Land Located Across Bayou From NLSC

The purchase of 60 acres of land across Bayou DeSiard to double the campus of Northeast State College has been approved by the State Bond and Building Commission in Baton Rouge.

Sen. Jamar Adcock of Monroe was advised by the commission, of which Gov. Jimmie H. Davis is the head, that the purchase was subject to the approval of the State Board of Education.

The commission voted to spend some $35,000 for the land, which is located just across the bayou from Northeast.

Adcock said that he thought that the approval was "just a matter of formality." "If the State Board of Education approved this, we'll need about 25 more acres, which is what we actually asked for, but that'll have to come in time," Adcock said.

The State Board of Education failed to approve or reject the purchase of 60 acres of land across Bayou DeSiard from the Northeast State College campus.

State Sen. Jamar Adcock said that the purchase was just as good as passed since the State Board had no objection to the purchase.

Three parcels valued at $102,000 were eliminated from the planned purchases to expand the campus by the commission.

One of the reasons behind the expansion program is that Northeast has quadrupled in enrollment during a ten-year period. The present en-

NLSC Students To Participate In "Parents Day"

Foster Parents Day will once again be held at Northeast State College this Christmas.

The day will be Wednesday, Dec. 12, with the children up for the day-long adoption from the Baptist Children's Home in Monroe.

Interested couples should sign up for one of the children in Dean Vogel's office on Monday or Tuesday, Dec. 10 and 11. They may also gain further information on the program about where and when to pick up the children.

As the number of children up for adoption this year is limited, interested students should come early as there is expected to be a great demand for the children available.

The program is under the direction of a special committee of the Student Government Association. Heading the committee is Tommy Graves. Committee members are Grace Cascio, Milton Platt, Melvin Rambin, and Dean Mann.

CARNIVAL, the Broadway play to be presented at Neville High School on Dec. 10, will open the concerts season. The play, written by Michael Steward and based on material by Helen Deutsch, is being sponsored by the Northeast State Concerts Association.

Editorials

Most of the students at Northeast have never known the life of a child who has never had a home, with his real mother and father. This is not the case for many children in the country today. Many times we seem to think that these children are not right here at home. This is not true, however, for we have many such children right here in Monroe.

Each year the Student Government Association sponsors a Foster Parents Day in order to let the students share the Christmas joy with those who do not have it so good as they do. In the program, couples at Northeast sign up to take one child for a day and act as his parents. They buy the child a gift and present it to him, or her, at the Christmas party, featuring Santa Claus.

In the past, the program has been accepted at the college and has gone very well in that the demand for children has been greater than the supply of children. The students who participate in the program enjoy the day much more than those who just sit back and watch. It also gives a warm inward feeling in that they know that they have made someone happy and shown him some love and feeling that just has to go with the Christmas season.

With the demand constantly increasing for the children, the Student Government is having to seek out new sources of children. The Welfare Department in Monroe and several other organizations who work for the underprivileged children in our land, have been asked to participate but are unable to do so this year.

Let's make this year's program the largest and best ever and give the children the best Christmas they have ever had. It will not depend on how much you pay for gifts, but on the amount of love you show. Is it asking too much to make a child happy for one day?

HAPPY TALK

As we all know, conversation is terribly important on a date. When lulls in the conversation run longer than an hour or two, one's partner is inclined to grow logy—even sulen. But occasionally one finds it difficult to keep the talk going, especially when one is having a first date with one. What, then, does one do?

If one is wise, one follows the brilliant example of Harlow Thurlow.

Harlow Thurlow prepares. That is his simple secret. When Harlow is going to take out a new girl, he makes sure in advance that the conversation will not languish. Before the date, he goes to the library and reads all 24 volumes of the encyclopedia and transcribes their contents on his cuffs. Thus he makes sure that no matter what his date's interests are, he will have ample material to keep the conversation alive.

Take, for example, Harlow's first date with Priscilla de Gasser, a fine, strapping, blue-eyed broth of a girl, lavishly constructed and rosy as the dawn.

