By DONNIE McCULLIN

Today every person of Irish descent is wearing green.

At last they should be because this is a big holiday for the Irish and they don't take kindly to people who are unpatriotic. In fact, it might be a good idea to put on a little green even if your name is Pzcolkowiczvich because some emerald islander might get worked up if he spots someone he thinks doesn't like Ireland.

If you haven't caught on yet then take a look at the nearest calendar. You will find that it is March 17, which happens to be St. Patrick's Day.

The story of how this day became such an event is long and complicated, but I have reduced it down to a few basic facts that you can read and spout out at parties where there are mean looking Irishmen anxious to find someone ignorant of the glories of their native land.

Patron Saint

St. Patrick is the patron saint of Ireland. He was born around 387 A.D. at Bannevem, a town whose location has not yet been agreed on, but was probably in England or Scotland even if Patrick is an Irish name. At the age of 16 Patrick was captured by a band of Irish pirates, who believed that things that are Irish belong to Ireland.

History does not tell us how Patrick fared with these jolly brigands, but there is no reason to suppose that they did not enjoy one another's company.

However, all good things come to an end. For the pirates this happened the day they ran out of money. They could not sell the ship since it was their means of livelihood and unemployment compensation had not yet been invented. So they liquidated their only other negotiable asset — Patrick.

Becomes Devout Christian

They sold him to a chieftain named Ulster. Like all politicians, Ulster did a little farming on the side so he put Patrick to herding sheep. Six years of this turned him into a devout Christian, which says something for his character. Most people would have been turned into something else — like devout mutton haters.

Eventually Patrick managed to escape his woolly comrades and he fled to France. There he became a monk. He planned to spend the rest of his life converting the French, but in 432 a vision caused him to return to Ireland as a missionary. The sheep's loss turned out to be the church's gain. Patrick

Thing-A-Ma-Gig Board Highlights 'New' Northeast Snack Bar Appearance

Attention! All Northeast Louisiana State College students.

The Thing-A-Ma-Gig Board wants you.

No, this is not a "plug" for television or an advertisement for that greasy "kid stuff," but this is Northeast's version of Candid Camera.

Robert DeMoss, director of Auxiliary Enterprises, announced that major changes, which are being started today, are slated for the ballroom, the snack bar and the trophy room with major changes including such things as draperies, painting, paneling, pictures, greenery or pot plants.

Highlighting the extensive changes is Northeast's version of Candid Camera, The Thing-A-Ma-Gig Board.

The glass-enclosed board, which is located in the new dining room of the snack bar, will feature photographs of students as they really act in campus life.

From the numerous photographs of the NLSC student in his natural surroundings, the best candid snapshot of the student will appear every week in the snack bar advertisement in the Pow-Wow.

Small Prize

In addition to the Pow-Wow advertisement, the winner will receive a small prize.

Located between the trophy room and the snack bar, the ballroom has been designated as a dancing and relaxing area for students to bring dates to eat and dance or for the student to relax.

The ballroom, which will be renamed later through a contest open to all students with a small prize awarded to the winning student's suggestion, is receiving major facelift.

A new innovation is taking place in the ballroom with an area chained-off and exclusively for dancing.

With the 5:30 p.m.-9:30 p.m. dancing period, the snack bar has control and supervision of this chained-off area.

On various nights a band will come in and participate in the jam session. The names of the bands and the time that each band will play will be posted near the Board in the new dining room.

The snack bar's "new look" in entertainment will begin Wednesday, March 22, with NLSC's Jazz Ensemble playing in the ballroom from 11:45 a.m.-12:45 p.m.

Also for the dancing set, contests will be held during the week with the best two couples, who will be selected by student judges, will be given a fried chicken dinner or the equivalent.

DeMoss said that the ballroom is designed to make the students feel that this is their room and not just a place to come between classes.

Pictures

To achieve the student atmosphere, pictures of famous Northeast students and events are being placed on the walls surrounding the room.

Such pictures will feature Miss Northeast, Miss Chacahoula, star athletes of the past and pictures of special events at Northeast.

On the construction end of the remodeling, the stage in the room has been removed with the placing of booths next to the wall opposite the fireplace and surrounding wall next to the old snack bar.

The snack bar is another part of Northeast's mod look.

The college snack bar specializes in the short-order department, which serves potato chips, pies and other short-order varieties instead of the complete hot lunches.

With the new short-order set-up, a fountain and ice cream box has been installed to replace the hot lunch serving line. The fountain (See CUB, Page 7)

Faith And Life Forum Schedules Three-Night Event Beginning March 29

"Let the Arts Speak" is the theme of the faith and Life Forum scheduled for Wednesday, March 29, through Friday, March 31, and sponsored by Northeast's Religious Life Committee.

