IES Offers Scholarship In Europe

Scholarship applications for undergraduate study in Europe during the academic year 1963-64 are being accepted and will continue to be accepted through Feb. 15, 1963, by the Institute of European Studies.

Seven scholarships are being offered for study at the Institute's centers in Vienna, Paris, and Freiburg, West Germany. Included are three full scholarships which cover all basic costs such as tuition, fees, field study trips, room, most meals, and round-trip ocean transportation from the United States.

Each program embraces formal classes, lectures, seminars and field study, and is designed to fulfill usual course requirements at its academic level, officials of the Institute said. The programs in Vienna and Paris are open to college sophomores and juniors, while the Freiburg program is limited to juniors.

A full scholarship valued at $2,230 and partial scholarships valued at $500 and $1,000 are available for the Institute's program at the University of Vienna.

The program there combines English-taught liberal arts and general studies courses, intensive German language instruction, regular university courses taught in German for those competent in the language, and supplementary lectures and seminars. Previous knowledge of German is not required.

For its program at the University of Freiburg, the Institute is offering a full scholarship worth $2,125 and a partial scholarship valued at $1,000.

Musicians' Group Gives Scholarship

The American Federation of Musicians, Local 425 of Monroe, has donated an annual scholarship in memory of the deceased members of the local to Northeast Louisiana State College Scholarship Foundation.

Henry Freeman, president of Local 425, presented the first check of $100 to James O. Lancaster, director of scholarships at Northeast.

The stipend will be awarded annually in advance of the fall registration to a deserving student on the basis of talent and need who majors in music on a full-time basis in preparation for a career in the profession of music.

The recipient shall be nominated by a music faculty committee and approved by the dean of the division of fine arts and the director of scholarships and placement at Northeast.

Recipients shall be notified of their selection by the division dean. Recipients must maintain a minimum B grade average on all work pursued at Northeast in order to maintain the scholarship.

Awards Presented By CPA Society

The Monroe chapter of the Louisiana Society of CPAs has awarded scholarships to students of accounting from Northeast State and Louisiana Tech. Each scholarship is worth $50 cash.

The awards were made to students from the two schools making the highest grade average in their departments. Harry Frazer, Jr., president of the Monroe chapter, and W. Theron Roberts, president of the Louisiana Society of CPAs of Shreveport, presented the scholarships to Sam Nolan of West Monroe, recipient from Northeast and Regan Frazier of Minden, recipient from Tech.

HENRY FREEMAN, president of Local 425 of the American Federation of Musicians, gives a check for $100 to James O. Lancaster, director of scholarships at Northeast State, to initiate an annual award in memory of the deceased members of the local to the Northeast Louisiana State College Scholarship Foundation. The award shall be given annually to a deserving student on the basis of talent and need who must major in music on a full-time basis in preparation for a career in the profession of music.

ROTC Group Holds Tapping Ceremonies Here

Sixteen outstanding cadets of the Northeast Louisiana State College ROTC unit were tapped during ceremonies held Thursday by Company B, 13th Regiment, National Society of Scabbard and Blade.

Those selected for the honor included six cadets from Monroe and one from West Monroe. They are James Brooks, Wynn Jefferson, James McGough, Kenneth McKenzie, James Parkerson, and Hershal Ryan of Monroe, James Fletcher of West Monroe, Ralph Allen and Arville Steed of Shreveport, Donald Walker of Oak Grove, James Arnold of Crowley, Ken Thornhill of Wisner, Thomas Burton of Pioneer, Elzy Baker of Jennings, Charles Evans of Mer Rouge, and Raymond Hawkins of Miami, Okla.

The Military Society of Northeast, headed by Jerry Miller of Monroe, is one of 131 such companies located at leading colleges and universities throughout the country which have Reserve Officer Training Programs. Founded in 1904 at the University of Wisconsin, the society has as its purpose the fostering of interest in military pursuits and the encouragement of citizenship and patriotism.

Notice

The Northeast State College Honor Society will present a travel talk by Mrs. Annilies Hayward Tuesday Nov. 6, according to Camilla Harmon, president of the Northeast group.

The event will be held in Biedenharn Recital Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Hayward was reared and educated in Germany. She recently returned there for a visit with her relatives.

Refreshments will be served after the talk, offering those attending a chance to meet the featured speaker.

Research Society Is Formed At Northeast

IN COLLEGE UNION . . .

Friday Night Movies Sponsored By SGA

Friday night movies are being presented in the College Union Auditorium by the SGA.

The admission is 35 cents for adults and students and 15 cents for children under 12.

On November 9, PLACE IN THE SUN, starring Montgomery Clift, Elizabeth Taylor, Shelley Winters, and Keefe Brasselle, will be shown.

Other features will be CALL ME MADAM, starring Ethel Merman, Donald O'Connor, and Vera Ellen on December 7; BLACK BOARD JUNGLE, starring Glenn Ford and Margaret Hayes on January 4; TITANIC, starring Robert Wagner, Barbara Stanwyck, and Clifton Webb on January 11; HOME FROM THE HILL, with Robert Mitchum and Eleanor Parker (in color) on March 15; ONE-EYED JACKS, featuring Marlon Brando, Kathy Jurado and Karl Madden, (in color) on March 22; and STALAG 17 on March 29, starring Don Taylor and Robert Strauss.

