THESE 16 Northeast Beauties will be competing for the title of "Miss Northeast" and a consequent trip to the Miss Louisiana contest at Lake Providence at 8 p.m. tonight when the annual campus beauty pageant is held in Brown Auditorium. The field of 16 contestants marks the largest number ever to vie for honors in the local contest.

Annual Beauty Pageant Scheduled For Tonight

Sixteen coeds—the largest number ever—have entered this year's Miss Northeast Beauty Pageant, to be held in Brown Auditorium on the campus tonight at 8 p.m.

The previous high number of entrants in the contest, an official preliminary of the Miss Louisiana Pageant, was 13 last year. Diana Smith was the 1961 Miss Northeast and will crown the 1962 winner.

Entered in the pageant are Sharon Ary, Sarabeth Boughton, Sonya Bowden, Patsy Ruth Collins, Zella Collins, Bettie Gibbs, Billie Joe Hanchey, Barbara Jean McCoy, Sue Parkerson, Sylvia Pritcher, Cecilia Richardson, Charlotte Salley, Sharon Gale Sawyer, Barbara Jean Sharp, Kathleen Whitfield and Sheila Pennington Williams.

Contestants were judged on personality and poise in a special tea at the President's home and a dinner at the Paragon Club last night. Judging in the other three events—talent, evening gown and swimsuit—will be held tonight.

Five of the contestants will present dramatic readings in the talent competition tonight, four will dance, three will perform musical or comedy skits, three will present vocal solos and one will present a piano solo.

Miss Ary, a freshman majoring in pre-social work, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Ary of 415 N. Wento, Guthrie, Okla. A member of Phi Mu sorority, she was a majorette in high school and named Miss Christmas and Most Attractive Girl her senior year.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Boughton of Bastrop, Miss Boughton is a freshman majoring in piano. A member of Delta Omicron, she is a piano soloist and dancer with Northeast's Jazz Ensemble. She was a member of the Mu Sigma Honor Society and the student council at Bastrop High School.

Miss Bowden was a member of Northeast's Homecoming Court last fall and is a member of the school's dance and drill team. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowden of Tallulah, she is a sophomore majoring in medical technology. She was president of the student body at Tallulah High School.

A senior majoring in business education, Miss Patsy Ruth Collins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Collins of Pioneer.

Miss Zella Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Collins of Jonesville, is a Northeast junior. She is majoring in elementary education.

A dancer-comedienne with the Jazz Ensemble, Miss Gibbs is a sophomore speech major. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gibbs of Monroe, she is a member of the dance and drill team, was a member of the student council in 1961 and runnerup in the Miss Chacaboula contest last year. She appeared in both the 1961 and 1962 productions of "Redskins," the Northeast variety show, as well as several local Little Theatre productions.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hanchey of Rayville, Miss Hanchey is a freshman majoring in elementary education. She was a member of the band and Key Club in high school and was named a school favorite.

Selected "Miss Louisiana Shrimp Maid" in 1961, Miss McCoy was also first runnerup in the 1961 "Yam Queen" contest. A freshman speech education major, she's the daughter of Mrs. Hazel Bernice McCoy of 1508 North 5th, Monroe. She is a member of the Northeast Speech Club.

Also a member of the college's Speech Club, Miss Parkerson is a freshman speech major. The daughter of Mrs. Beula Parkerson of Comanche, Okla., she is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority and was a member of the student council in high school.

Miss Pritcher is a freshman majoring in pre-law. She is secretary-treasurer of the Pre-Law Club and was president of Y-Teens of Y-Teens (See ANNUAL, Page 6)

The Famous Lester Lanin Travelers Are Scheduled To Perform At Dixie Ball

The Lester Lanin Travelers, under the direction of Chubby Silvers, will be featured on campus tomorrow night for the annual Dixie Ball.

The annual dance climaxes the Miss Northeast Beauty Pageant.

Miss Northeast will be selected at the pageant tonight, and she and all participants in the Miss Northeast contest will be presented at the dance tomorrow night.

