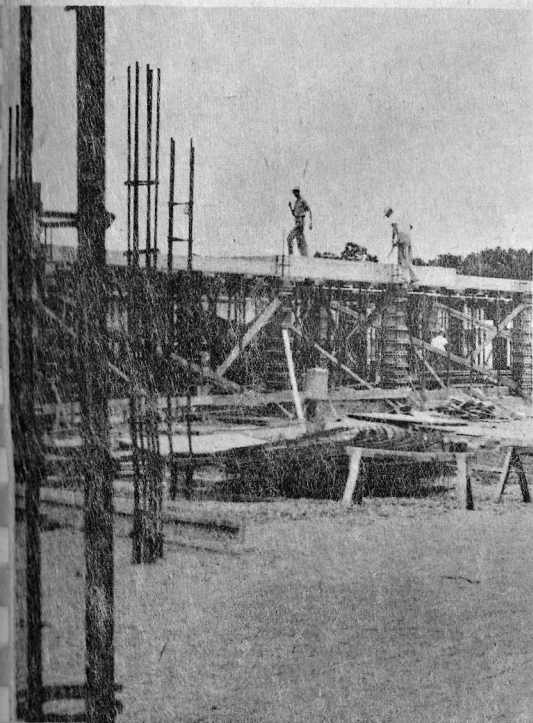

In addition, the State Board of Education is making plans to secure additional acreage for Northeast State, the college which is growing so fast that it is running out of space to situate buildings urgently needed.

A WING of Madison Hall, new men's dormitory at Northeast, is shown here. Madison Hall, which houses 300 men, is an architectural show-place and is completely modern and air-conditioned.

A SIDE VIEW of Beard Hall, the new women's dormitory which houses 150, is shown here. Completely air-conditioned and with an interior designed with lavishness for comfort and beauty, Beard Hall overlooks Bayou DeSiard and offers Northeast State women students housing of the highest caliber.

GARRETT HALL, the biology-geology building now under construction at Northeast Louisiana State College, is anticipated to be ready for occupancy by January, 1962. James M. Nicholson, dean of administration, has announced. Shown here now as construction proceeds, the building will cost $357,500, plus approximately $40,000 for furnishings. Tudor Construction Company of Alexandria is contractor for the two-story, completely air-conditioned building. It is being built with entrances on Hippolite and College Ave.

INDIANS WILL BE TOUGH . . .

62 Basketball Team Outlook Is Bright

Prospects for all athletic teams at Northeast State are excellent for 1961-62, but none will be better than for Coach Lenny Fant's basketball squad.

Eight lettermen return from 1960-61, and one letterman returns from the armed forces. Only two lettermen were lost by graduation. Four squadmen return, and a number of fine freshman recruits have signed letters of intent.

Employing a fast break offense with patterns and a man-to-man defense, with zones on special occasions, Coach Fant's Indians probably will be hurt less by losses than will other colleges in the Gulf States Conference.

Center Dave Harkins, lost via graduation, will be the only '60-61 starter for which a replacement must be found. Harkins was the Indians' 3rd high scorer and 2nd rebounder.

And the Redskins will be playing with only one senior as a starter, but that senior is Lanny Johnson, the Gulf States loop's leading scorer last year.

Consequently, the team will be a young one, but one with depth and experience.

Coach Fant sums up the situation this way: "The rapid development of Jimmy Walker at center during spring workouts was a pleasant surprise. Walker could fill Harkins' slot, and Robert Cook, a starting sophomore last year, will strengthen the overall picture."

Leading scorer Johnson and quarterback Stuart Tomes (one of the best ball-handlers in the state) will be aided by 1960-61 starters Robert Cook and Milton Linder.

Yet Cook and Linder may be hard-pressed by newcomers Bob Groves, Larry Butler, John Varino, and one of the leading scorers in Louisiana the past three years, Jerry Salley.

With the rapid improvement of Walker, Malcolm George, Irby Gamble, Jerry Snelling, and Harry Crowe, the Indian camp could move into battle with nets a-swishing.

