'Redskins' Features Top Entertainment

Top-drawer entertainment was offered last night and will be offered again tonight when "Redskins on Parade," variety show, concludes its annual edition, according to Kirby Mooney, chairman of the current production.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

Fun and showmanship comes from all branches of the campus for the performance, the chairman said.

Tonight's program is varied enough to entertain almost anyone, the "Redskins" committee declared. There will be the girls' chorus line, dance numbers interspersing other attractions, singing groups, skits and the Northeast Jazz Ensemble, directed by Del Sawyer, assistant professor of music and faculty advisor for the show.

SKITS

Skits will include Phi Mu's version of "Lil Liza Jane," Phi Delta Chi's take-off on daily happenings at Northeast in a "You Are There" type setting, Alpha Omicron Pi will present a melodramatic skit set to a new beat, and the Veterans' Club will present a rickering minstrel, which bids to delight the audience.

A novelty tap dancing routine and a football players' ballet are receiving fine response at rehearsals.

LeRoy McHenry will be featured as a guitar soloist, and Charles Cagle and George Owen will offer vocal numbers.

The Jazz Ensemble will give full force to "Redskins." The musicians will be playing, among other numbers, an overture and an opening selection written especially for the show by Alf Bartels, a well known jazz composer from New York. He also wrote the music for the chorus line.

OTHER MUSIC

All other music for the performance has been written and arranged by Ray Carroll, senior composition

Fun Day Planned For Mothers Of Resident Women

Mothers of resident women at Northeast will return to school tomorrow and Sunday for a fun-filled schedule of activities, including a style show, reception, an over-night stay in a dormitory, and a Sunday morning breakfast.

They also may look forward to tomorrow night serenades by Circle K Club, men's leadership organization. The Week-end is being sponsored by the Council of Resident Women Students, Miss Alma Lufey, counselor to women, announced.

The affair will be the first of what the organization hopes to make an annual event. Whether or not this becomes a reality depends upon this initial program, Miss Lufey said.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Sharing a big part of the council's responsibilities are Martha Stockstill of St. Joseph, president of Cosper Hall; Shirley Gary, of Sulphur, president of Harris Hall, and Sandra Johnson of Fairbanks, representative of the Panhellenic House.

Official activities will begin with the style show tomorrow at 3 p.m. in Cuddy Dining Hall. Sixteen coeds will model clothing appropriate for the various activities that may occur major and trumpet soloist with the Jazz Ensemble.

Curtis Rape, choreographer, has appeared in several Little Theatre productions, "South Pacific," recent Northeast Production, and in last season's "Redskins."

Contracts Given For Furnishings Of New Buildings

Bids will be opened on Garrett Hall next week in the purchasing agent's office in Stubbs Hall, dean of administration James M. Nicholson announced yesterday. The building will house the department of biology and geology.

The building will be located on College Avenue and Hippolyte Streets.

Plans and specifications of building construction are available through the associated architects, Joseph P. Schierer, Shreveport, and Herbert H. Land Jr., Monroe.

BIDS

Bids also will be received on the same date for movable furniture and equipment for Garrett Hall. Plans and specifications are available through the purchasing agent's office.

The new biology-geology building will be a two-story, completely air-conditioned structure, which is anticipated for occupancy by January, 1962.

In addition to two departmental offices, the building will house eleven faculty offices, each provided with research facilities.

The building will include three classrooms, seven biology laboratories, eight storerooms, a map and equipment room for geology, a constant temperature room, darkroom, low temperature room, and a bacteriological preparation room.

DISPLAY AREA

A unique display area, circular in design, will provide space for a natural history museum. Adjoining this area will be a workroom for preparation of museum specimens.