The affair is slated from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight in Gunby Dining Hall, Richard Aycock, Student Council president, said.

Coats and ties and party dresses will be worn, and corsages are not required, Aycock said.

According to information released by the Record Promotion Departments of both Billboard Magazine and Variety (the Bibles of show business), the Lester Lanin LP albums by Epic Records, subsidiary of Columbia Records, have outsold all other dance band albums in America for the past four years.

The popular musicians play annually at Yale, Princeton, Harvard, Georgetown, VMI, Georgia Tech, University of Florida, University of Alabama, Baylor, and many other leading colleges in America.

The group displays adaptability and impeccable taste. They know the time and the place for the proper music. They know what the dancers want, and proof lies in the fact that The Lester Lanin Orchestra still ride the crest while orchestras widely popular in years gone by are slowly drifting from the scene of today's dance band business.

There are twenty-two Lester Lanin Travelers Orchestras, and each one can be immediately identified by their "easy to recognize beat". It's a dancing beat and though such groups may not draw the Jazz affinity does or the rock'n'roll addicts, they do attract the dancers.

Aycock urged students to avail themselves of this opportunity to hear one of America's leading dance bands.

There will be no admission for the Student Council-sponsored event, Aycock said.

Classes Altered Today For Assembly Time

A school-wide assembly is scheduled at 10:30 this morning, and the morning's schedule of classes is being altered to provide time for the meeting.

At today's assembly the candidates for student body officers will be presented.

Two more college-wide meetings are scheduled this month. The annual Honors Day Assembly will be held Wednesday, May 16, and the newly-elected student body officers will be inaugurated on Tuesday, May 22.

Under the shortened schedule regular 8 o'clock classes meet from 8:8:40 a.m.; 9 a.m. classes meet from 8:50-9:30 a.m.; 10 a.m. classes meet from 9:40-10:20 a.m.; 11 a.m. classes meet from 11:20-12 noon; and 12 o'clock classes convene from 12:10 to 12:50 p.m.

Classes meeting from 1 p.m. on will follow the regular schedule.

Special Program To Be Held In June

A special convocation to honor the persons for whom buildings and drives on the Northeast campus have been named and the authors of legislation creating the college will be held in Gunby Hall June 1.

Following the convocation at 2 p.m. will be a reception and tea in Breard Hall. All members of the student body, faculty and staff, and their families are invited to attend the special event.

Special guests at the convocation will include members of the families for whom structures have been named and authors and co-authors of legislation that has made this growth possible, according to the President of Northeast, George T. Walker.

New Deadline Set For Filing Names

Persons intending to run for class offices should file their names before Wednesday noon, Student Government President Richard Aycock has announced.

The date has been extended because a sufficient number of students have not filed for the offices, Aycock said.

Students may file their names in the office of the dean of student services, Stubbs 207.

Aycock urged students to become candidates for student offices.

The elections will be held Monday, May 21.

REGISTRATION LINES in front of Brown Hall for last week's publication workshop held on the Northeast campus indicate the large number of high school students, faculty advisers, and interested adults attending the seminar. Garland Roark, novelist from Nacogdoches, Tex., was guest speaker for the two-day meeting.

STUDENTS NEGLECT DUTIES

One of the most pathetic situations ever to arise on our campus has become obvious in recent weeks.

A lack of concern on the part of our students in school affairs has been shown, and has been manifest in the small number filing for class offices and student government offices to be voted on in the campus-wide election May 21.

Students are by human nature prone to see fault in the actions of others. We often feel that an inadequate job is being done in the direction of school affairs designed for us, when actually WE as STUDENTS fail to give the individual effort so vital to successful operation of events.

Unless we wake up and decide to put a whole-hearted effort into school events, our school is indeed going to be in a sad state of affairs. As things stand now, all of the class offices and student government offices will not even be filled, because a sufficient number of students has not filed to run for the offices.