Harlow was, as always, prepared when he called for Priscilla, and, as always, he did not start to converse immediately. First he took her to dinner because, as everyone knows, it is useless to try to make conversation with an unfed coed. Her attention span is negligible. Also, her stomach rumbles so loud it is difficult to make yourself heard.

"Wash your cuffs and be my love!"

So he took her to a fine steak house where he stoked her with gobbits of Black Angus and mounds of French fries and thickets of escarole and battalions of petit fours. Then, at last, dinner was over and the waiter brought two finger bowls.

"I hope you enjoyed your dinner, my dear," said Harlow, dipping into his finger bowl.

"Oh, it was grandy-dandy!" said Priscilla. "Now let's go someplace for ribs."

"Later, perhaps," said Harlow. "But right now, I thought we might have a conversation."

"Oh, goody, goody, two-shoes!" cried Priscilla. "I been looking everywhere for a boy who can carry on an intelligent conversation."

"Your search is ended, madam," said Harlow, and pulled back his sleeves and looked at his cuffs to pick a likely topic to start the conversation.

Oh, woe! Oh, lackaday! Those cuffs on which Harlow had painstakingly transcribed so many facts—those cuffs on which he had noted such diverse and fascinating information—those cuffs, I say, were nothing now but a big, blue blur! For Harlow—poor Harlow!—splashing around in the finger bowl, had gotten his cuffs wet and the ink had run and not one word was legible! And Harlow—poor Harlow!—looked upon his cuffs and broke out in a night sweat and fell dumb.

"I must say," said Priscilla after several silent hours, "that you are a very dull fellow. I'm leaving."

With that she flounced away and poor Harlow was too crushed to protest. Sadly he sat and sadly lit a cigarette.

All of a sudden Priscilla came rushing back. "Was that," she asked, "a Marlboro you just lit?"

"Yes," said Harlow.

"Then you are not a dull fellow," she cried, and sprang into his lap. "You are bright! Anybody is bright to smoke such a perfect joy of a cigarette as Marlboro which is just chock full of yummy flavor, which has a Selectrate filter which comes in a soft pack that is really soft, and a Flip-Top Box that really flips, and which can be bought wherever cigarettes are sold in all fifty states and Duluth . . . Harlow, tiger, wash your cuffs and be my love."

"Okay," said Harlow, and did, and was.

LITERATURE

In his best novel to date, Irving Stone shows his genius in full form with THE AGONY AND THE ECSTASY. In this stirring description of Michelangelo, Stone has created a masterpiece of modern literature paralleled by few authors in the last decade.

Again, as in LOVE IS ETERNAL, Irving Stone displays his amazing ability to take historical facts and tell them interestingly and yet accurately. Another outstanding characteristic of this book is the development of the main character, Michelangelo. Stone does a truly excellent job in showing the real personality of his subject and the personal drives that made Michelangelo the greatest sculpturer that has ever lived.

MUSIC

After a resounding success with his first volume of MODERN SOUNDS IN COUNTRY AND WESTERN MUSIC, Ray Charles has recorded the second volume and it seems to be going strong for him now. It features arrangements personally directed by Charles and also the singing group, the Raellettes. Volume Two of Modern Sounds in Country and Western Music includes some old favorites such as Your Cheating Heart, You Are My Sunshine, No Letter Today, Midnight and many other past hits of this area of music.

Although this album is another display of Ray Charles' fine talent, it is not as good as Volume One. Ray has lost the touch of variety in this try for another million dollar seller album like Volume One. However, I recommend this album to those of you who like the easy going mood set by The Genius, Ray Charles.

Most of us have a knowledge of famous American literature from the past; however, it is quite surprising to me that there are so few NLSC students who are familiar with the literature being contributed in our country today.

It is true that most of these writings cannot compare with the classics, but much of it is excellent. Even if you do not like what you read from contemporary American authors (and much of it you won't), you should definitely be acquainted with it because it is the modern literary environment of your country.