The three-night event will include an evening of plays directed by students in Speech 211; a music and slide-lecture by the Northeast Choir and Robert L. Short, the author of "The Gospel According to Peanuts," and an Academy Award nominated movie, "David and Lisa."

An art exhibit from March 28 to April 17 in the CUB, featuring woodcuts by Robert Hodgell, professor of art at Florida Presbyterian College, St. Petersburg, is also part of the Faith and Life Forum.

All of the activities will begin at 6:30 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

Plays Scheduled

The Theater of the Absurd plays, which will be presented on Wednesday, March 29, include excerpts from "J.B." by Archibald MacLeish, "Aria De Capo" by Edna St. Vincent Milay, and "The Sandbox" by Edward Albee.

Student performers in "J.B.," directed by Mrs. Bobette Brodie, an English major from Monroe, are Ronn Robinson, Charles Henry, Bill Chandler, Barry Vishnick and Wayne McLaurin.

Holly Bayne Casey, speech major from Monroe, will direct "Aria De Capo," and the cast includes Benton Lackey, Chuck Abbott, Linda Thompson, David Stanhope and Charles Machen.

Cast members under the direction of speech major Jeanie Taylor of Monroe are Linda Lawrence, Chuck Stanearth, Frances Yeldell, R. C. Kirk Jr. and Ken Garrison.

Exploration Session

Following the plays, Daniel Alvarez, assistant professor of English, and Theodore Boyd, instructor in speech, will conduct a depth exploration session for students wishing to respond to the dramas.

The Northeast Choir, under the direction of Davis Bingham, associate professor of music, will open the program on Thursday, March 30, with three folk hymns and a medley from "The Sound of Music." The folk hymns will be "The Traveler," "The Morning Trumpet" and "The Highlands of Heaven."

Featured speaker for the evening will be Robert L. Short, author of the best selling non-fiction title in 1965, "The Gospel According to Peanuts." Mr. Short, who has written several articles relating theology and the arts, will conduct a slide-lecture on "Peanuts."

Film to Be Shown

"David and Lisa," a 1962 film which deals with the adjustment to the world and to one another by an emotionally disturbed adolescent boy and a 15-year-old schizophrenic girl in a mental home, will be the final presentation of the Faith and Life Forum on Friday, March 31.

A film reaction session, led by Dr. Oscar Walley, assistant professor of psychology, and Dr. Frank Forwood, assistant professor of sociology, will follow the film.

The Faith and Life Forum, which is replacing "Religious Emphasis Week," is the result of answers to questionnaires, which were sent during the summer by the Campus Chaplains' Association to all elected officers of campus organizations.

Special guest at the March 9 meeting of the Student Government Association was Mrs. Era B. Davis of the home economics department.

Mrs. Davis discussed plans with the Student Senate for the tea honoring the participants in the Miss Northeast Pageant. The tea is set for April 13. Girls from AOPi, Pi Mu, Kappa Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha will be asked to serve as tea girls and to address invitations.

Billy Coenen reported that he had received permission from the Highway Department to place a road sign for Northeast on Highway 165. He also reported that the neon sign could be put on 165. Administration and students will discuss a suitable spot for the sign and turn over their request to the Highway Department for final approval.

The Ring Proposal for the new contract passed the Senate. The only change in the appearance of the ring will be that on the head of the ring it will read Northeast Louisiana State. The word College will be eliminated thus allowing the remaining words to be in larger lettering.

Robert Short To Speak At Faith Forum

Robert L. Short, author of "The Gospel According to Peanuts," which was the best selling non-fiction title in 1965, will speak at the Faith and Life Forum Wednesday, March 29, 6:30 p.m. in Brown Auditorium.

Short began using Peanuts' cartoons as a type of modern-day parable on a morning devotional television series, which expanded into a full-length program and speaking tours.

The author, who has had several articles published which relate theology and arts, is working toward a Ph.D. degree at the University of Chicago in that field.

He received his master's degree from North Texas State University and has had experience as a professional actor, radio announcer and production director, acting director and teacher. He also holds a B.A. degree from the University of Oklahoma and a B.D. from Southern Methodist University.

GERMAN CONSUL GUENTHER HABELT . . .
 . . . speaks on cultural changes in Germany.

German Consul Outlines Country's Cultural Changes

Phases of German culture for the last 50 years were outlined by Guenther Habelt in a talk on "Cultural Changes in Modern Germany" to a capacity audience in the College Union Building last Friday night.

Habelt, a native of Berlin and in charge of cultural exchange for the Ark-La-Miss area, said that the past has played a very influential role on German culture. His speech was sponsored by Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity.

After World War I, the consul said that the Germans felt optimistic towards the future and their cultural life. However, "after World War II," he said, "no such feeling existed."