Outstanding round-ball players listed on the summer roster include the following:

Centers: Robert Cook, 6-5 junior from Jonesboro, 2 letters; Jimmy Walker, 6-5 sophomore from Jonesboro, 1 letter; John Hagan, 6-8 sophomore from Brush, Colo.; Larry Butler, 6-5 freshman from Forest.

Guards: Milton Linder, 6-3 junior from Ft. Necessity, 2 letters; Stewart Toms, 5-10 junior from Quitman, 2 letters; Jerry Snelling, 6-0 senior from Converse, 1 letter; Lanny Johnson, 6-0 senior from Monroe, 3 letters; Irby Gamble, 5-7 sophomore from Marthaville, 1 letter; Bobby Lockwood, 6-3 sophomore from Spearsville; Harry Crowe, 5-11 sophomore from Monroe; Spike Smith, 5-11 freshman from Callhoun; Jerry Salley, 5-11½ freshman from Pleasant Hill; Charlie Bigger, 5-11 freshman from Monroe; Buddy Embanato, 5-10 freshman from Monroe.

Forwards: Malcolm George, 6-3 junior from Quitman, 1 letter; Bob

Groves, 6-3 sophomore from Monroe, 1 letter (returning from service); Raymond Hawkins, 6-2 sophomore squadman from Miami, Okla.; John Varino, 6-3 freshman from Monroe; Billy Brooks, 6-4 freshman Jonesville.

Past Sports

With a smashing victory at the LSU Invitational Track Meet in April of 1960, the Northeast track men racked up their eleventh straight win of the season before facing an open date.

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics released statistics in 1960 proving what Northeast fans had been proudly asserting all along—that the Indian track team was the nation's tops. According to the NAIA set of statistics, track twins Don and Dave Styron had posted top times in two events to head the list.

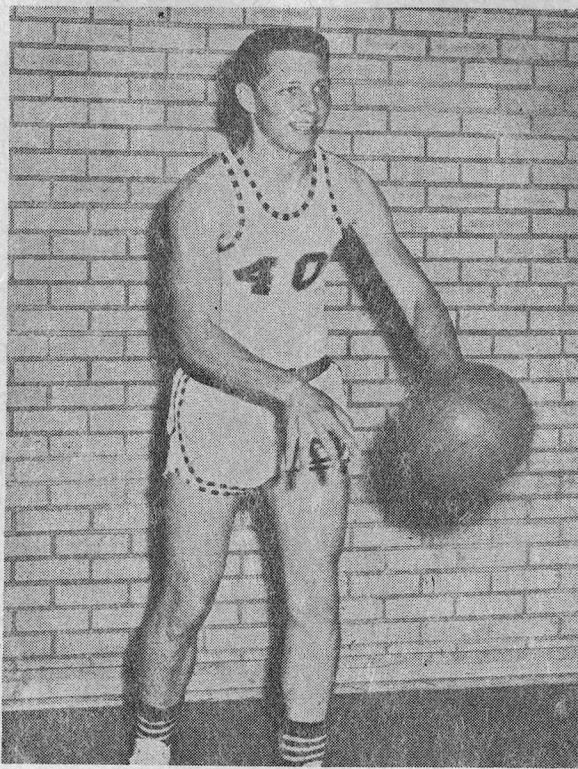

Northeast President George T. Walker placed a crown on the head of Queen Sandra Edwards Saturday, Oct. 8, 1960, as Northeast's 28th annual Homecoming was celebrated. What had started as a dreary day turned into a bright afternoon when the sun began to shine, as did Northeast's football team, which broke a Northwestern jinx and took a close 7-6 game from the visiting Demons.

Northeast captured a victory over Jacksonville State on November 12, 1960, and proved that the Tribe is hard to beat at home. Jacksonville's Gamecocks could not hold the fine offense of the Indians, led by Ferdie Cruce, Wilkie Ragan, Al Ott, and Don Wattigny.