Next year if our student government is the poorest yet, who will be to blame? No one except those of us who failed to do our part, and at the present that seems to connote the majority of our students.

We can continue to sit lazily and be satisfied with whatever comes, or we can battle the existent situation.

The quickest remedy is for us to get busy either filing for the available offices, or urging ambitious, efficient persons to become candidates for the offices. There are many qualified people on our campus who need only encouragement from their fellow students to become campus leaders.

In the past our student affairs have been under the leadership of capable students, and this next year could be no exception, provided the proper steps are taken.

Why not decide now to help more in student affairs? Those of us who do not hold school offices can certainly lend our participation and cooperation to the officers.

Let's keep Northeast at the top by participating in the political affairs of the school, and by electing the most capable leaders.

CRAM COURSE NO. 5: SHAKESPEARE

Continuing our series of pre-final exam cram courses, today we take up the works of William Shakespeare (or "The Bard of Avon" as he is jocularly called).

First let us examine the persistent theory that Shakespeare (or "The Pearl of the Antilles" as he is affectionately referred to) is not the real author of his plays. Advocates of this theory insist that the plays are so full of classical allusions and learned references that they couldn't possibly have been written by the son of an illiterate country butcher.

To which I reply, "Faugh!" Was not the great Spinoza's father a humble woodcutter? Was not the immortal Isaac Newton's father a simple second baseman? (The elder Newton, incidentally, is one of history's truly pathetic figures. He was, by all accounts, the greatest second baseman of his time, but baseball, alas, had not yet been invented.) It used to break young Isaac's heart to see his father get up every morning, put on uniform, spikes, glove, and cap, and stand alertly behind second base, bent forward, eyes narrowed, waiting, waiting, waiting. That's all—waiting. Isaac loyally sat in the bleachers and yelled, "Good show, Dad!" and stuff like that, but everyone else in town used to snigger and pelt the Newtons with overripe fruit—figs for the elder Newton, apples for the younger. Thus, as we all know, the famous occasion came about when Isaac Newton, struck in the head with an apple, leapt to his feet, shouted, "Europa!" and announced the third law of motion: "For every action there is an opposite and equal reaction!"

(How profoundly true these simple words are! Take, for example, Marlboro Cigarettes. Light one. That's the action. Now what is the reaction? Pleasure, delight, contentment, cheer, and comfort! And why such a happy reaction? Because you have started with a happy cigarette—a felicitous blend of jolly tobaccos, a good-natured filter, a rollicking flip-top box, a merry soft pack. As Newton often said, "You begin with better makin', you end with better smokin'." Small wonder they called him "The Swedish Nightingale!"

But I digress. Back to Shakespeare (or "The Gem of the Ocean" as he was ribaldly appellated).

Shakespeare's most important play is, of course, Hamlet (or Macbeth, as it is sometimes called). This play tells in living color the story of Hamlet, Prince of Denmark, who one night sees a ghost upon the battlements. (Possibly it is a goat he sees: I have a first folio edition that is frankly not too legible.) Anyhow, Hamlet is so upset by seeing the ghost (or goat) that he stabs Polonius and Bare Bodkin. He is thereupon banished to a leather factory by the King, who cries, "Get thee to a tannery!" Thereupon Ophelia refuses her food until Laertes shouts, "Get thee to a beaunery!" Ophelia is so miffed that she chases her little dog out of the room, crying, "Out, out damned Spot!" She is fined fifty shillings for swearing, but Portia, in an eloquent plea, gets the sentence commuted to life imprisonment. Thereupon King Lear and Queen Mab proclaim a festival—complete with amateur theatricals, kissing games, and a pie-eating contest. Everyone has a perfectly splendid time till Banquo's ghost (or goat) shows up. This so unhinges Richard III that he drowns his cousin, Butt Malmsey. This leads to a lively discussion during which everyone is killed. The little dog Spot returns to utter the immortal certain lines:

*Alack, the play forsooth was sad and sobby,
But be of cheer—there's Marlboros in the lobby!*

As the slings and arrows of outrageous finals loom closer, perchance the makers of Marlboro are not untoward to offer this friendly suggestion: Get thee to a library!