The Sigma Xi Club of the National Honorary Scientific Research Society has been formed at Northeast Louisiana State College, with installation of charter members made Friday night at the Rendezvous Restaurant.

Dr. Roland Abegg, head of the zoology department at Louisiana Tech, was the installing officer representing national headquarters.

Membership in the local club will be selected from those on the NLSF faculty who are already members elsewhere. Membership is restricted to graduate students and persons having Ph.D. degrees in a field of science.

Fifteen charter members were installed at Northeast.

Temporary officers for Sigma Xi are Dr. John Goorley, associate professor of pharmaceutical chemistry, as president; and Dr. Aaron Seamster, dean of the division of pure and applied science, as secretary-treasurer.

Date Is Set To Present First Play

The date has been set for the presentation of the Speech Department's three act play, "Papa Is All." The play will be presented in Biedenharn Auditorium on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 12 and 13, 8 p.m.

"Papa Is All" is the story of a Pennsylvania Dutch mother, daughter, and son who rebel against a tyrannical father. The Broadway musical, "Plain and Fancy," was taken from this play.

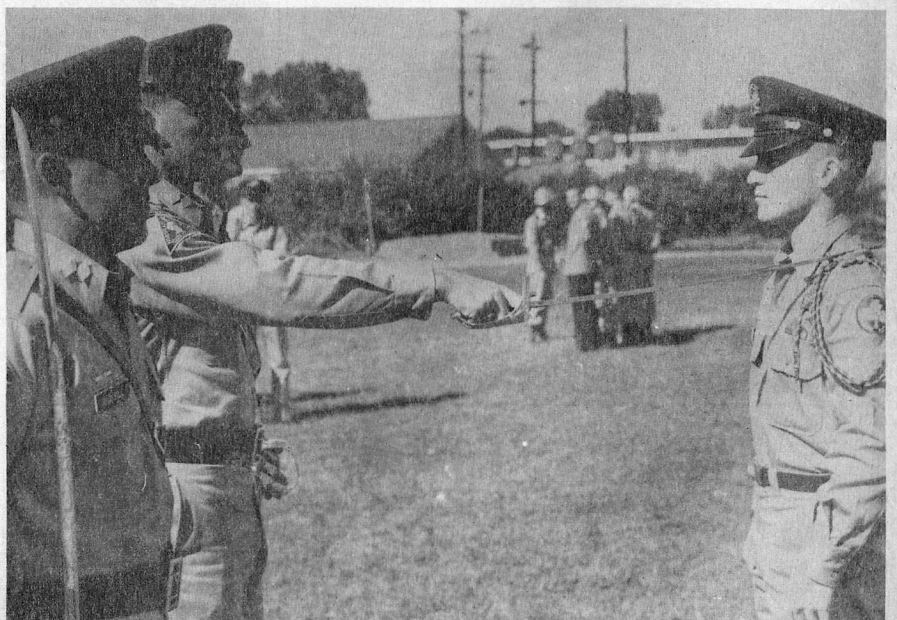

Claude Fuller will direct the play. The cast members are Murray Burford, Mama; Bill Wells, Jake; Charles Machen, State Trooper Brendle; Karen Leach, Emma; Joan Machen, Mrs. Yoder; and Mike Parkerson, Papa.

Tickets may be purchased from the Speech Department or at the door, 75 cents for students and $1.50 for adults.

The first play of the season to be presented on the Northeast Campus, the play promises to be very interesting.

Many of the members of the cast have participated in numerous other plays on campus and also in the Monroe Little Theatre.

Fuller, the director, is a member of the Northeast Speech department.

SCABBARD AND BLADE, National Military Society at Northeast State College, recently inducted sixteen cadets into the organization. Tapping ceremonies were held during the weekly drill last week. Shown here is Jerry Miller of Monroe tapping Wynn Jefferson, also of Monroe, into the society. Looking on is Preston Rudisill. Miller is the head of the Northeast group.

Editorials

How's the grades coming, folks? Well, do you realize that nine weeks is almost here. Won't be long before the nine weeks exams will be on us.

Many students seem prone to wait until the last moment before they even start to study for any kind of exam. If that is the case this semester, don't expect to carry home all "A's" and "B's" at mid-semester.

Although nine weeks grades are not final, they count very highly, for a low grade is hard to pull up during the last half of the semester. If even the smartest student lets his grades slack during the first half, he has to really "dig-in" to get quality points and semester hours out of the course. The "average" student, as most of us are, had better prepare now so that we will not be caught lacking when the "day of reckoning" comes.

One thing that many students seem to forget is that they have an advisor who will always be willing and happy to help them out of a jam or just give some good, sound advise and let the student pull himself out of the situation.

Not only do we have advisors who can help us, but of even greater assistance can be our instructors. They know our individual problems and in many instances can help us make a good grade in their course if only we let them help.