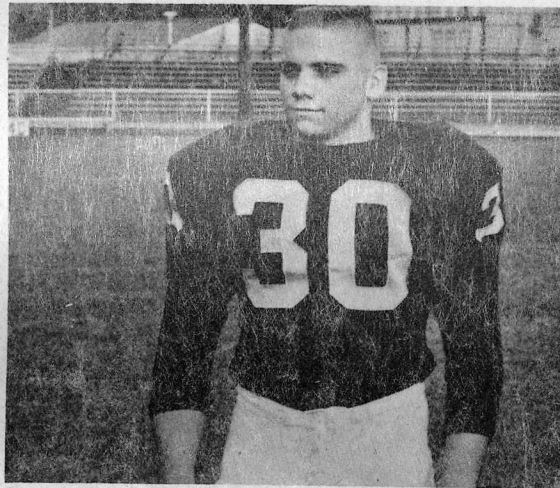

The first steps for forming an intramural touch-football league on Northeast campus were discussed in September of 1960. All organizations on campus were invited to join the league.

Northeast fans were treated to a sports doubleheader Saturday, October 17, 1959. In addition to the regular football attraction at Brown Stadium, track made its local debut in the form of Coach Lew Hartzog's cross country team against the McNeese and Louisiana Tech thinclads at halftime in a two-mile event.

Al Feeney, an outstanding guard on Northeast's 1959 football team, was voted an honorable mention berth on the Associated Press Little All-American team.

GULF STATES' LEADING SCORER Lanny Johnson will return in 1961-62 to lead the Northeast basketball team in a season which promises to be one of the best the Indians have had in several years. Coach Lenny Fant reports optimistically that the Redskins "... have been hurt less by losses than the other schools in the Conference." With eight 1960-61 letterman and one numeral-winner returning from the armed service, the Indians will have only one senior, Johnson, but will have speed, depth, and experience in the fast-breaking attack.

A PAIN TO THE ENEMY will be provided by Northeast gridiron foes by Devone Payne, letterman from Monroe, as he leads a thin corps of Indian fullbacks into the affray in September. His position will be flanked by a bevy of fine halfbacks speeding ever forward with Redskin fanaticism.

Graduate Program Attendance Is Initially High

One hundred and fifty-five students are enrolled in the Graduate Program at Northeast, and the program was put into operation only at the beginning of the current summer session.

Dr. Clint Hanna, dean of instruction, is in charge of the Graduate Program.

Degrees offered under the new program are the master of arts in education, the master of science in education, the master of education, and the master of music education.

The master of arts in education is granted in English, social science, and speech; the master of science in education in biology, business, chemistry, health and physical education, mathematics, and physics; the master of education in biology, business, chemistry, education, English, health and physical education, mathematics, physics, social science, and speech; and the master of music education in music.

Northeast officials earlier this year expressed appreciation to the legislature and to the State Board of Education for making the Northeast State Graduate Program possible. Special recognition was given to Col. George T. Madison and Joe D. Waggoner Jr., members of the State Board from the 5th Congressional District and the 3rd Public Service District respectively, and the three Monroe legislators, Senator Jamar Adcock and Representatives Laurence Giggs and Mike John Jr.

Faculty Members Do Advanced Study

Twenty-five members of the Northeast Louisiana State College faculty are enrolled in various colleges and universities for advanced study during the summer session.

Instructors on sabbatical leave and the institutions in which they are registered include: Mrs. Maud Merritt Bentrup, librarian and associate professor of library science, Louisiana State University; Mrs. Era B. Davis, assistant professor of home economics, Texas Women's University; Claude C. Fuller, instructor in speech, Louisiana State University.

Gale T. Gifford, assistant professor of English, University of Texas. Mrs. Mary Gish Harvey, instructor in library science, University of North Carolina; Alva S. Huffman, chairman and professor of health and physical education, George Peabody College for Teachers; Van C. McCraw, instructor in business administration, Louisiana State University; Miss Hazel Mitchell, associate professor of Spanish, Louisiana State University.

Glenn F. Powers, chairman and associate professor of physics, Oklahoma State University; Jack Rowan, assistant professor of health and physical education, athletic director, and head coach, Mississippi College; Miss Gertrude M. Sandrock, assistant professor of music, Louisiana State University; Mrs. Mabel S. Slay, assistant professor of mathematics, University of Mississippi.