One particular example that I recommend in this area is a poem entitled, "Narcissus Unbound." This poem by William Dickey, a new poet who has a fresh view of humor and

NLSC Student's Poem Selected For Anthology

Mrs. Cynthia Mercer, sophomore student majoring in Chemistry Education, has been notified by the Board of Judges of the Annual Anthology of College Poetry that her poem "Secret Sorrow" has been selected to be published in the anthology.

According to the letter informing her of her accomplishment, "The Anthology is a compilation of the finest poetry written by college men and women of America, representing every state in the country. Selections were made from thousands of poems submitted."

Mrs. Mercer is the wife of Stanley Mercer of 4009 Spurgeon Dr., Monroe, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Kenton of Hebert, La.

rollment now stands at 3,315.

Under the plan approved by the commission, Hippolite Street on the Northeast campus would be extended across the bayou and run through what is now residential property. The 60 acres under consideration is now owned by numerous persons.

Brown Stadium would be torn down to make room for new academic buildings and the entire athletic plant would be moved across the bayou. The new plant would include a new football stadium.

The Northeast campus presently consists of only 52 acres, but the college is one of the fastest growing state-supported colleges in Louisiana.

The commission's approval climaxed several months of study that began when Northeast President George T. Walker first requested $400,000 for additional land.

"The board of education has been in on the plans from the beginning and I am almost confident that the property will be approved," Adcock said.

Two possible routes of expansion for the college were under consideration by state officials. One being the tract across the bayou and the other being the Sherrouse tract across U. S. Highway 80 from the campus.

The highway was feared to be dangerous to students in attempting to cross, according to the Adcock.

"Across Bayou DeSiard was the only way," said Adcock.

Adcock said that he and the two local representatives, Lawrence Gibbs and Mike John, Jr., both of Monroe, hoped that the proposed purchase would be approved so that the college could be expanded.

"Lawrence, Mike, and I have worked closely with Dr. Walker at Northeast in hopes that the college would have a place to go in the future," he said.

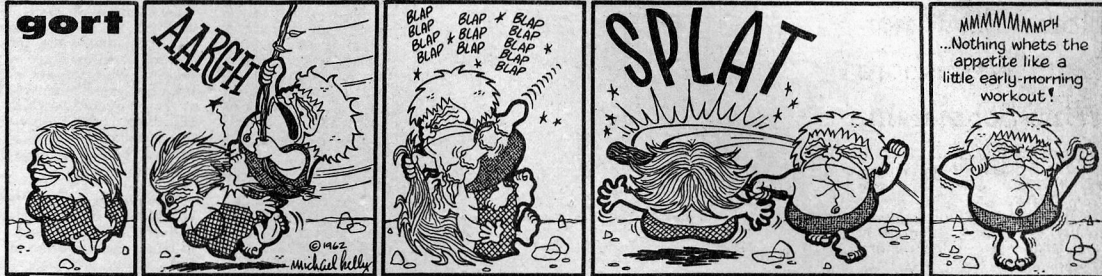

Engineer Lester High was retained by the state to conduct studies on the properties while realtor Gilbert Faulk, both of Monroe, made the property appraisals.

Pall Mall Presents - GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

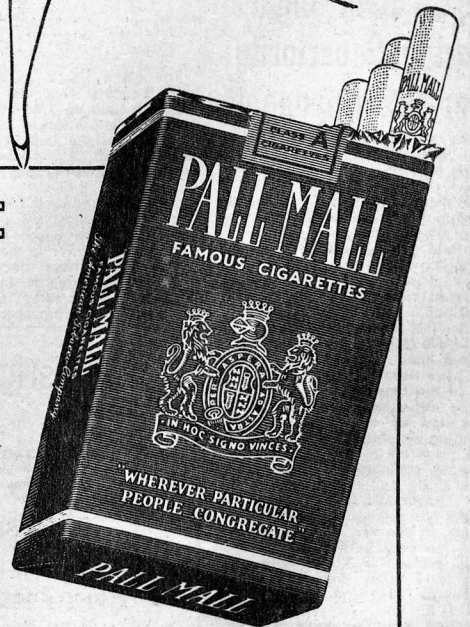

CAMPUS TYPE IV

The natural habitat of the Cupcake is the Home Economics kitchen. She believes, as her mother did, that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. While this viewpoint might be considered unsophisticated by many of today's more enlightened male students, none of them has ever been known to turn down a tin of her Fudge-Frosted Nut-Filled Brownies. She really has a way with a dish and, as you can see, she's quite a dish herself.