GAIL SAWYER

First Battalion Sponsor Named

Gail Sawyer, sponsor of the 1st Battalion of Northeast's Cadet Brigade, is the featured sponsor for this week.

Gail, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sawyer of Oak Grove, is a graduate of Oak Grove High School.

A Sophomore Speech Education major, she is also a member of Phi Mu, Phi Beta, and the College Speech Club. Her outside interests include playing the piano and organ.

Europe . . .

Paris include one covering all basic costs, equivalent to $2,475, and a partial scholarship valued at $500. Intended for superior students, the program encompasses liberal arts and general studies combined with opportunities for independent study at the University of Paris and other institutions of high learning in Paris.

The Institute's announcement said scholarships will be granted on the basis of academic achievement, financial need, and recommendation by the applicant's "home" college or university. Applicants must be between 18 and 24 years old and unmarried.

Complete applications must be submitted no later than Feb. 15, 1963. Forms and descriptive literature are available from the Institute of European Studies, 35 E. Wacker Drive, Chicago 1.

Awards will be announced about May 1, 1963. Enrollees bound for Paris and Vienna will sail for Europe late in August, followed in mid-September by those bound for the Freiburg program.

EAT, SLEEP, AND MATRICULATE

The trouble with early morning classes is that you're too sleepy. At late morning classes you're too hungry. At early afternoon classes you're too logy. At late afternoon classes you're too hungry again. The fact is—and we might as well face it—there is no good time of day to take a class.

What shall we do then? Abandon our colleges to the ivy? I say no! I say America did not become the hope of mankind and the world's largest producer of butterfats and tallow by running away from a fight!

If you're always too hungry or too sleepy for class, then let's hold classes when you're not too hungry or sleepy: namely, when you're eating or sleeping.

Classes while eating are a simple matter. Just have a lecturer lecture while the eaters eat. But watch out for noisy food. I mean who can hear a lecturer lecture when everybody is crunching celery or matzo or like that? Serve quiet stuff—like anchovy paste on a doughnut, or steaming bowls of lamb fat.

And kindly observe silence while lighting your post-prandial Marlboro Cigarette. Don't be striking kitchen matches on your jeans. Instead carry an ember from the dormitory fireplace in your purse or pocket. Place the Marlboro against the ember. Light it quietly. Smoke it quietly. Oh, I know I ask a great deal! I know that one's natural instinct upon encountering Marlboro's fine flavor and filter is to throw back one's head and bellow great, rousing cries of joy. But you must not. You must contain your ecstasy, lest you disturb the lecturing lecturer. You can, if you like, permit yourself a few small shudders of pleasure as you smoke, but take care not to wear garments which will set up a clatter when you shudder—like taffeta, for example, or knee cymbals.

Let us turn now to the problem of learning while sleeping. First, can it be done?

Yes, it can. Psychologists have proved that the brain is definitely able to assimilate information during sleep. Take, for instance, a recent experiment conducted by a leading Eastern university (Stanford). A small tape recorder was placed under the pillow of the subject, a freshman named Glebe Sigafos. When Glebe was fast asleep, the recorder was turned on. Softly, all through the night, it repeated three statements in Glebe's slumbering ear:

1. Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109 and is called "The Founder of English Eclectic Philosophy."
2. The banana plant is not a tree but a large perennial herb.
3. The Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated in 1914 at Sarajevo by a young nationalist named Mjilas Cvetnic, who has been called "The Trigger of World War I."

When Glebe awoke in the morning, the psychologists said to him, "Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109. What is he called?"

Glebe promptly replied, "Perennial Herb."

Next they asked him, "What has Mjilas Cvetnic been called?"

Replied Glebe, "Perennial Serb."

Finally they said, "Is the banana plant a tree?"

But Glebe, exhausted from the long interrogation, had fallen back asleep, where he is to this day.

Dorms Create Lasting Memories Around Northeast State Campus

By BONNIE SHELTON

When we were all small children, the word dormitory had a magic ring to it; it seemed to be a vast far-away dreamland of independence, boys, and staying-up-as-late-as-you-want-to. Needless to say, our concept of dormitories has changed, but not as much as one might expect. Today we know the truth about dormitory living; we know the bad as well as the good. Oddly enough most of us still cling to that pipe-dream we had, and in a way it is more a truth than a fantasy.

If you are one of those girls who are fortunate enough to live in Harris, Cosper, Monroe, or Beard Halls, you know very well how wonderful dormitory life can be. You know too that it is not all sweetness and light. Just like everything else, it has its bad points, but there aren't too many, and they aren't too bad.

First, let's take a look at the good side of it all. In naming the good qualities, we cannot overlook the close relationships which develop between roommates and neighbors. Nowhere else in the world do young women have the opportunity to know their contemporaries so well. After all, you can't spend eighteen hours a day with people, borrow their clothes, share their secrets, comfort their aching hearts, and laugh at their joy, and still not know them. This life gives girls a chance to grow into women, by comparison, by seeking, by understanding and being understood.