Mrs. Eloise C. Stanhope, assistant professor of music, University of Colorado; Jewell Watson, assistant professor of business administration, Indiana University.

Other instructors doing advanced study at the following institutions are Edward B. Anders, instructor in mathematics, Auburn University; Thomas D. Brock, instructor in business administration, University of Alabama; W. C. Buchanan, associate professor of geography, Louisiana State University.

Eloy Fominaya, assistant professor of music, Michigan State University; Beryl C. Franklin, assistant professor of biology, University of Michigan (Atomic Energy Commission and National Science Foundation Institute-radiation biology).

John M. Hicks, instructor in physics, Bucknell University (Engineering Institute, National Science Foundation); Mrs. Louise Gray Lemert, associate professor of English and library science, George Peabody College for Teachers.

Benjamin P. Miller, assistant professor of physics, Texas A&M; Joe Barry Mullins, associate professor of music, University of Illinois; Robert W. Reid, assistant professor of English, University of Arkansas; Lura E. Rogers, instructor in mechanics drawing, Northwestern State College.

Future Students Get Pow Wows

This week's Pow Wow is being mailed to more than 700 students who have requested application forms to enroll in Northeast Louisiana State College in September.

Elsewhere in the Pow Wow will be found the names and home towns of several hundred of these students. The Pow Wow staff wants to welcome these people to Monroe and Northeast State, the fastest growing college in Louisiana.

The staff also wants to thank Dr. Lake Oxford, registrar, for his cooperation in providing the names and addresses of these applicants for admission.

HEY, ROOMIE, I HEAR YOUR FIANCEE FOUND OUT ABOUT YOUR FIANCEE!!!

Gridiron Prospects Are Good At NLSC In 1961

Despite the loss of many fine lettermen, the Northeast Indians should have a good football team in 1961.

The Indians are going to have to depend on their sophomores a great deal in rebuilding their forward wall, and it looms as a big job for Coach Jack Rowan and his assistants.

Lost via graduation were starting ends Charlie Barnes and Larry Ciambelluca, starting tackles Luther

French and Delmas Thorne, regular guard Perry Beaver, and two fine centers Billy McCraw and Gerry Marchbank, to list the more prominent losses in the line.

Barnes and Beaver will join the professionals—Barnes with the Washington Redskins and Beaver with the Green Bay Packers.

Dan Keith, stellar sophomore guard of last year, plans to enter dental school this fall, and Carlyle Williams, letterman end, failed to make the scholastic hurdle.

Backfield departures include triple threat quarterback Pete Vincent, speedster halfback Ferdy Cruce, ace Freshman kicker John Kelly, senior halfbacks Levy Redden and Terry Reeves, and senior fullbacks Terry Head and Edwin Thomas.

Despite these losses, all is not gloom in the Indian camp, for the Redskins went through a fine spring training session.

Returning at end are lettermen Gene Harbert of Bossier City, Tommy Latham of Winnfield, and Jim Love of Monroe.

Back at tackle are lettermen Jim LaCoste of Baton Rouge and Ross Nolan of Monroe.

Lettermen guards returning are Don King of Bossier City, Terry Brunet of New Orleans and Larry Rambin of Shreveport.

The center slot has been bolstered by the transferring of guard letterman Billy Foster of Tallulah and veteran tackle Ben Tatum of Halls, Tenn.

Quarterback returnees are lettermen Don Wattigny of New Orleans and Jack Webb of Baton Rouge.

Halfback speedsters returning are lettermen Al Ott of Gretna, Don Blackwelder of Apopka, Fla., Morris Douglas of Jonesboro, Donnie Brunson of Jonesboro, and Ken Thornhill of Wisner.

Returning fullbacks are lettermen Devone Payne and Willie Ragan, both of Monroe.

These returning lettermen, plus some improved squadmen and some outstanding transfers and fine freshmen, should provide a nucleus that could develop into a strong grid machine.