Just as the Cupcake has found the perfect recipe for Frosted Brownies, the makers of Pall Mall have found the perfect recipe for a delicious smoke. Taste Pall Mall's natural mildness and see what we mean.

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!

Indians Battle SEC Champs Tomorrow

Maroons Rule As Favorites Over Smaller Northeast Five

Northeast cagers return tomorrow night to host defending Southeastern Conference champion Mississippi State, and for the first time this season, the Indians will be definite underdogs.

Tomorrow night's battle is slated to get underway at 7:30 in Brown Gymnasium.

In Mississippi State, the Indians will be facing last year's fourth-ranked quintet in the nation, and the Maroons are rated just as strong this season. Four starters are returning from last year's team which compiled a 24-1 overall record and 13-1 SEC slate. State's only loss was to Vanderbilt, 100-86, in the Maroons' second conference encounter of the season.

Among the four starters returning are all-SEC choices Leland Mitchell and W. D. "Red" Stroud. In addition to being named to the all conference five, Stroud was also selected as the SEC's Most Valuable Player.

Back from last year's roster also are the team's top six scorers. Heading this list are Mitchell with a 16.6 point average, Stroud with 15.9, and Joe Dan Gold with 13.1. The other two starters this year, Doug Hutton and Bobby Shows, scored at a rate of 9.5 and 5.8 points per game last year.

The only starter gone is Jack Berkshire, and his replacement Hutton was last year's field goal percentage leader for State. Hutton, a 5-10 junior, hit on 48.1 percent of his shots from the field last season.

Mississippi State is coached by Babe McCarthy, who, in seven years at State, has compiled 128 victories against only 46 defeats, a .736 winning percentage.

Northeast threw up a stiff battle in Starkville, Miss., last year before falling, 89-79, in the first meeting ever between the two schools.

The Indians' chances tomorrow night will rely heavily on the team's five starters and ace reserve Irby Gamble. Through the Indians' first six games this year, all five starters are averaging over 10 points a game.

One definite disadvantage the Indians will be up against will be State's towering height. Hutton is the only starter under 6-1. Of the other four State starters, Stroud stands 6-1, Mitchell is 6-4, Gold is 6-5, and Shows is a gigantic 6-7.

In comparison, Northeast's tallest cager is Robert Cook at 6-5. Jimmy Walker is 6-4, Milton Linder is 6-3, and Jerry Salley and Stuart Toms are 5-11.

A capacity crowd is expected to be on hand tomorrow night to watch the two defending conference champs battle.

Tribe Trounces Lamar; Loses To Delta

Northeast's basketballers pulled opposite maneuvers this past week, first by trouncing Lamar Tech at home, 79-62, and then by being trampled in Cleveland, Miss., by Delta State, 101-76.

In the Lamar contest, the Indians were down 32-31 at halftime but unleashed a blazing second-half attack to completely outclass the taller Cardinals.

However, three nights later Delta put the shoe on the other foot. Northeast held a 38-37 edge at the intermission, but the Statesmen took advantage of a big height bulge and outshot, outrebounded, and outplayed the Tribe in the second half to hand the Monroe school its worst beating of the season.

This was only the second loss for the Indians, who now have a 4-2 record, going into tomorrow's home contest against defending Southeastern Conference champion Mississippi State.

Against Lamar the Indians' front line of Robert Cook, Jimmy Walker and Milton Linder combined for 61 points to pace the victory.

Enjoying his finest night as a collegian, Cook scored 24 points to lead both teams while Walker had 23 and Linder 14. In addition, guard Jerry Salley chipped in with 10 points to complete the rout.

For Lamar Don Bryson led the way with 19 points, followed by Don Heller and Richard Smith with 14.

In the rebounding department Cook set a new season's high for the Indians with 19 grabs, while Walker snagged 12. Bryson had 14 caroms for the Beaumont, Tex., school.