After the second world war, most phases of German culture including libraries, museums, theatres and opera houses did not exist. The German people had to start over in the cultural fields.

Period of Development

With the post-war period of development, a new breed of artists and intellectuals who brought Germany forward arose.

The city of Berlin, Habelt noted, is the only place where the East and West touch and influence each other. All over Berlin are located artistic centers, which bring together the influences of both the East and West.

Other aspects of German culture are the theatres and opera houses, which are not privately owned, but are subsidized by the cities and areas that the theatres are located in. The theatres are "calling cards" in the cities all over Germany and Europe, Habelt noted.

Theatres

The theatres, which are set-up all over Europe, are placed in any type of quarters, including barns. Furthermore, the theatres, usually only miles apart, conduct theatre marriages, which includes conducting plays in one city and operas in the other city a few miles away.

Another aspect of German culture is painting and music. He said that modern Germany is re-adopting and adapting some of the older traditions of the past 50 years. Painting and music are not encircled by language, but they portray internal happiness of the present style of German expression.

Developments since World War II have influenced many aspects of German culture.

Historical Consciousness

The consul noted that there is still a lack of historical consciousness, but the younger generation has caused the eye of the public to be opened.

In the modern-day approach to culture, Habelt said, a positive approach must be taken.

Also included in Germany's modern cultural changes are radio and television. More emphasis has been placed on educating the German people towards developing a fuller culture in Germany.

After his talk, Habelt entertained a question and answer period in which he discussed many questions on world affairs.

Following the talk and discussion period, a reception was held.

In his old age Patrick wrote a book in Latin which he called "Confession." It was the story of his life and is the main source of knowledge about him. Two stories which he did not include were the ones about running all the snakes out of Ireland and the one about planting the shamrock. Today most of his fame rests on these two events which proves that fust Irishmen couldn't read Latin too well.

When Patrick died he was proclaimed a saint and March 17 became his feast day which in Ireland became quite an event. When the supply of potatoes ran short and Irishmen began to migrate to America they brought the custom with them.

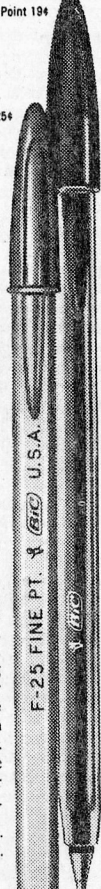

Now everyone is required to wear green and be jolly on March 17. So if you are wearing some other color or have a frown on your face you'd better shape up. There might be a Kelly or an O'Toole nearby.

A research paper co-authored by Dr. Barry Johnson, assistant professor of health and physical education, was presented at the national convention of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation in Las Vegas last weekend.

Johnson's co-author of the paper, "The Effect of Applying Different Motivational Techniques During Training and Testing Upon Strength Performance," is Dr. Jack K. Nel-

Join The KKK

If you had the opportunity to join the KKK, would you accept the challenges offered by it and do the very best to your ability?

The KKK is now open to "responsible" students who will accept the challenge of doing things to aid the betterment of his club.

However, there are certain qualifications that you must fulfill.

To become a member of the KKK you must be a student of Northeast, be able to accept responsibilities and work to the best of your ability, to maintain the high respect of the KKK and also see to it that other people in no way bring disgrace to your college.

Still want to be a KKK member? There are many students who have secretly joined this club and are still striving to do their very best job.

What is the KKK?

The KKK stands for Keep our Kub Klean.

Beginning today, a "new" look is coming to the College Union Building. It will be up to the students to keep the KUB activities going at full strength.

As of today, all systems are "go", but each step is being carefully watched and any crisis which might arise could seriously hurt the chances for further improvements in the Northeast "new" look.

If each student will take the KKK campaign as a personal project, then perhaps the administration will give full approval to continue the "new" look and Northeast will have student controlled activity once again.

Rebels Of The Steps

From The Scribe, University of Bridgeport, Conn., comes this excerpt.

"If you feel that you paid too much for your books in the past weeks or that you can't get used editions often enough, don't blame the University bookstore.

"Exhibiting a receipt from McGraw-Hill, a well-known publishing firm, bookstore manager Milton S. Aldrich said, "You see, the student has to pay the price which the publisher dictates. We have no say in the matter."

And thus, another bookstore controversy is brought to light.

It seems that students are in rebellion to the prices and charges of the bookstores, but when the policies and procedures are explained to them, they react with such notions as, "Oh, it is nothing but a big propaganda program," or "That is just the administration's view and they are actually hiding the real reasons."

Awaken, you rebels of the bookstore steps.

If you cannot accept the policy as is stated, then what would you accept . . . a signed and dated document?