Survey Shows A Concept Of The Ideal Prof

(ACP)—Just what makes a good teacher? What kind of an instructor appeals to the student most?

A survey at San Diego City College, reported in the FORTKNIGHTLY, shows that the ideal prof is:

INTELLIGENT—He can tell you the number of buttons on General Custer's coat and the size of Abe Lincoln's shoes. He expresses himself well, and the student does not need a dictionary to answer a question. He was an A student in college but won't mention it.

HUMOROUS—His key to avoiding dullness in class is humor. His jokes are fresh, and the shy blonde in the corner of the room need not fret about turning red.

DOWN-TO-EARTH — He has a large vocabulary but seldom if ever resorts to it. He does not have a superior attitude and can explain basic algebra without making you feel stupid, even though he knows it inside and out. He gives you the feeling that he wants to help you learn as quickly and as easily as possible.

WELL-DRESSED—His ties are not Ivy League, and although he might wear the same suit three times in a row, he's neat.

INFORMAL—He's firm but not rigid. He will talk about religion or the Twist and kid the basketball team about the game it lost by 20 points without getting any scowls.

EFFICIENT—He gives students plenty of time and notice before a test and gets the results back quickly. He lets the class out early if there is no more to be said in his lecture.

FRIENDLY—He never hesitates to say hello when he sees you in the patio and will chat about the football team or your favorite subject. He'll give you advice when you ask for it.

A GENTLEMAN—He never resorts to vulgarity. He jokes with the girls about their latest boy friends but doesn't embarrass the person who's been tardy three times in one week.

These are the things that make students say, "That teacher's sharp. He's funny but you learn."

The ideal prof is all of these and an important person in society. He's overworked, underpaid and a person you'll remember 20 years from now. Most of all he's scholarly and human, willing to admit when he's wrong.

TEDDY PAYNE, sophomore lefthander from Baton Rouge, was scheduled to start one of Northeast's games Wednesday here against Northwestern. One of only two southpaws on the Northeast club, Payne took a 1-2 record into the Wednesday contest.

Indian Athletes Vying For All-Sports Trophy

With athletics coming to a close in the Gulf States Conference, the possibility of a three-way tie between Northeast, Southwestern, and Louisiana Tech for the all-sports trophy seems in the making.

Northeast currently leads the field with first place finishes in both cross-country and basketball, plus a fifth place slot in football, for a total of 14 points. Southwestern now has 11 and Tech 8.

However Tech is expected to capture first place in both golf and tennis, in addition to third place in track and baseball.

Although Southwestern does not have a first place to its credit, the Bulldogs have finished second in both basketball and cross-country, and are virtually assured of the same spot in baseball, golf, and tennis. The Lafayette School is expected to finish no better than fifth in track, but with a better showing could take the trophy.

Northeast's chances apparently hinge on the golf team's performance in the GSC meet today. Should the Indian linksters fare better than their expected third slot, the Tribe could capture the trophy. The Indians seem assured of a first place finish in track, but no better than fifth in baseball and tennis.

If the three schools finish in their expected order in the various sports, they will deadlock with 28 points each.

The only thing definite about the competition is that McNeese, Southeastern, and Northwestern will not win the title.