Cagers Hold Slight Scoring Superiority Over Six Opponents

With six games already under their belts, Northeast's cagers are scoring at a rate of 72.8 points per game.

On the other hand, the Indians' six opponents have tallied an average of 71.3 points per contest.

In field goal percentage the Tribe is lagging somewhat, scoring on only 41.6 percent of their shots, as compared to 44.5 percent of the opposition.

From the free throw line the Indians have cashed in on 70.9 percent of their attempts, while the opponents have been successful 70.7 percent of the time.

One department which is being dominated by the Redskins is rebounding. In this category Tribesmen have garnered in 45.3 rebounds per game as compared to the opposition's 41.2.

In individual statistics all five starters are averaging in the double figures in scoring. Jimmy Walker leads the way with 15.3 points a game, followed by Robert Cook with 12.3, Jerry Salley with 12.2, Stuart Toms with 12.0 and Milton Linder with 11.5.

Walker heads the field goal percentage leaders, connecting on 53.2 percent of his shots; and Salley is tops in free throws with an 80.6 percent on 25 of 31 attempts.

Cook is the rebound leader, grabbing an average of 12.5 caroms per game.

In the Delta State game the Indians subdued to a new offense being employed at Delta by new head coach Jim Murrell. Pivotalman Jerry Smith sparked the Statesmen win with a 30-point output. Phil Mauney tallied 17 for second place honors, and last year's leading scorer Jay Boland chipped in with 14.

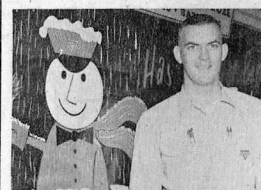

For the losing Indians Stuart Toms turned in his best game of the season, scoring 22 points. Toms was followed by Linder with 14, Walker with 11, and Cook and Salley with 10.

The Indians were hampered considerably in the second half after losing Cook and Walker. Cook had to leave the game midway of the second half when he suffered a cut on his head. Walker left the game by virtue of the foul route, as did Toms.

The 101 points scored against the Tribe were the most since late in the 1960-61 campaign when Southwestern scored the same number. Northeast went into Monday's game with a defensive average of 65.4 points per game.

The big factor in Delta's decisive victory was board supremacy. The Statesmen were one of the few teams in the past two seasons to haul down more rebounds than the Indians.

NORTHEAST STATE'S cross country team, which finished fifth in the Gulf States Conference meet last Saturday, is shown above. CROSS COUNTRY

Robinson Wins Individual Crown; Northwestern Takes Team Title

Southwestern's British import Malcolm Robinson sped to the individual championship, while Northwestern placed three men in the first five finishers to cop team honors here Saturday in the annual Gulf States Conference cross country run at Forsyth Park.

Robinson trailed Northwestern's English star Wade Cooper at the midway point on the three-mile course, but poured on a blazing burst of speed in the stretch to take the first place trophy going away. Robinson's time was 15:30.7, while Cooper was clocked in 15:36.

Far behind the two leaders came Southwestern's Dan Fuselier, followed by a pair of Northwestern runners, Jerry McGraw and Paul Simmons.

In winning the championship, Northwestern replaced host Northeast as the king of GSC cross country. The Indians, paced by the now-graduated Buddy Eiland, had won the title for the past two seasons, and this year's fifth place finish marked the first time the Indians have ever finished lower than second. The Tribe began cross country competition in 1957, finishing a surprising second in their first season.

Indians in the race, John Baker and Charles Golightly, did not finish high enough to count in the scoring.

Ineichen put on the best stretch run of any Redskin in the race. With about 50 yards remaining, the Rayville product and Northwestern's Pat Delouise were side by side; however, Ineichen blazed across the finish line to nip the Natchitoches runner by three seconds.

Northwestern's winning point total of 42 outdistanced second-place Louisiana Tech's 62 and third-place Southwestern's 64. The second division was composed of Southeastern with 74, Northeast with 112, and McNeese with 160.