It seems that regardless of the "facts" which are presented to you that you simply shift your beliefs and statements to some other topic. This is fine.

It is your freedom as an American to think as you wish . . . but must you keep rebelling against the truth just because some of your friends (or you) won't accept the truth?

Editor's Notebook

By Pat Herlevic

" . . . One fool expos'd makes pastime for the rest." —Poor Robin's Calendar for 1728

People in America and England who are told that there is a bug on their shoulder or that the president has declared a holiday grin as graciously as they can when they hear the derisive cry of "April Fool!" However, few, if any, realize how ancient this saying is, and that it deals with superstitious beliefs which interpreted symbolically the mysteries of nature.

Ancient people invented superstitious beliefs and customs around events such as their New Year, a spring holiday, when mythical beings played hide and seek in imitation of nature with the emotions of these men.

No one knows exactly the origin of this superstitious saying. Many traces in folklore of races and nations couple it with the mythology of the Hindu, the Romans and other ancients, when fears were associated with the imaginary doings of gods and goddesses in charge of the New Year, which varied somewhat in different countries. Among the Romans it was about March 25, and the festivities ended about April 1.

Roman Legend

In Roman mythology there is a legend that indicates that "April Fool's Day" may be a relic of the festival of Cerealia, held at the beginning of April. The tale comes from the Greeks and relates that Prosperina or Persephone was sporting in the Elysian meadows and had just filled her lap with daffodils, when Pluto carried her off to the lower world, where he made her his wife.

Her mother, Demeter, searched for her disconsolately through long wanderings. In her anger and despair, she made the earth barren until it was arranged that Persephone should spend two-thirds of the year with her. Ceres was the Roman name for Demeter, and it is poetically said that Ceres heard the echo of her daughter's screams and went in search of the voice, but her search was a fool's errand, since all she found was the "echo of a scream."

Indian Festival

In India, a festival corresponding to the Roman festival of Cerealia, and known as the Huli Festival, occurs on March 31. It has been an immemorial custom to celebrate this occasion by playing tricks on others, and on the last day of the festivities, which are dedicated to the vernal equinox, people for generations have amused themselves by sending their friends on foolish and fruitless errands.

Someone's imagination has connected April Fool's Day with Noah's mistake in sending out the first dove before the waters had abated. According to Hebrew legend, this occurred on the first day of the old Hebrew month that corresponds to our April.

Other Explanations

There are some persons who explain April Fool as related to the uncertainty of the weather in April. Another explanation is related to the mockery trial of Christ, the Redeemer, when he was sent hither and thither, or as they say, from Annas to Caiaphas, from Caiaphas to Pilate, and from Pilate to Herod and from Herod back to Pilate; the crucifixion having taken place about April 1.

Brooklyn College — Dropped from the teaching staff this semester is perhaps one of his student's best friends.

Gerald Gardner, instructor of English and elementary composition and literature courses, is considered "unemployable" to the college because he refused to grade his students, or rather he refused to give anything except A's.

Gardner told his students at the beginning of the term that they would all receive A's because letter grades were "meaningless." They serve only to disrupt the academic process of the university, he was reported to have said.

Having "cleared the air" with his announcement, Gardner told his 45 students that he would require a great deal of work.

Demonstrations

ACP — If college administrators think they have it rough dealing with today's demonstration-happy students, a look at some "demonstrations" in the early 1800's might convince them that they don't have it so bad after all, comments the University of Maryland Diamond-back.

In those days students were fined, suspended or expelled for such offenses as using profanity, playing billiards, associating with "idle or dissolute persons," traveling more than two miles from campus or attending the theater.

Reacting to such harsh discipline, students at Hobart College heated cannon balls till they were red-hot and rolled them down a dormitory corridor, seriously injuring a faculty member.

In 1807 Princeton expelled more than 60 per cent (125 of an enrollment of 200) of its student body for rioting. Seven years later some pyrotechnically-minded Princeton Tigers constructed a giant firecracker out of a hollow log packed with two pounds of gunpowder and nearly blew up a campus building.

Not to be outdone by Princeton, students at Bowdoin in 1827 set off powder charges under several tutors' chairs. Three students were expelled and 20 more were disciplined.

Smashing things was in vogue at several colleges. At Harvard it was crockery. In 1817 freshmen and sophomores demolished every piece of china the college owned.

At Princeton, students, for some reason, felt the windows had to go. Princeton students did it with rocks but North Carolina students got in some target practice by shooting out every window in sight.

But today's faculty and administrators will perhaps be most thankful that they don't feel student anger as directly as many of their predecessors in the 1800's did.

For example, University of Virginia students, upset over what they considered excessive classroom work, horsewhipped several faculty members.