The girls who live on this campus today will leave tomorrow with a wealth of good will and best wishes. They will take with them memories of the closest friendships they may ever treasure. In the years ahead, when things aren't going too well or they feel tired and discouraged, they will look back at the scenes of joy, pain, mutual laughter and tears, wild escapades, and "Judy, if you don't help me, I'm sure to fail that trig test," and not feel quite so dejected.

Northeast is fortunate to have a wealth of beautiful residence halls for both men and women. The students on this campus enjoy many luxuries that less fortunate colleges do not have. They lack for nothing, and in many ways this trains the residents to be self-sufficient. The women in the dormitories are responsible for the state of their rooms, their conduct, and their studies. The responsibilities are good for them. It is up to every student to take care of his or her own life; it is supervised; it is not controlled.

Being a resident of Beard Hall, I naturally know more about it than the other dorms, but actually there is not too much difference in lives led by girls in Beard and girls in Harris. There are the same mad scrambles in the morning, the same frantic cramming for exams, the same static excitement before a big dance, the same rush for the clothes dryers, the same air of hushed reverence in the lounges, and the same universal sound in the hallways, that of hysterical laughter.

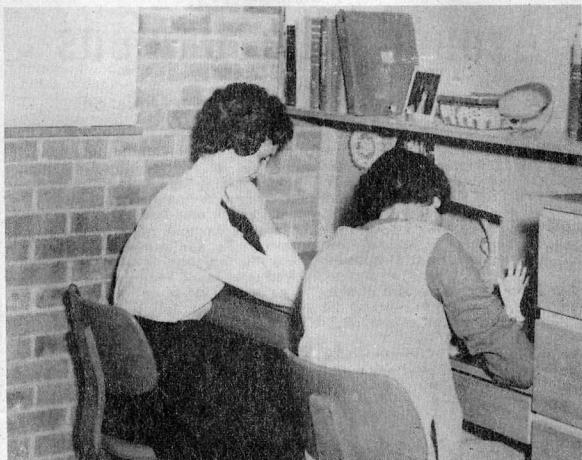

What are the disadvantages? One of them is that when one is surrounded by gay chatter and happy laughter, it is difficult to tear one's self away for a few hours at the study desk. There is always that card game that you know you're missing, the buzzing of that precious buzzer announcing callers and phone calls, and the temptation of a stereo set in the recreation room. Secondly, there is the tendency to ignore midnight and go on talking; when morning comes, it is almost impossible to crawl out of a warm bed when the alarm announces that if you don't get up, you're going to miss that eight o'clock class that you were determined you were not to have. Thirdly, there is the tendency to spend your spare time snacking on that chocolate cake that your mother sent you and to make frequent trips to the candy machine.

Is it worth it? A thousand girls will answer, "Yes, yes, yes." nothing in the world is worth more than the sympathetic silence of your roommate when you come in with eyes suspiciously bright. Regardless of how many flights of stairs you must climb you know that at the end of them there are friends and fun and a friendly shoulder if you need it.

Our dormitories will always be a second home to us, the place where we smiled, laughed, cried, and, in some cases, nurtured a spark of love. A dormitory is a home of sharing, and the world could certainly stand a little more of that. We are learning as much in those brick buildings as in the classrooms, for in them we are learning about ourselves and, through ourselves, about others.

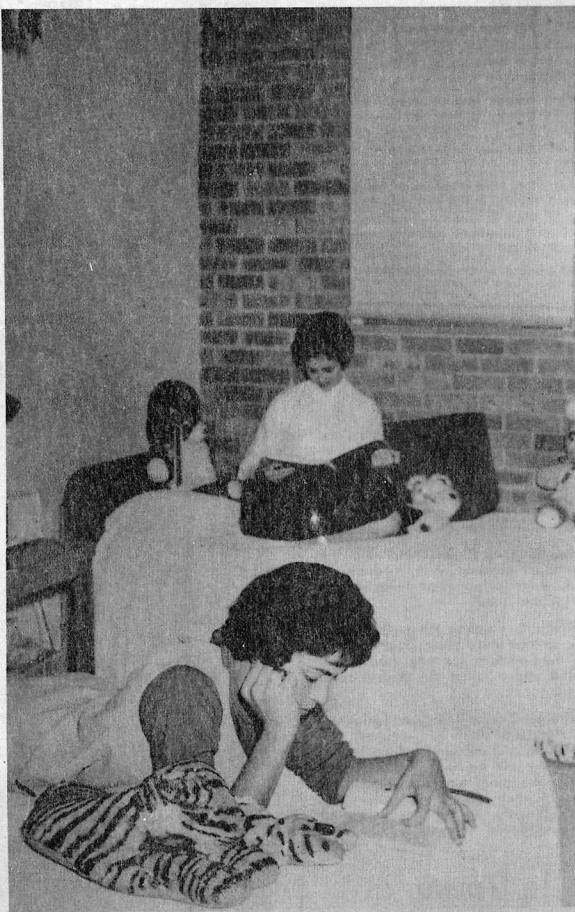

So perhaps a part of that childish dream is gone, but a part of it still lives inside each one of us. It will go on living, nourished by the knowledge that someone cares enough to build such a place for us and the realization that someday a wonderful house mother will welcome our little girls to just such a place where they will grow into the kind of young women that will mold tomorrow.