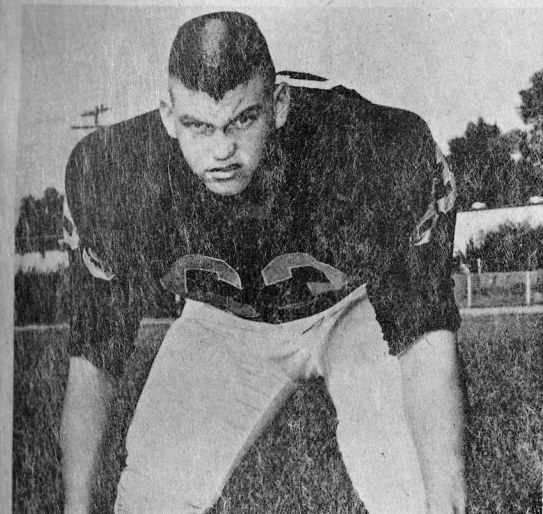

Coach Rowan's charges will play a ten game schedule. Games on tap are the following:

Sept. 16, Mexico Polytechnic in Monroe; Sept. 23, Lamar Tech in Beaumont, Tex.; Sept. 30, East Texas State (Parents' Night) in Monroe.

Oct. 7, Northwestern Louisiana () in Natchitoches; Oct. 14, McNeese State () in Monroe; Oct. 21, Southwestern Louisiana () in Monroe; Oct. 28, University of Southwestern Louisiana () in Shreveport.

Nov. 4, Delta State (Homecoming) in Monroe; Nov. 11, Arlington State in Monroe; Nov. 18, Louisiana Tech (*) in Ruston.

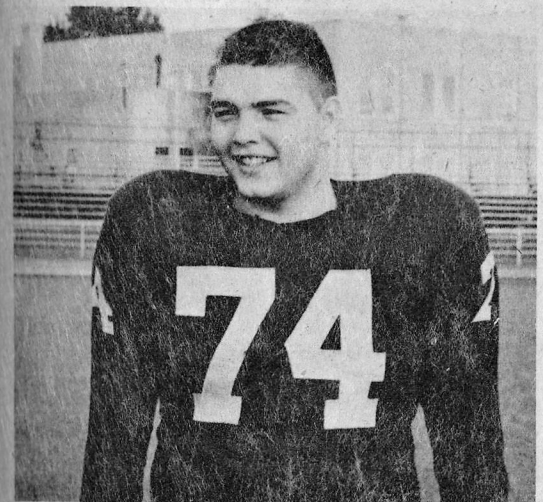

Conference games are indicated by (*). All games are scheduled at 8 p.m.

BILLY FOSTER, veteran guard on Coach Jack Rowan's Indians, was transferred to center during spring drills and, along with the transfer of veteran tackle Bob Tatum to the ball-snapping slot, should provide Northeast with power amidship. A junior from Tallulah, Foster is 6-2 and 220 pounds. Tatum is a 6-1, 220-pounder from Holly Ridge.

QUARTERBACK JACK WEBB of Baton Rouge, shown here preparing to toss a pass, will return in the fall, along with Don Wattigny of New Orleans, to guide the Indians in a ten game schedule which opens in Monroe against Mexico Polytechnic on Sept. 16. Coach Jack Rowan's charges were hard-hit by graduation, but 19 lettermen will be back. And the Indians could go on the war-path.

BIG TACKLE Ross Nolan, letterman from Monroe, will be one of the arrows to spearhead the Indian attack in the 1961 football campaign. Despite many losses in the forward wall, the Redskin barrage should be quite effective. Yet the replacing of scalps will not be easy for Coach Rowan and his staff.

Shreveport Gridster Signs At Northeast

An outstanding Shreveport football player has signed a letter of intent at Northeast Louisiana State College.

An honor graduate of Byrd High School, Dean Mann has joined the NLSC Indian camp, Jack C. Rowan, head football coach and athletic director, has announced.

Mann played halfback on Coach J. D. Cox's 1960 undefeated district championship team at Byrd High. He was selected as a member of the all-city team in Shreveport, all-district, and voted by his teammates as the "Best Back."

His other honors included his being vice-president of the student council, a member of the National Honor Society, Pelican Boy's State, and senior favorite. He retained a B average through high school.