In 1817 Princeton activists pelted some of the faculty with wine bottles and firewood. And just before graduation in 1824, Dartmouth students stoned a professor.

Ah, for the "good-old" days.

Easter Vacation

Well, it's nearly that time again, so let's leave our huts and get out of our ruts. I remember last year a friend of mine took a swinging vacation. He was in a Snit (a new compact car) and drove down to Acapulco and met a beautiful Sonora. Those are both Spanish words. Acapulco means "without music" and Sonora means "a married Mexican woman who snores."

It was quite a trip. When he finally got his road map folded, he discovered his car was inside it. So he paddled a four-foot polyethylene kayak all the way up the coast to Los Angeles, taking the scenic inland water route and living entirely off a giant watermelon he carried in his costly cardboard suitcase, plus a dozen chili sandwiches and a gallon jug of water which he got for only 10 pesos FOB. That means Full of Bacteria. He sent so many postcards during the trip that he gained 12 pounds from the high-calorie mucilage on the stamps.

He wasn't sure that his Snit would make the trip and someone warned him before he left that if it broke down the repair work would have to be done by manual labor. Luckily, it didn't break down because he didn't find out till he returned that manual labor was not the president of Mexico.

Baseball Game

After watching a thrilling softball game last weekend, I have realized that most girls are the baseball type — they feel more at HOME when they're working on a DIAMOND because that way they don't have to STRIKE OUT for themselves. Also, the game is good for older people, as I observed Sunday. Even though you're retired, you can wind up with a beautiful build. Look at Joe DiMaggio.

If you can't actually get out there and play a sport, forget it. But if you do get out there, just remember that winning isn't the most important thing — it's the ONLY thing. Or, more concisely, it's not HOW you play the game that counts, it's WHO KEEPS SCORE.

Suitemate

My suitemate always insists on censoring this column, which has stimulated a veritable trickle of mail. She's been trying to gain weight. She's so scrawny and has such bony legs that every time she sits down, her knees make a fist. And she's so flat-footed that when she pulls off her shoes, her toes spread out like wagon wheels.

But at least her hair is back to its natural shade now. I mean, every time she tints her hair, I dye a little. A few semesters ago she dated a friend of mine. One night while they were sitting in the living room, her aged father informed him, "Son, we turn off the lights at 10:30 around here." And my friend assured him, "That's okay, sir, we don't plan to do much reading."

HANDY CHOPS

1. He's a good kid — if you like goats
2. You have the sort of face that turns away wrath.
3. She's the kind of girl who appeals to boys — but they just don't pay any attention.
4. Do me a favor, will you? Next time you take a bath . . . along about July or August . . . pull out the plug and don't fight the current.
5. I'd like to kick you in the teeth, but why should I improve your looks?

Closing Rhyme

When day is done and shadows fall,
I flop down with a sigh.
When shadows fall and day is done
— so am I.

16 Students Respond To Insurance Poll; 14 Are In Favor Of Rate Reduction

A total of 16 students have responded to the Student Government Insurance Poll, which asked for students' opinions concerning reducing rates for a slight reduction in coverage.

Fourteen persons favored the reduction and two expressed satisfaction with the present insurance plan.

Present policy rates are $25.29 for one year's protection, $9.12 for each fall or spring semester and $7.05 for each summer session.

Billy Walker, chairman of the insurance committee, said that both ways of cutting rates without reducing coverage and ways of cutting rates with reducing the coverage are being discussed with independent insurance agents.

The committee plans further investigation before making recommendations to the Student Government Association.

Public Address System

Another modification includes a public address system, with speakers centrally located in the new dining room and the ballroom to broadcast orders as they are ready. The book shelves near the cashiers' booths have also been removed.

With nightly drawings from the guest checks of the particular day's business, the customers who saved their stubs will have a chance to win a prize if they are present. The time and date for the drawings will be listed on the snack bar's calendar of events.

The third room under renovation at Northeast is the trophy room.

Major Alterations

Major alterations include placing of sofa or chair-type furniture, end tables and coffee or cocktail tables in the room to produce a lounge type arrangement.

Also, artificial logs, which will be gas-burning, will be located in the fireplace to give the students a home-like feeling.

Another phase of the new snack bar facilities is a constructive suggestion box, which is centrally located, gives students a chance to voice changes that should be made.

With the remodeling of the complete snack bar facilities starting today, the entire project is slated to be finished by September of 1967.

Concert Association Begins Campaign For Membership

Northeast State Concerts Association's campaign for 1967-68 memberships will begin today, announces Mrs. Henry H. Davis Jr., campaign chairman.

"Membership Renewal Week," which begins officially at 1 p.m. today, is scheduled for March 17-24. Members of the association will be able to renew their memberships for the next season and to choose new seats in the Monroe Civic Center Theatre, where all events will be presented next season.