STUDY DESKS are provided in every room with desk lamps and double storage space for both occupants of the rooms. The rooms are supplied with double closets and plenty of drawer space.

RECREATION ROOMS are the scenes of a great deal of chatter and playful fun. This one, in Beard Hall, has a vast amount of recreation equipment, including stereo and television equipment.

OCCUPANTS OF the dormitories enjoy many leisure hours, and many of them are spent in friendly conversation with roommates and friends or quiet study.

Pi Sigma Epsilon

Zeta Chapter of Pi Sigma Epsilon National Sales and Marketing Fraternity has announced its new fall campus sales promotion for this year. The sale of "ISO-KITS" will headline the fraternity sales project. Pledges will have their opportunity for earning their fee by selling these revolutionary new muscle building kits.

Tom Bailey, vice-president of marketing, claims that this should be the biggest promotion in the chapter's history.

Anyone interested in isometric contraction is urged to contact any member of Pi Sigma Epsilon for complete information.

Delta Omicron

Omicron Epsilon chapter of Delta Omicron International Music Fraternity held its Fall Semester initiation and pledging ceremonies last Thursday night in Fine Arts Lounge.

Initiation was held for Linda Clement, sophomore piano major from Farmerville, La. Immediately following this initiation, Alma Jane Sasser, freshman piano major from Zwolle, La., was read in as the fraternity's pledge for the Fall Semester.

The regular meeting was held Friday afternoon. A songfest served as both the monthly musicale and a get-together welcoming the new member.

Kappa Psi

The Fall Semester pledge class of Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity met on Tuesday, October 16, and held their election of officers.

Officers elected included Ronald Ainsworth from Baton Rouge, President; Roy Hubbard from Marshall, Texas, Vice-President; Paul Folse from Lafayette, Secretary-Treasurer; and Milton Toups from Kaplan, Historian.

Gamma Mu Chapter was represented at the Province VII Convention held on the campus of the University of Kansas City in Kansas City, Missouri, recently.

The province includes eight collegiate chapters and three graduate chapters from Tennessee, Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Mississippi, and Kentucky. Gamma Theta Chapter of the University of Kansas City, along with a few of their alumni, served as host.

Buddy Stroud, Robby LeBlanc, and John Belaire were delegates to the convention.

Representing Alpha Chapter was the Grand Secretary-Treasurer Frank H. Eby, who was the featured speaker at a banquet held to formally close the convention.

Doctor August G. Danti, faculty advisor of the local group, was elected Saitrap, governor of the province.

Sigma Tau Delta

Students majoring or minoring in English who are interested in joining Sigma Tau Delta are invited to attend a meeting of the fraternity in room 207 of the College Union Building Nov. 6.

The Writer's Club and Sigma Tau will meet jointly at the 7 p.m. meeting.

Veterans Club

The newly organized Veterans Club at Northeast will hold a meeting Tuesday, Nov. 6, to elect officers for the group.

The meeting will be held in room 205 of the College Union Building at 7 p.m.

All veterans are urged to attend the meeting.

Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation started off the school year with a Western Party to welcome the newcomers on campus.

After that, the group started its regular schedule which includes Sunday night church services, Wednesday night program, Thursday dinners, and Tuesday afternoon Bible discussions. At the last Wednesday night program, the group featured an international program with students from Jordan, Thailand, and Greece participating. Featured next week will be Polly Lassiter, who will speak on missions.

Members of the group are invited to attend a supper party at the director's home tonight.

Alpha Omicron Pi

Lambda Tau chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority at Northeast State College read in a new pledge at the weekly business meeting.

New pledge for the social organization is Wanda Adcock, freshman sociology major from Monroe.

Wanda is the daughter of Mrs. Ozie Adcock and the late Reverend Ernest C. Adcock.

December first is the date selected for the AO Pi annual Christmas dance. The semi-formal affair will be held from 8 to 12 p.m. on the Francis Roof.

Music for dancing will be provided by the Abstracts, a local band.

Recently the AO Pi pledge class entertained the Phi Mu pledges at a conversational hour in the campus Union Building.

Social Science Club

Members of the Social Science Club at Northeast traveled to the State Fair in Shreveport last week. They attended the Ice Capades and the football game.

Faculty advisor Thomas R. McCann

Drill Team Performs Last Week

The Pershing Rifles, Co. Y-6 of Northeast La. State College, marched in the State Fair Parade last week at Shreveport.

This drill team, composed mostly of freshmen, also marched in the NLSHC Homecoming Parade and performed at the home football games.

The Pershing Rifles is a national honorary military society for basic and advanced course cadets that are outstanding in ROTC.

Co. Y-6 is one of the 174 units of Pershing Rifles all over the United States. Presently the estimated strength of all units is 4,500 men.

Co. Y-6 is commanded by Cadet Capt. Wynn Jefferson of Monroe. The 18-man drill team is commanded by Cadet Sergeant John C. Taylor of Waco, Texas.