Although Tech did not place a man in the top five, the Ruston crew cut their point total considerably by having three men in the first ten. Techsters finishing among the top ten were Allen Laird, sixth; Jerry Laird, ninth; and Frank Bright, 10th.

Although Robinson and Fuselier were first and third, Southwestern was dropped into the third slot since their next three finishers were in the 19th, 20th, and 21st positions.

Southeastern's fourth place finish was aided by fine runs by Tom Daughdrill and Myron Brady. Daughdrill finished in the seventh position and Brady was eighth.

The first five finishers in the run were awarded gold medals; the next five received silver medals; and the third quintet received bronze medals.

George Abbott was the first Indian to cross the finish line. Abbott's 12th place finish was followed by Dave Hankins in 16th, Bill Smith in 24th, Tom Brown in 29th, and Lee Ineichen in 31st. The other two

NSC Leads In All-Sports Race

By winning the cross country run last Saturday, Northwestern took a big lead in the battle for the Gulf States Conference all-sports trophy which will be awarded at the close of the spring sports season. After two championships have been decided, the Demons hold 12 eastern and Louisiana Tech.

Points are figured on the basis of six points for a first-place finish, five for second, etc.

Northwestern took first place in both football and cross country to accumulate its 12 points; while Southeastern amassed its 7½ on the basis of a second-place tie in football and fourth in cross country. Tech's 7½ came from a tie for fourth in football and second in cross country.

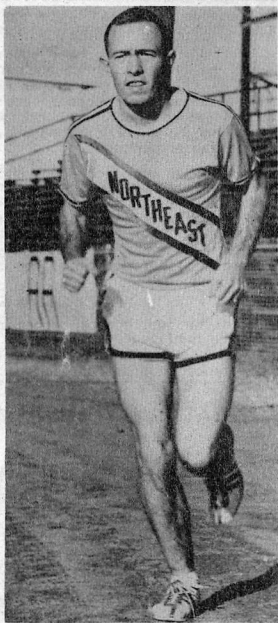

Northeast, which presently rests in last place in the battle for the trophy, could well pick up valuable points in basketball, baseball, and track. Last year the Indians were third in golf and could possibly finish higher this season. In tennis the Tribe shared the cellar with Southeastern last year and should be improved this spring.

Listed below are the standings for the first two sports:

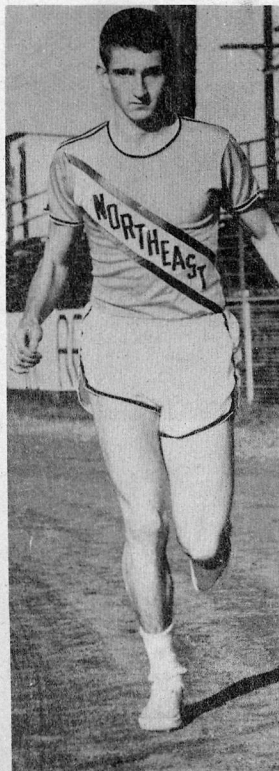

Northwestern	12
Louisiana Tech	7½
Southeastern	7½
Southwestern	6½
McNeese	5½
Northeast	3

LIEUTENANT JOHN MONTEFUSCO, HISTORY MAJOR, CLASS OF '61

"If I had it to do over again, would I take Army R.O.T.C.?"

My wife and I are in Panama at the moment. She likes it. You know, Officers' Club, dances—that sort of thing. I like it, too. But whether I stay in the Army or not, the question is: Would I take Army R.O.T.C. if I had it to do over again? Yes, I certainly would. In spades, I didn't realize how lucky I was. At the time I figured: Okay, so I'll get my degree—get an Army commission, too, and pick up some extra money along the way! I wasn't the leadership type, I thought. I was wrong. Boy, was I wrong! Looking back on it, I wouldn't trade the leadership training I got for anything! Take my word for it, leaders are made—not born! Whether I stay in the Army or not, nobody can take away what I've learned. And let's face it, where can anybody my age step out of college and walk into a standard of living this good? Look, if you have already invested two years in college ROTC, take it from me: Stick it out! It'll be one of the smartest things you ever did. I say so."