Campaign headquarters is at 2218 Louisville Ave., across from Twin City Shopping Center. A large mounted seating chart will be available at the office for easy identification of specific theatre seat locations.

Apply For Membership

Mrs. Davis said that persons who are not presently members of the association may apply and choose their seats during the second week of the campaign, March 25-April 1.

Admission to NSCA events, by season ticket only, are available for $12 for reserved seats, $9 for adult general admission and $4 for student general admission. According to Davis Bingham, association chairman, tickets to individual attractions will not be available.

Mail orders for season tickets may be sent to "Northeast State Concerts Association, Northeast Station, Monroe, La. 71201."

Seats Assigned

Orders will be dated and numbered as they arrive and seats assigned accordingly. Present members' requests will be given priority through March 24.

Mailed applications from prospective new members will be acted upon in order of receipt, beginning March 25.

Booking of events for next season has been completed, Bingham said, and formal announcements of six outstanding concert attractions will be made to the membership at the Varel and Bailly Company concert Thursday night, March 16, in Neville Auditorium.

Dr. B. E. Qualls, director of student teaching, was the guest speaker at the March 15 meeting of the Student Louisiana Teachers' Association.

Easy Solution

Dr. Qualls said that there is always an easy solution to every human problem. The solution is neat, plausible and wrong. Often judgments in human affairs are no more than choices among equally alluring or distressing alternatives.

"How much freedom should a student teacher be allowed?" was one of the opening remarks presented by the director of student teaching. He said that if a student teacher is allowed to use the classroom as a lab it is fine for her because if something goes wrong it won't hurt her but it will hurt the student. The continuity of his studying program will be broken.

If the student teacher is not allowed to experiment at all then he or she will be no more than a second rate helper.

Dr. Qualls asserted that the student teacher that is content to copy or adapt other teachers fails to gain insight in the more sophisti-

There's more than fabric superiority in Gant. In addition, "needled-into the warp and woof of every Gant shirt" — there's flair-fit show — three vital in-herents that make all the difference when a man wears a Gant.

We chose Gant because they take shirt making seriously. They're hard to please (like we are) when it comes to fit of collar, its roll, its profile—how much it shows above the suit collar. They're fastidious about the way the body of the shirt drapes and folds. All must integrate to achieve that viable ingredient which gives comfort and aplomb. In substance, Gant shirts are keyed to the discerning tastes of well groomed men who appreciate quality. These men are our customers.

Fri, 13, Fearful Combination For Triskaidekaphobia

By MARGE PETTYJOHN

On concert tour several years back, famed piano virtuoso Oscar Levant discovered that the finest suite in a Buffalo hotel had been reserved for him. But the temperamental musician would have none of it . . . the rooms being 1301, 1302, 1303 . . . for he has a marked aversion to the number 13. Superstitious Oscar bedded down on a dressing room cot at the concert hall.

Oscar Levant suffers from triskaidekaphobia, a morbid fear of the number 13. Triskaidekaphobes become even more fearful when the 13th of the month falls on Friday. . . . and it happens at least once a year, more often twice. One year in every decade there are three. In 1966 there was only one. This year, 1967, there are two — in January and October. In 1968 there are also two — in September and December.

If you fear that dreadful day, you have plenty of company. Every time it rolls around, thousands of people refuse to work, thousands of others won't go shopping, and thousands of businessmen refuse to close deals. In fact, it has been estimated that each Friday the 13th more than $250,000,000 in business goes down the drain because of the superstitious fear to buy or or sell.

Friday Accident

In Vienna on a recent Friday the 13th, street car No. 13 crashed into an automobile outside house No. 13 on the Alserbachgasse. The time of the accident was exactly 1300 hours (1 p.m.), the last two numbers of the automobile license were 13, and 13 people were injured.

Thousands of luminaries, past and present, number among the triskaidekaphobes as well as those holding an unnatural fear of Friday. Nothing could induce Enrico Caruso, the golden-throated tenor, to start a journey or a new undertaking on Friday. He even refused to wear a new suit on the fateful day.

Few persons nursed more superstitions than Napoleon. Impervious to reason about the number 13 or Friday, on one occasion when the day set for the removal of the court turned out to be Friday, he antedated the arrangements and started on Thursday.

Began With Witches

Doubtless the 13 superstition began in ancient witchcraft. Early witches were grouped into "covens" consisting of the devil and the 12 witches who worked together in the practice of their alleged magical arts. The fixed number of members of this malevolent group was 13.

Gullible persons who hold Friday in such sinister repute disregard the good things that occurred on that day. Columbus set sail on a Friday and sighted land on Friday. The Pilgrims' landing, George Washington's birthday, and two of the great victories of the Revolutionary War all occurred on Friday.