Marching with the drill team was the honorary sponsor of Co. Y-6, Miss Linda Welch, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett O. Welch of Monroe. Miss Welch was also featured in a special presentation during the half-time performance.

said that the trip was made possible by funds received in the recent mum sale during Northeast's Homecoming.

ELECTION

Elections will be held on the Northeast campus next Wednesday, Nov. 8, to select class favorites for the school year.

Students went to the polls yesterday to nominate their favorites and the nominations are now being tabulated and a list of the leaders compiled.

The election is being conducted by the class presidents at Northeast and the Student Government Association. Voting will be held in the Student Union Building and students must present their student identification cards in order to vote, according to the presidents.

FOUND

A lady's watch was found on the Northeast State College campus during the first week of school this year.

The watch is now in the office of the Dean of Student Services, Fred J. Vogel, in Stubbs Hall.

Anyone having lost such a watch is requested to go by the office and identify the article. Also, anyone knowing of a person who lost such an article is requested to notify them that it has been found.

Four Indians Improve Ratings

Two veterans and two rookies moved up in Northeast State football statistics with good performances in last week's contest against Southwestern at Shreveport.

Senior quarterback Pete Vincent scored all 10 of Northeast's points in the game last week to move into second place in scoring with a total of 15 and also led Indian backs with 88 yards running and passing, giving him 150 yards for the year and third place in individual total offense.

Vincent has been Northeast's most effective back for the past two games. The elusive runner from Indianola, Miss., started Northeast's opening game against Lamar Tech but had a bad night, ending the contest with a minus nine yards and severely spraining an ankle late in the tilt. He did not play in the East Texas State game because of the injury, was called up by the National Guard in the Ole Miss integration crisis and missed a week of practice. He returned to handle place kicking duties against Northwestern and McNeese and did not return to full-time offensive duty until the Oct. 20 Southeastern game, when he gained 71 yards.

Another senior, Gordon Salsman, grabbed three passes Saturday night for 35 yards. The tough winback, who has been one of Northeast's top defensive stars throughout the season, now has five catches for 72 yards, the most yardage gained on the receiving end of passes by any Indian.

The leading Northeast receiver in number of catches is freshman end Sherrel Smith of Springhill, who caught two throws Saturday to give him a total of six for the year.

Freshman Robert Payne of Monroe was Northeast's top rusher in the Southwestern game with 72 yards and now has 149 for the year, third highest rushing figure on the team. Payne did not carry the ball in Northeast's first game and missed another because of illness.

Payne and Smith are just two of several outstanding freshmen on the Northeast team who make the Tribe's grid prospects bright for the next several years despite the loss of Vincent, Salsman and four other seniors—guard Billy Foster and Larry Rambin, tackle Ross Nolan and halfback Joe Thrailkill.

PETE VINCENT is dragged down by two Southwestern tacklers after picking up yardage in last week's game in Shreveport. Making the tackle are Freddie Byars (No. 15) and Eddie Chenevert (No. 25). Other players are Paul Waters (No. 83) and Dave Cavalier (No. 43).

Poimboeuf Kicks USL To 18-10 GSC Victory

Kicking specialist L. J. Poimboeuf led the University of Southwestern Louisiana to an 18-10 Gulf States Conference victory over Northeast in last week's encounter in Shreveport's State Fair Stadium.

Poimboeuf, a senior from Franklin, kicked field goals of 43 and 26 yards en route to the win. In addition, he had one boot of 55 yards nullified by a penalty.

The Indians opened the scoring in the first period on a 29-yard field goal by quarterback Pete Vincent, who picked up all of the Northeast points.

Southwestern then bounced back in the same period to tie the score on Poimboeuf's 43-yard boot.

the halftime. The Tribe score was tallied by Vincent on a one-yard plunge.

This was the fourth consecutive time the Indians have held a lead in the final half and then lost the game. Against Northwestern they led 17-6 going into the last quarter, against McNeese it was 8-7 until midway in the third stanza, and against Southeastern the score was 12-6 until the final minutes of the ball game. But each time the opponent has come charging back to snatch an apparent victory from the luckless Tribe.

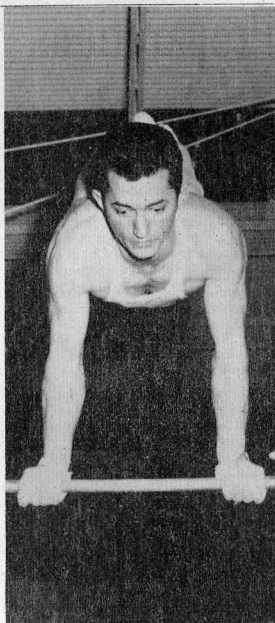

Such was the case last weekend. Angered by the halftime deficit, the Bulldogs forged into an 18-10 lead in the third quarter on a two-yard plunge by quarterback Lindsey Landry and Poimboeuf's final field goal.

This score stood throughout the final period, although the Indians, with Ronnie Myrick at the helm, drove to the Bulldog 12 midway in the fourth quarter, only to have the drive stymied by a pass interception by Resweber, who took the pigskin in on his own five-yard line and galloped to the Indian 36 before being pulled down from behind by Myrick.