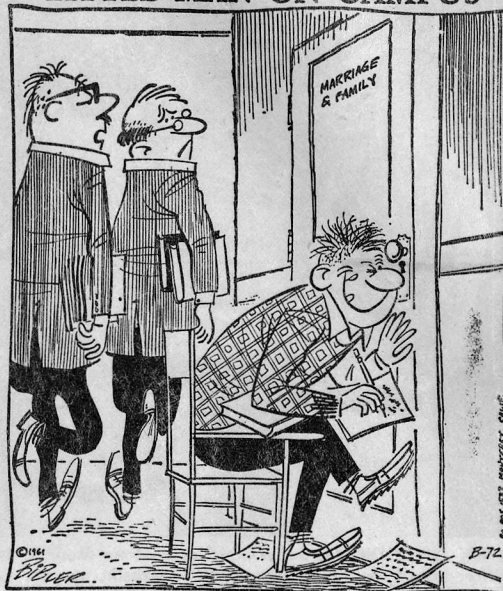

Although Southeastern won both the football and baseball championships and is expected to finish in the top three in track, they are not considered a threat because of poor showings in basketball and tennis. In addition, the Hammond school does not field a golf team, which further hampers their chances.

McNeese and Northwestern have failed to win a championship outright and are out of the running. However both schools could add some lustre to an otherwise bad year with good showings at the GSC tournament.

Northwestern ended the football season in a tie for third and are given a good chance of capturing the second spot in track, however, they are weak in baseball and golf.

McNeese has failed to finish near the top in any sport since trying for the crown in football last fall. However, the Cowboys possess fairly strong teams in both tennis and golf and could take third place in both.

Thinclads Close Season At Gulf States Meet

Surprisingly enough, Dave Styron—undoubtedly the greatest sprinter in the history of the Gulf States Conference and one of the best in the world—does not hold a GSC dash record, a situation he hopes to change in this week's conference meet in Hammond.

Dave was a member of two record-holding Northeast relay teams but he currently holds no individual conference record, although he held both the 100 and 220 standards at one time. The league meet is one of the few track carnivals Styron has participated in without his name in the record book. Twin Don Styron holds two GSC records, 14.1 in the high hurdles and 22.3 in the lows.

In 1960, Dave set a 100-yard dash record of 9.6 in the GSC meet in Lake Charles but the mark was erased the next spring in Monroe when Southeastern's Bob Fanning, now in the service, won the conference century in 9.5. Dave's stint as 220 record holder was even more brief. He ran the event in 20.6 on a straightaway, four-tenths of a second under the record, in 1960 but league coaches threw out the mark months later because the starter's gun did not flash.

Dave stands a good chance of equaling, if not breaking, the records in the 100 and 220 Saturday night in the loop meet. He has run the 100 in 9.5 this year.

He has run the 220 around one turn in 21.4 this year, four-tenths of a second under the league record set by Fanning last year. The 220 at Hammond will be run around a turn.

Dave has also equaled the record time of 21.0 on the straightaway this year but since this year's 220 will be run on a turn and Styron is a senior, that mark is out of reach. Conference records are set only in the GSC meet.

In previous years, Styron has run the 100 in 9.4 and the straightaway 220 in 20.2. He has also run the 440 in 46.6, well under the league record of 47.5, but is not slated to run that event Saturday.

Other Northeast athletes will be aiming at records Saturday evening. Don Styron has bettered his own record of 14.1 in the high hurdles four times this year, his best being 13.8, and, while he has not run the event around a turn this year, is considered a cinch to better the existing mark of 24.7 in the low hurdles.

Don Styron holds the world record of 21.9 in the low hurdles on the straightaway and the GSC record of 22.3.

Don (Buddy) Eiland holds conference records in the 880 and mile and could lower both Saturday. He ran the half-mile in 1:52.2 in a three-way meet Saturday night in Natchitoches to equal the league record he set last year and has run the mile in 4:10.4 this year, under his record of 4:11.1.

Northeast's mile relay foursome of Randall Walker, John Baker and the Styrons has run the distance in 3:11.9 this year. The record, set by the Styrons, Dick Hays and Jim Mouser in 1960, is 3:14.6.

An Indian team of the Styrons, Charles McDonald and Jay Goldsmith has also bettered the 880 relay record of 1:26.7 with a 1:25.0 clocking but Walker and Baker will probably replace the Styrons on the team Saturday night. This group has a 1:27.8 time to its credit.

SPRINTER DAVE STYRON, who has bettered the existing G.S.C. mark in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes this spring, will attempt to set new records tomorrow night as the Northeast tracksters go after their second undefeated season in three years in the conference meet in Hammond.