Faculty Bowling Teams Now Being Organized; Action Begins Monday

The faculty and staff are organizing two bowling leagues—one for women and another for men.

Eligible for the two leagues are all faculty and staff members and their spouses.

The women's league will be held on Monday nights in the lanes in the College Union Building. The men's league will be held at the same place on Tuesday nights. Starting time is 6 p.m.

First action is slated on Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week, Dec. 10 and 11, at which time each team will bowl three games to establish a mark for figuring handicaps.

All team members are requested to be at the Lanes approximately 15 minutes early on the first night of bowling. At that time the bowling lanes manager will discuss the handicap system.

Team captains will elect a league secretary, and each league secretary shall be responsible for keeping handicaps and sending the results to the Pow Wow, which will run a weekly report of the results.

By noon last Tuesday, two women's teams had already been formed. They were composed of (1) Mrs. Branch, Mrs. Sheffield, Mrs. Blackmon, Miss Gilliam and Mrs. Roper; (2) Mrs. Hardin, Mrs. Giddens, Mrs. Blankenship, Mrs. Scalia, Mrs. LeTard and Mrs. Eubank and Mrs. Luton as alternates.

By noon Tuesday two men's teams had been formed. They were (1) De Poe, Franklin, Seamster, Douglas, Moberly and Whatley as alternates; (2) Nicholson, Malone, Anderson, Bonner, and Parrish.

Various other individuals had signed individually but had not joined a specific team. All persons wishing to bowl should contact Jim Parrish, news bureau director, or his secretary.

Each league will consist of eight teams of five players each, but additional team members may be included as alternates. Five players will bowl each night, with the four highest scores being figured in team score.

A handicap system will equalize any "hot-rods" who might endeavor to practice daily and to overcome the efficiency of these "once-a-week" athletes.

The team members will vote to determine policies regarding the length of the league competition, a tournament, and other items to be decided.

Dr. Ethel Trice, president of the Women's Faculty Club, has been invited to ask all women's faculty members and their spouses to join the league.

Dean James M. Nicholson, initiator of the bowling leagues, urges all faculty and staff members to join in the fun, relaxation, and recreation by joining a bowling team.

ROSS NOLAN

WITH DENVER BRONCOS

Ross Nolan Inks Pact To Play Pro Football

Ross Nolan, Northeast State's all-Gulf States Conference tackle, has been signed by the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

Nolan, a 237-pound senior from Monroe, was signed by Ray Malvasi, Denver personnel director, Monday night. Nolan was one of four Gulf States Conference players drafted by American Football League teams in the circuit's draft meeting last Saturday. The other draftees were Mickey Slaughter and Jerry Griffin of Louisiana Tech and Lowell Vaught of Southwestern.

Malvasi said Nolan would be used at offensive guard on the Denver team, which this year is resting in second place in the AFL's Western Division.

In addition to the playing contract, Nolan was also offered an off-season job in Denver.

Nolan, a former all-state tackle at Neville, was named to the all-GSC team last fall as a junior. He was the only Northeast player to earn this honor last season. This year he earned his fourth letter at Northeast.

He is a 22-year-old art major, and is married to the former Patricia Hand.

TKE Wins Championship Of Organization Football; Basketball Now Underway

TKE tripped up BSU, 12-0, last week to take the annual championship of the intramural organizational football league.

TKE's two-touchdown victory came on the strength of two touchdown passes thrown by Ronnie Davies.

BSU had earned the right to face TKE for the championship after edging Nicholson, 7-6, in the semi-finals. Regular season play ended in a three-way tie between TKE, BSU, and Nicholson.

In the independent league, Bob Rachal's Muffdivers were crowned undefeated champions.

Meanwhile, some 13 teams have entered the two intramural basketball leagues now in operation. Six teams are competing in the organizational league and seven in the independent circuit.

Games will be played primarily on Monday and Thursday nights, and occasionally on Wednesday night. Three games will be played each night, and starting times are six, seven, and eight o'clock.

Ed's Alley

By ED PETTIS

When the 1962-63 basketball season opened a few weeks ago, many people were wondering what kind of team Northeast would have without all-American Lanny Johnson.