Three Track Stars Sign At Northeast

Three outstanding track men have signed letters of intent to attend Northeast Louisiana State College.

The three are Tommy Edmonston and Woody Pence of Baton Rouge and Ronnie Arceneaux of Lafayette, according to track coach Robert E. Groseclose.

All three have exceptional high school records. Arceneaux tied for the state 3-AAA championship in the pole vault with a leap of 12'11". He won his district meet by vaulting 13'1 1/4". The son of Mrs. R. J. Soares, he attended Lafayette High School. Edmonston and Pence both attended Istruma High School. Edmonston won the 3-AAA meet board jump at 21'5/4", and pole vaulted 12'. He hop-stepped-jumped 44'1 1/2". At the state meet he tied the pole vault at 12'11", tied for second in the broad jump with 21'5/4", and hop-stepped-jumped 44-9.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Edmonston, he was voted as senior class president and the best all-around boy at Istruma.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pence, Pence was well-known for his speed in the sprints. He will major in pharmacy at Northeast State.

THE GOLDEN TOUCH is given to King Midas in this scene from the the superb production of "King Midas of the Golden Touch," the Children's Theatre play given in Strauss Playhouse July 21-24. Shown here are Mrs. Lera Lentz, speech teacher at Ouachita High School, as Cybele the statue, and the Rev. Forest Blount, minister at Lakeshore Methodist Church, as King Midas. George Brian of the Northeast speech department was director. The play was one of a summer series co-sponsored by Northeast State and Monroe Little Theatre.

'King Midas' Was Best Children's Theatre Play

By Carole Durham
"King Midas of the Golden Touch" was one of the best presentations ever given here in the Little Theatre. Concluded Monday night in Strauss Playhouse, the production offered acting that was near perfection, and the handling of special sound and lighting effects would do justice to Broadway lime-lights.

The local cast performed with accuracy and precision, without faulty dialogue or other stage miscues. The Rev. Forest Blount's melodious voice resounded with a pleasing vitality as he portrayed King Midas.

And the children performed with such ease and grace as to remind this reviewer of professionally trained show people. They were Susan Martin as Princess Tyra, Marion Calkin as Hotep, Kathy Lawn as Alcina, and Ann Brown as Perdixia.

Miss Murray Burfford, a speech major at Northeast State, rendered a flawless presentation of Lady Marsya. Northeast student W. J. Haddad, who plans for a career in acting, provided a typically outstanding performance—one that demands attention from national theatre critics. Recently he was a sailor in the Little Theatre production of "Mr. Roberts," and his role in "King Midas" only accentuated the depth of talent possessed by this young man.

How can a person sit perfectly still for hours? Well, Mrs. Lera Lentz, as Cybele the statue, must have practiced yoga, for she remained motionless per her role in an unbelievable manner. Her portrayal of Cybele could not have been done better.

The story centered around the tale of King Midas's turning everything into gold by the mere touch of his hand. Naturally, this had to happen in the local production. And the stage technicians actually were able to have this happen in the local production. This feat of trickery cannot be commended too highly.

And the King had a special pool which played music when he put his hand into the water. This the technicians provided, and their entire handling of sound effects throughout the play was excellent.

The play was directed by George Brian of the Northeast speech department. It was co-sponsored by Northeast State and the Monroe Little Theatre.

Final judgment: George Brian and the Children's Theatre presented a near perfect play—one that demands their talents be utilized for future productions. Yet even they will have difficulty ever presenting another play equal to the presentation of "King Midas of the Golden Touch."

Summer Theatre Workshop Has Seen Big Success At Northeast

A Summer Theatre Workshop for teachers, community theatre directors, students of speech and drama, and others interested in theatrical productions is among the special events offered at Northeast Louisiana State College during the current summer session. It has been a tremendous success.

The Workshop was scheduled from June 6 through August 10 with registration at Northeast on June 6. The program features concentrated study in the theatre arts with college credit courses in children's theatre, play production, stagecraft, stage lighting, rehearsal and productions.