Indians To End Spring Sports This Weekend

Northeast winds up activity in all four spring sports this week, with the golf and tennis teams closing out their season today with the Gulf States Conference meet in Hammond.

Tomorrow night the Tribe thinclads will attempt to complete their second undefeated season in the past three years with the conference track meet. Thus far this year the tracksters have been victorious in seven consecutive meets, including such major events as the Fort Worth Recreational Meet, the Southwestern Relays, the Memphis Relays, and the Florida Relays.

Should the Tribe win tomorrow night's meet as expected, it would mark their third conference crown in four years.

The Indian golf team, which ends play today, is expected to battle McNeese for the GSC's third slot behind defending champ Louisiana Tech and Southwestern.

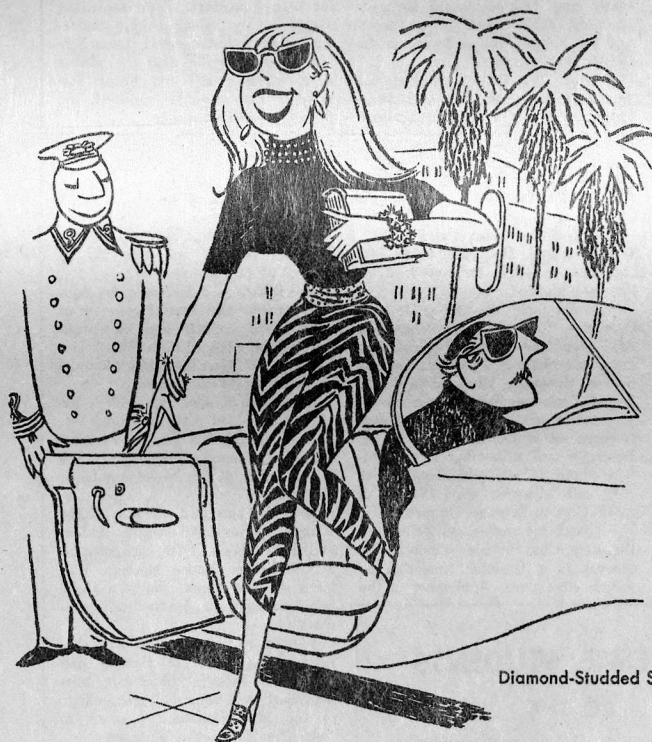

In tennis Northeast is given little chance for better than a fifth place finish, having won only one match this season, that coming over Southeastern. The Tribe netmen warmed up for the conference meet by losing to Tech 7-0 in Ruston Monday afternoon.

The Indian baseball team also met with misfortune Monday, losing both ends of a GSC doubleheader to league-leading Southeastern, 6-4 and 9-0.

In the first contest the Indians led 4-3 when third baseman Tony Alalo blasted a three-run homer over the left-center field fence in the top of the seventh inning to give Southeastern the victory, their fourth over the Tribe this season.

First baseman Don Boniol and shortstop Phil Petras headed the Northeast offense, with Boniol blasting his third homer of the year in the first contest, and Petras lashing out four hits in six times at bat in the twinbill.

Bob Hardy went all the way in the first game in pitching his sixth victory against two defeats, while Louis Paternoski hurled an eight-hit shutout in the nightcap in recording his third win against no losses.

LESSON 8- Becoming a specialist

Experienced girl watchers, for whom routine watching has lost some of its excitement, often become specialists. (This is definitely not recommended for beginners. However, it may be practiced as a change-of-pace by more advanced students.) They may spend an entire field trip concentrating on one part of a girl. This tends to step up activity, since it does not require that the whole girl be beautiful. For example, if you decide to specialize in knees, you watch only beautiful knees. (The doorman above appears to be an ankle specialist.) Whatever your watching specialty, make sure your smoking specialty is Pall Mall's natural mildness—it's so good to your taste.