Landry led all ball carriers with 77 yards on 16 carries, while Resweber lugged the ball 12 times for 59 yards.

For the Indians little Robert Payne burst through the Southwestern line repeatedly to rack up 72 yards on 14 attempts. Vincent turned in his second sparkling performance in a row, picking up 65 yards rushing, in addition to passing for 23 more. The loss dropped the Indians deeper into the GSC cellar with an 0-4 slate. Meanwhile, USL moved into contention for the league crown with a 2-1 mark. Overall Northeast is 1-5 and Southwestern is 3-3-1.

The Indians are idle this week, while USL will meet Austin College.

GENE HUFFTY has been named assistant coach of this year's Northeast State gymnastics squad. Huffty won seven individual titles on last year's team, thereby making him the school's top performer.

Johnson Reports Gymnastics Team Talent-Loaded

Northeast gymnastics coach Barry Johnson reports that this year's team is loaded with talent of one kind or another.

Johnson said the ten team members have eight years experience in football, nine years in basketball, five years in track and field, 12 years in baseball, and nine years in gymnastics. In addition, the team is composed of a Golden Gloves boxing champ and a two-time diving champ.

Huffty was last year's top performer, winning seven individual gymnastic titles; while Krieger won three first places despite sitting out part of the season with an injury.

Other lettermen returning are Copes, last year's first place winner in the Southern A.A.U. Novice division tumbling championships, Jefferson, and Walker.

Each member of the team has won high school letters in some sport other than gymnastics with the exception of Jefferson and Walker. The boxing champ on the team is Adams, while the diving specialist is Frazier.

Johnson is optimistic about this year's team, which will open the season against the University of Southwestern Louisiana in Lafayette.

Last Week's Heroes

ROBERT PAYNE raced for 72 yards on 14 carries to lead the Indians in ground gaining.

PETE VINCENT was the second leading rusher with 65 yards on 13 tries, in addition to tallying all of the Tribe's points.

GORDON SALSMAN snagged three passes, good for 35 yards.

JOE ALEWINE made several key tackles to rank as one of the Indians' defensive standouts.

JOE THRILLKILL returned three punts for 27 yards to take over the team lead in that department.

Northeast has nine freshmen playing on its first three teams—Smith, Payne, tackles Alden Fontenot, Preston Hollier and Wayne Clement, guard Billy Ross Graves, center Johnny Nolan, end Gary Jones and fullback Ronnie Graham.

The Indians also have 13 other freshmen who have not played in a game this year but who are rated promising prospects. This group includes quarterbacks Warren LaSalle and Dee Faircloth, fullbacks Sonny Bondurant and David Elkin, halfbacks Alton Thomas and Ray Pommier, center Mike Core, guards Jewel McBroom, James Kirkendall and Dwain Jacobs, tackle Melvin Doucet and ends Omar Driskill and Stanley Willson. Although they have not played in a game, these players are gaining valuable experience running opponents' offenses and defenses against the Tribe varsity.

Then in the second quarter of play, the Bulldogs jumped into an temporary 9-3 lead on Bert Resweber's two-yard run. Oddly enough, Poimboeuf then missed the first of his two extra point attempts for the night.

But then back came the Indians, following the same script they have all season, and took a 10-9 lead at

This week will probably go a long way in determining who finishes at the top of the tough Gulf States Conference race this season.

Two key games which should figure heavily in the final outcome are the McNeese-Northwestern contest in Lake Charles and the Southeastern-Louisiana Tech tilt in Ruston.

The Lake Charles battle will pit the two schools picked by the coaches as one-two in pre-season polls. Northwestern was picked as the team to beat in the GSC, and at this stage is still unbeaten in league play although they lost a non-league fray to Florence State and tied powerful Louisiana College.

McNeese, on the other hand, opened the year in unimpressive style, losing 14-6 to Louisiana Tech after being selected for the conference's second slot. However, the Cowboys have come on strong since that loss and now have a 1-1 GSC record and a 3-1-1 overall slate.

The two teams have met four common opponents thus far, and judging by comparative scores (a very tricky method of comparison) the squads appear to be fairly evenly matched.

Both teams had easy times with outmanned Mexico Poly, and both scored late to squeak by Northeast. This is where the similarity ends. Whereas McNeese lost to Tech, the Demons trampled the Ruston squad, 19-2. However, Northwestern managed only a 7-7 tie with Louisiana College, and McNeese pounded out a 28-12 victory over the Wildcats. No matter who is favored or what the outcome of the game, this contest should be one of the best of the year in the GSC.

In Ruston Coach Stan Galloway's Southeastern team, relegated to third place in pre-season estimations, attempts to keep its record unblemished and remain among the nation's top-rated small college elevens. In their first five games, the Lions have been pressed only once, that in the Northeast fracas. However, in Tech, the Lions are meeting a team which has been bounced around like a basketball. In their five contests to date, the Techmen have a 3-2 record, however, they have failed to win two consecutive games.