Many persons stub their toes, lose their money and encounter all manner of bad luck on Friday the 13th. But so do they on every other day of the month.

Woodrow Wilson

If the very thought of Friday the 13th gives you the shaking meemies, emulate Woodrow Wilson, a most superstitious man. He showed profound contempt for both Friday and 13, preferring to make or announce important decisions on the 13th of the month. Early in life, he dropped his first name of Thomas and used only the last two names, which made 13 letters.

Woodrow Wilson defied superstition and so should you. After all, why be a triskaidekaphobe.

Roberts Named Chairman Of Northeast Alumni Fund

C. B. Roberts of Monroe, who is presently serving as secretary-treasurer of the Alumni Association, has been named chairman of the Fourth Northeast Alumni Fund. Roberts will supervise the efforts of numerous volunteers who will work throughout April to reach the $4,000 goal.

Roberts is also a member of the Optimist Club of Greater Monroe, board member of the Ouachita Association for Retarded Children and of the Louisiana Rehabilitation Association, consultant to the Ouachita Day Care center and field instructor for the Louisiana State University School of Social Welfare.

Administrator

He has been administrator of the Monroe Regional Mental Health Center since 1960.

Upon accepting the general chairmanship of the alumni fund he commented, "We cannot sit by and wait for someone else to build up our College. We, as alumni and friends, must take an active role, and this means giving generously of our time and money."

Pointing out that Northeast is one of the leading colleges in Louisiana and the fastest growing institution under the State Board of Education, Roberts said, "We should be proud of our association with Northeast and should want to continue our ties."

Contributions

All contributions to the annual alumni fund go directly into the Alumni Scholarship program, which has already assisted about 100 financially needy students to attend college.

Fund chairmen in the various parishes will be announced in about two weeks, Roberts reported.

Wallace Jones To Speak At Conference

Wallace L. Jones Jr., assistant professor of education, will speak and serve on a panel at the Leadership Conference for new school board members to be held in Bata Rouge March 19-21.

Jones, who will speak on Louisiana's visiting teacher program, served for eight years in the State Department of Education before joining the Northeast faculty last fall.

The three-day conference on the Louisiana State University campus, which will be sponsored by LSU's general extension division and College of Education, is designed to provide intensive training for new school board members and is being held in cooperation with the Louisiana School Boards Association.

Gridders Play At 7:30

Big Sports Weekend Ends Sat.

With Football, Track, Baseball Tilts

Northeast's biggest sports weekend of the year so far reaches a climax tomorrow night when four Indian teams will be in action, three of them in Monroe.

Highlighting the day's activities will be the annual spring practice intra-squad football game in Ouachita Stadium beginning at 7:30.

Earlier the Indian baseball team will take on Southern State in a doubleheader beginning at 1:30 on the new baseball diamond north of Brown Stadium and the track team will be host to Northwestern in its first home meet of the spring at 2 in Ouachita Stadium.

Also in action Saturday will be the Northeast gymnasts, 1967 NAIA runnersup, who will compete in the Mid-South Championships in Baton Rouge.

Northeast's golf team will wind up competition this afternoon in the McNeese Invitational Tournament in Lake Charles.

The football intra-squad game will be between the Maroon squad — containing the No. 1 defensive unit and the No. 2 offensive unit — and the White squad, containing the No. 1 offensive team and the No. 2 defensive unit.

Coach Dixie White has assigned a couple of armchair quarterbacks, Curtis Nichols and Mose Loftin of the Boosters Club, to coach the two teams. Nichols will be assisted by Bill Dotson and Wallace Hargon and Loftin by Ralph Lane and Lynn LeBlanc.

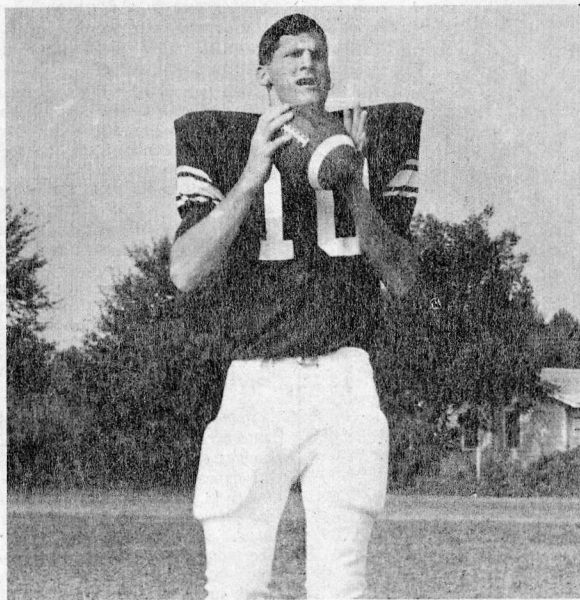

Defensive starters on the Maroon unit will be ends Kenneth Holland of Denham Springs and Charlie Rohner of Baton Rouge, tackles Dwain Rogers of Houma and Charles Rogers of Baton Rouge, middle guard Dickie Hander of St. Joseph, linebackers Wayne Cunningham of Garden City and Butch Shuman of Lafayette, cornerbacks Larry Johnson of Baton Rouge and Nic LaBarbera of Amite and safeties Thomas Edleman of Denham Springs and Don Ryder of Garnerville, N.Y.