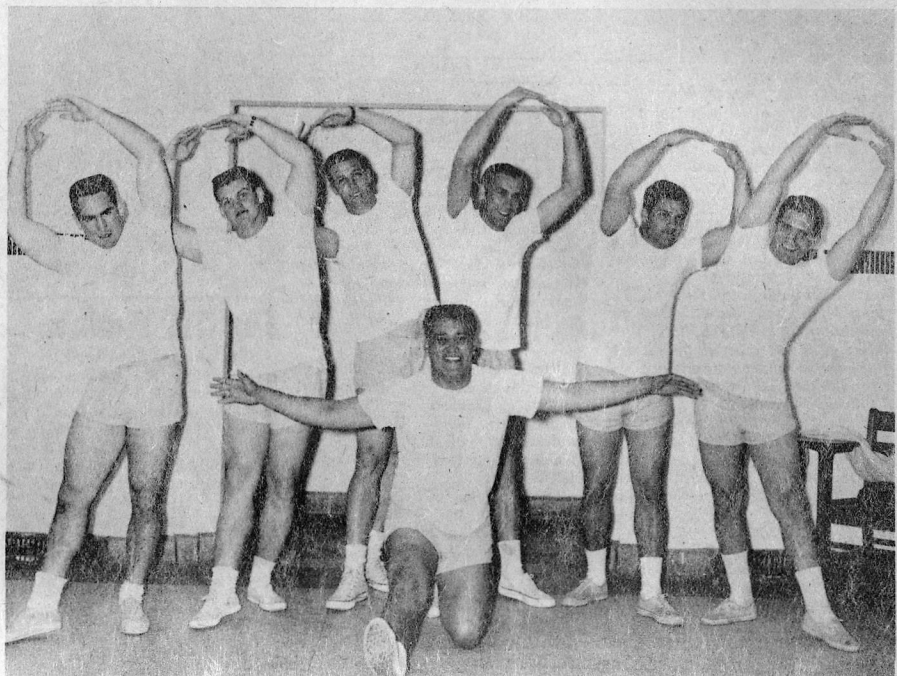

Plans are to exhibit biological and geological specimens in their natural settings and to provide a system whereby displays will be changed frequently. The museum will be the only one of its kind in this area and will be available to the public as well as faculty and students at Northeast.

Student Council Notified Of Admission Into Southern Student Gov't Association

The Northeast Student Council has been accepted for membership in the Southern Universities Student Government Association. Official notification of acceptance of the college came in a letter from Administrative Secretary Herb F. Reinhard of Alabama's Auburn University.

The same letter said that Dr. Fred J. Vogel, dean of student services, would be a consultant for one of the panels at this year's conference of the eight-state organization.

To become a member of SUSGA a college or university must first be invited to do so. The school must then apply for admission into the organization; all member schools then vote to approve the application. Final approval is made by the executive council of the state in which the school is located.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT
The local student government applied for admission into SUSGA on a recommendation from three Council members who visited last year's annual conference in Hattiesburg, Miss. The three, W. J. "Cerry" Marchbank, William Street and Joyce YelDell, were re-elected to the Student Council in last spring's election; Marchbank, as president.

"We very definitely feel that our government will benefit from its association with SUSGA. It will enable us to get a better insight into problems of student government and solutions to those problems," Marchbank commented.

Plans to send delegates to the Eighth Annual Conference at Florida State University are incomplete, Marchbank said, but added that the Council hopes to send several members.

MEETING
The meeting at Tallahassee is scheduled for April 27-29. The conference committee anticipates 400 student delegates from the 35 member schools, an information bulletin from SUSGA reports. Louisiana has six member-schools, with the admission of Northeast as a member.

This year's conference is scheduled to feature 13 panel discussions of student government interest, a breakfast for student body presidents and consultants for various government problems.

Entertainment is to include Herb Shriner, the Limelights, the Pete Fountain Jazz Quartet and a special showing of the Florida State University Circus.

Dr. Walter Saucier To Be Featured at Area Science Fair

Dr. Walter J. Saucier, professor of meteorology at the University of Oklahoma, will be guest lecturer at the Region 3 Science Fair scheduled here today and tomorrow.

Director of the Fair is Edward C. Whatley, associate professor of biology.

EXHIBITS
Exhibits for this year's Fair will be judged by personnel such as chemists, engineers, and geologists as well as members of the college science faculty.

L. L. Price, head of the agriculture and home economics department is chairman of the judging committee.

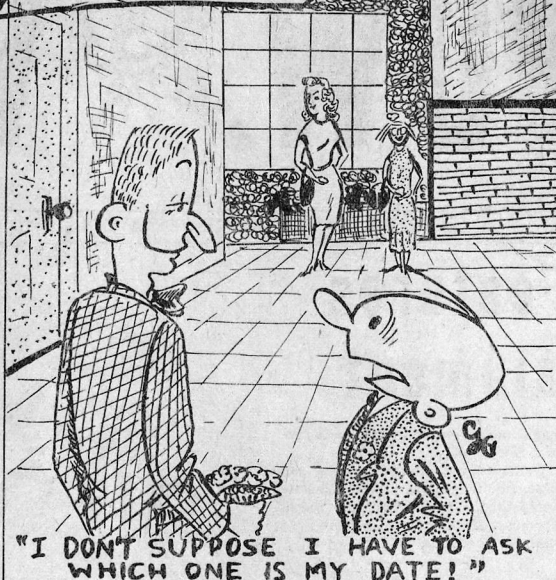

Regional Fair winners here will also be eligible to enter the state fair on April 7-9 in Alexandria. Regulations permit twenty-one entries from the senior division and six from the junior section in state competition.