Following the McNeese victory, Tech fell to Southwestern, bounced back against Arlington State, suffered the loss to Northwestern, and then last week topped Tennessee Tech. This should turn out to be another top game of the year.

In the week's other activity, Southwestern goes against a supposedly weak Austin College team in a Friday night encounter in Lafayette.

This corner's football prognosticating improved somewhat last week with the addition of Southeastern Conference contests. Of the 12 games selected, we compiled an 8-3-1 record for the best single effort of the season. This raised the year's chart to 15-9-4, still well below average.

And this week's list of games is not one to fatten up our average on. On the contrary, our percentage could well go down with games such as L.S.U.-Mississippi, Louisiana Tech-Southeastern, and Northwestern-McNeese facing us this time.

This corner's best selection of last week was the L.S.U.-Florida game which we had tabbed 21-0. The final outcome was 23-0 (lucked up on that one).

Somewhat encouraged, here go this week's predictions.

SOUTHEASTERN 21 LOUISIANA TECH 13—Tech has had its ups and downs and this should be a down week.

NORTHWESTERN 14 McNEESE 8—The Demons are en route to the GSC championship, and should not be stopped, at least until they meet Southeastern.

SOUTHWESTERN 20 AUSTIN 6—L. J. Poimbeuf should be able to kick enough field goals to win this game.

L.S.U. 14 MISSISSIPPI 0—This corner thinks the Tigers are a touch-down better than the Rebels, and playing in Baton Rouge gives the Bayou Bengals another seven-point margin.

MISSISSIPPI STATE 13 ALABAMA 10—This is our upset of the week, and more likely, the year. The Maroons evidently were looking forward to this game when they lost to Memphis State last week, so why spoil their plans.

AUBURN 14 FLORIDA 7—This could be a higher-scoring game. Auburn is undefeated, and the Gators have a powerful offensive machine, although they did not show it against L.S.U.

TULANE 19 VIRGINIA TECH 14—The Greenies take victory number one.

KEN NEWTON, the Indians' leading ground gainer this season, was injured in last week's game, and it was feared that he had a shoulder fracture. However, the diagnosis showed otherwise, and the junior letterman from Delhi is expected to be ready for the Louisiana Tech game Nov. 10.

Indians Begin Preparations For Bulldogs

Northeast State's football team enjoys a welcome open date this Saturday before playing its final two games of the campaign, a home contest against Gulf States Conference rival Louisiana Tech Nov. 10 and a road date with Delta State Nov. 17.

The Indian footballers lost to the University of Southwestern Louisiana, 18-10, last Saturday night in Shreveport. The defeat was the fourth in a row for Northeast, all in GSC competition.

Northeast came out of the Southwestern clash in good shape with Coach Jack Rowan getting good news Monday on the condition of star tailback Ken Newton, injured early in the USL game. It was feared Newton suffered a shoulder fracture but doctors reported Monday that the junior back had no broken bones and should be ready to play against Tech in two weeks.

Newton, Northeast's leading ground gainer, was hurt in the first quarter Saturday and saw no more action in the game.

Of more concern to Rowan and his staff was the condition of sophomore halfback Dean Mann. Mann, troubled by a charlie horse last week, aggravated the injury Saturday night and may be sidelined for at least several days.

The only other player to be injured Saturday was starting end Tommy Latham, who suffered a bruised hand.

Coach Jack Rowan is expected to emphasize defense in drills this week. The Indian mentor termed Northeast's tackling in the Southwestern game the worst of the season.

Rowan also said he and his staff are considering trying out sophomore quarterback Ronnie Myrick, the team's offensive leader, at tailback. Myrick, the fastest man on the squad, has seen spot service this year at wingback and end as a pass receiver but has never run from a halfback position.

Rowan said that if Myrick is shifted to tailback the switch would not be permanent and Myrick would see action at both the halfback post and at quarterback.

Pick The Winners

Competition stiffened even more in last week's Pow Wow football predictions as 13 persons tied with 12 correct selections among the 15 games listed.

Since entries are required to pick the score of the Northeast game in case of a first-place deadlock, ten of the 13 were eliminated from the eligible winners by picking the Indians as victors.

Of the three eligible entries, Roy Ratcliff of Winnsboro was declared the winner of the $5 gift certificate from Sol Snyder's in a close race over Paul Tubbs and Billy Pee.

Ratcliff set the score of the NLSC-USL contest at 20-13, while Tubbs said 14-12, and Pee 21-17.

Following the leaders, 24 persons picked 11 correct games, and 26 others called 10 contests correctly.

The major stumbling block in last week's list was the Mississippi State Memphis State upset. Of the 11 leaders, only faculty member Bob Murdock picked the Tennessee crew to win, and overall only four entries selected the game correctly.

Another upset which stumped a number of entrants was the Ohio State-Wisconsin encounter.

Since Northeast does not have game this week, persons entering the contest should predict the score of the L.S.U.-Mississippi game. Entries should be in the News Bureau (Stubbs Hall Room 218) by 4 p.m. today. Next week's list should be in by 4 p.m. Nov. 9.