Richard Clark, executive director of the Monroe Little Theatre, and George Brian, associate professor of speech and director of dramatics at Northeast, have conducted the workshop and directed the plays.

The workshop utilizes the facilities of the recently completed Strauss Playhouse which is the new home of the Monroe Little Theatre. The Strauss Playhouse is completely air-conditioned and equipped with modern stage and lighting facilities.

'Nurses Are Urgently Needed In Louisiana,' Says Gallagher

"Many registered nurses are needed in Louisiana now," Dr. Anna H. Giordana Gallagher, director of the Department of Nursing at Northeast Louisiana State College, emphasized in an interview this morning.

Only about 7,270 licensed nurses live in the state, and only about 5,841 of these are working now, Dr. Gallagher added.

With hospitals continuously adding new wings and with additional hospitals being built all the time, the need increases each year.

And the Northeast State Department of Nursing was established by the State Board of Education on February 2, 1960, to help ease the shortage of nurses.

During the first school year, 1960-61, Northeast had 44 majors in nursing and has 26 majors during the summer session. The summer session figures include 18 sophomores and eight freshmen, including one man.

Although schools of nursing traditionally prohibit admittance of men and married women, the Northeast program is open to married and single men and women.

In addition to being approved by the Louisiana State Board of Nurse Examiners, the NLSC department is an agency member of the Department of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs of the National League for Nursing.

The department uses the facilities of two Monroe hospitals: the St. Francis, a private hospital, and E. A.

Conway Memorial Hospital, a state-supported institution.

In addition, the department works with the Ouachita Parish Health Unit and with other area units in providing field instruction in public health nursing and with a state-supported mental hospital in providing educational experiences in psychiatric nursing.

College faculty members provide all the instruction on the campus and in the clinical areas.

Open to qualified high school graduates, the NLSC Department of Nursing prepares registered nurses for first level administrative and staff positions in all areas of nursing, including public health.

Upon successful completion of the program at Northeast, candidates receive the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree and are qualified to take the state examination to become registered nurses.

Necessary expenses for one semester for a student living on campus at Northeast are approximately $275, including room, board, book costs, registration and other fees.

Applications for admission should be filed as early as possible with the Director of Admissions, for applications are considered in the order received.

In Art Education Workshop Forty-Four Were Enrolled

Forty-four teachers from local public schools and art and elementary majors at Northeast Louisiana State College attended a three-day workshop which started Monday at the College.

The workshop was conducted by Mrs. Jewel Bishop, visiting consultant, who has taught extensively and holds the master's degree from George Peabody College.

The teachers studied techniques that included some of the uses of water colors, poster paints, finger paints, colored chalks, modeling clay, and crayons.

Teachers who attended and their home towns are, from Monroe: Anne Adams, Ruth Ann Boggs, Ruby Colbert, Alice David, Gloria Donnell, Mary Gordy, Janice Hanchey, Lou Harvey, Donnavae Hughes, Thelma Kilpatrick, Carl King, Patricia King, Jerve Ross, Evelyn Senn, Monte Smith, Vera Speece, Sarah H. Taylor, and Jhnette Ward.

Workshop Announced At Northeast State

MONROE, La.—A workshop of primary interest to teachers of the mentally retarded will be held Aug. 21 through Sept. 1 at Northeast Louisiana State College.

Dr. James D. Beaber, nationally recognized in the field of special education, will be guest lecturer throughout the workshop, Dr. Levelle Hynes, center director, has announced.

Dr. Beaber is coordinator of special education at the University of Virginia. He is also a consultant to the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation in the Department of Health Education and Welfare, as well as consultant to the Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center.

Willis Knight, coordinator for the workshop and educational consultant at the Center, has stated that the program will be of particular importance to the teachers of special education classes and to students preparing for such positions.

The registration fee will be $10, and the course will be counted as graduate or undergraduate credit.

Enrollment will be limited. Persons wishing to apply should contact Mr. Knight at the Special Education Center at Northeast State.

Registration for the workshop will be at 7 a.m., Monday, August 21, in Room 100 of Stubbs Hall.

Staff Offers Sympathy To Pow Wow Editor