SPEAKER
The speaker will lecture in the college junior and senior division for students in chemistry at 2 p.m. this afternoon in Stubbs Hall 239, to students in math at 2:30, and to students in geology at 3 in Stubbs Hall 230.

Tomorrow he will speak to the various high school teachers and students attending the Fair at 11 a.m. in Stubbs Hall 100.

Saucier's specialties have been meteorological education and analytical meteorology. He has been a principal investigator in the analysis and forecasting of wind field near the Tropopause at Texas A & M Research Foundation. In 1959, he was a visiting lecturer in Meteorology and atmospheric sciences, sponsored by National Science Foundation Grant and administered by American Meteorological Society.

Northeast Thinclads Win Triangular Meet

The Northeast track team "broke the habit" last Saturday when they took first place honors at the triangular meet in Brown Stadium, scoring 90 points to La. Tech's 74 and McNeese's 17.

After taking third place positions

Cherie Martin, Pineville high school student will perform in a twirling routine tomorrow night during half-time activities. She is state champion twirler.

in their first three meets, the Indians came out on top last week, jumping into an early Gulf States Conference lead.

Buddy Eiland, Hoy Rogers and Owen Owen led the team with two first place honors apiece. Eiland won the mile and two-mile run with times of 4:18.5 and 9:44.8, in that order. Rogers broke two CSC records in the short put and discus; he heaved the shot put 51.5% and the discus 171.4. Owen won the board jump with a 21.9% leap and the low hurdles with a time of 26.1.

In team scoring the Indian's 4:40 relay team consisting of Jim Glass, John Baker, Randall Walker and Jim Mouser, copped first place with a 42.7 time.

John Pennel, who had previously suffered from a broken ankle, let the fans know that he was fine when he won first in the pole vault, clearing the bar at 13 feet.

The "old reliable", Pat Garret, was the big man for Tech, winning the 100-yd dash, the 220-yd dash and contributing favorably in the relays. His teammate, Joe Cage, taught everyone how the javelin was thrown, when he heaved it 204' 5 1/2".

McNeese could only finish second in the 100, 880 and 220 without their distance ace, Fred Norris.

Do all Air Force Officers have Wings?

Decidedly not. In fact most executive jobs are on the ground. Of course, all officers may apply for pilot and navigator training if they meet the eligibility requirements. There will always be a need for piloted aircraft. And it is foreseeable that in your working lifetime, there will be piloted spacecraft—piloted and navigated by Air Force officers.

But right now, there is also a big future for college-trained Air Force officers on the ground. New and exciting technical jobs are opening up. Important administrative positions must be filled as World War II officers move into retirement.

How can you—a college student—become an Air Force officer? First, there's Air Force ROTC. Then for college graduates, men and women in certain fields, there is Officer Training School. The graduate of its three-month course wins a commission as a second lieutenant. Other ways are the Navigator Training program, and the Air Force Academy.

Some benefits that go with being an Air Force officer. Starting salary plus allowances compare with the average in equivalent civilian jobs. Then there's free medical and dental care, thirty-day vacation, the chance to win graduate degrees at Air Force expense, and liberal retirement provisions.

No, Air Force officers do not need wings to move up. There's plenty doing on the ground. Perhaps you could be one of these young executives in blue. Ask your local Air Force Recruiter. Or write, Officer Career Information, Dept. SC13, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.

Landry Family Represents Japan, Germany, U.S.A.

Lt. Col. Howard P. Landry, former professor of military science at Northeast, has a very unique family. He has three daughters, all born in different countries.

Marlene, a sophomore at NLSC, was born in Houma. When she was to months old, her father was called into the U. S. Army as a reserve officer. Marlene began her education in Osaka, Japan, but later returned to Houma where she attended high school. The family moved once more, this time to Monroe where Marlene graduated from St. Matthews Parochial School.

Another daughter, Lauralyn, was born in Osaka during Colonel Landry's tour of duty there. She later began her education in France and is presently attending school in Monroe.

Michele, the youngest of the trio, probably has had the most unusual experience of all. The Landry family was stationed in France, but due to a lack of hospital facilities, Mrs. Landry was taken to Frankfurt, Germany, where Michele was born. After Mrs. Landry returned to France with her new daughter, Michele had the experience of being the first American to be baptised in the same baptismal font as St. Joan of Arc, which is located in Domremy, France.

Michele also is attending school in Monroe.