Well, that question has been answered, at least partially.

Through five games last year the Indians were sporting a 3-2 record—not really outstanding. Over the same span this season the Tribe, now relying on a balanced scoring attack, has a 4-1 mark, with the only loss coming in double overtime.

In the opinion of this writer, this proves that one man can not carry an entire team no matter how good he is. Granted Johnson was good. In fact, he is probably the best player ever to be produced at Northeast. It's true he holds numerous individual, season and career scoring records at Northeast, in addition to being the only player ever to be named all-American. Still, this corner contends that this year's quintet is probably superior to last year's, and in time will show this superiority.

If ever a team effort was needed, it was last Friday's contest with defending Lone Star Conference co-champion Lamar Tech. At the beginning of the game Lamar threatened to run the Indians off their home court. Taking advantage of an ice-cold Northeast offense, the Techmen quickly built up a large lead. But the Indians were not to be denied. With big Robert Cook providing the spark, the Tribe whittled the lead to 32-31 at the halftime, and then came back after the intermission to tie the count at 59-59.

This is where the team effort came in. Utilizing their newly-found offense, the Indians quickly built up a 65-59 lead; and with about five minutes remaining went into a freeze. Numerous times the Tribe's little men—Jerry Salley, Stuart Toms, and Irby Gamble—would pass the ball under the goal to the giants on the team—Cook and Jimmy Walker—only to have the ball pitched back out for another dribbling exhibition.

Not only did Northeast show outstanding teamwork in the stall, but also in the scoring column. In the best-rounded offensive show of the season, the Indians placed four men in the double figures. Cook and Walker scored 24 and 23 points respectively, but Milton Linder chipped in 14 and Salley 10, with most of Salley's coming in the final stages on charity tosses.

This corner could very well be wrong, but we feel that this balanced attack will carry the Indians to another Gulf States Conference championship and to an improvement over last year's 17-8 overall record.

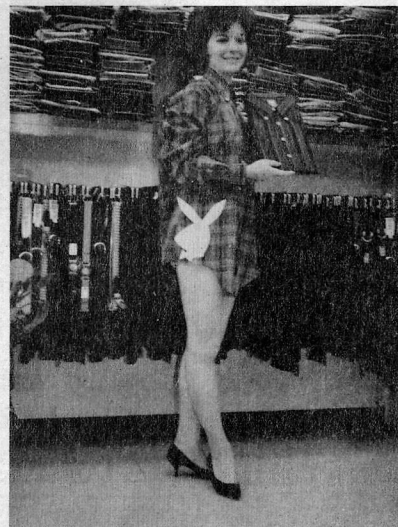

Another factor which caught the eye of this writer in last week's Lamar Tech game was the fans' support. Despite the fact that the Neville-Jennings state double-A high school football playoff was being played in Brown Stadium, a near-capacity crowd was on hand for the basketball encounter. This was quite gratifying to see that the students and fans from throughout the city were still behind the Indians. Whereas many organizations on campus complain about the attendance at their presentations or meetings, Coach Lenny Fant or his players have nothing to complain about concerning student support.

And the crowd on hand last week was certainly filled with spirit. During the final minutes of the game when the Indians went into their freeze to protect their lead, the fans cheered wildly. This was hardly expected since most roundball lovers have a tendency to want scoring. But this was not the case against Lamar. The fans wanted to watch their playmakers put on a dribbling show, and the Northeast guards granted their wishes to perfection.

Something else this corner is happy to see is that the students do not leave their spirit in the gymnasium. Around the campus this week, a large number of students have begun conversations about tomorrow night's clash with defending Southeastern Conference champ Mississippi State. State's 24-1 record of last season will undoubtedly place them in the favorite's role for tomorrow's contest, but if the student body will respond as it did last week, the Indians could very well walk off the court winners.

Just for fun, this corner would like to throw in a couple of very optimistic predictions. In tomorrow night's game, let's pick the Tribe by five points over State, and against William Carey Monday night, let's make it Northeast by 14.