On the White's offensive unit will be ends Tommy Fletcher of Westlake and Bob Drake of Satellite Beach, Fla., tackles Jerry McMillan of Roanoke, Va., and Jim Galloway of Alexandria, guards Larry Hornback of Lafayette and Jack Love of Monroe, quarterbacks Terry Reiseg of Kilgore, Tex., and Mike Audirsch of Morgan City, halfbacks Nick Damico of Slickville, Pa., and Nix Miller of Angola and fullback Carl Pitre of Galliano.

Holland, Rohner, Charles Rogers, Cunningham, Shuman, Johnson, LaBarbera and Edleman were defensive regulars last year.

The offensive line for the White team will consist of Al Miller, El Dorado, Ark., and Gary Strawhun of Baton Rouge at ends, Allen Richard of Jennings and Rodger Bowman of Oak Grove at tackles, Joe Bondurant of Sicily Island and Andy Mapp of Monroe at guards and Vic Bender of North Miami, Fla., at center.

Allen Bozeman of Newellton will be at quarterback, ex-fullback Ron Gaetano of Mechanicsburg, Pa., and

WHITE QUARTERBACK—Junior Allen Bozeman of Newellton will quarterback the White team when Northeast ends spring football practice with the annual intra-squad game Saturday night in Ouachita Stadium. Bozeman has been one of the offensive standouts for the Indians during spring drills.

Tribe Cindermen Win Third Commerce Title

Northeast's track team with four first places in the field events won its third All-College meet in Commerce, Tex., last Saturday.

The Tribe, who won the affair last year and in 1965, used first places in the shot put, javelin, high jump, and 120-yard high hurdles to nose out host East Texas State College.

Roger Mann, who ran the fastest time in the nation in the 120-yard high hurdles two weeks ago with a 13.4 clocking, placed first in the Commerce meet with a 13.9 clocking. Mann broke the meet record which was formerly held by past Redskin Roger Morgan. Freshman Richard Polk skimmed the highs for a third place finish.

Shepherd Wins

In the field events, Indian Mike Shepherd won the shot put with a 51.3 toss, and Milton Grubbs leaped 6-4 for first in the high jump.

Northeast freshman Tom Miller and Pete Lenox finished first and second respectively in the sky-flying event. Miller's winning vault was 14-6. In the javelin, another Tribe freshman, Tom Fletcher, won his event with a 190-8 throw with Greg Franklin finishing in second place.

Additional field points were garnered as freshman John Hollingsworth placed second in the discus, and broad jumper Don Warren notched fourth place in his specialty.

Fountain Handicapped

Ronnie Fountain, who pulled a muscle in the 100-yard dash, finished second to East Texas State's John Carlos who recorded a wind-aided 9.2. Jeff Rowden, who took over for Fountain in the 220-yard dash, scored third place in this event, and Bill Haley registered fourth in the 440-yard dash.

In the 440-yard intermediate hurdles, senior James Bodin captured third position for the Redskin cindermen.

The Tribe's baton teams, who have enjoyed limited success this season, scored a third in the mile relay and a fifth in the 440-yard relay.

Woody Cagnolatti of Tallulah at halfbacks and Bobby Scafidel at fullback.

Miller, Richert, Bondurant, Mapp, Bender and Scafidel were offensive starters last fall.

The White's defensive unit will consist of Jerry Vega of Cut Off and Ronnie LeBlanc of Crowley at ends, Ronnie DeMoss of Monroe and Don Robertson of Corsicana, Tex., at tackles, Jimmy Aarons of Vidalia at middle guard, Monty Moncrief of Monroe and Gary Barrier of St. Joseph at linebackers and Jim Boyles of Oak Grove, Ronnie Boudreaux of Baton Rouge, Robert Bennett of Amite and Jimmy Leonard of Ruston in the secondary.

Groseclose Aims For 100th Title Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon in a dual meet with Northwestern, Northeast's cindermen will have the opportunity to present Coach Bob Groseclose with the 100th victory of his coaching career.

Groseclose, now in his seventh year at Northeast, has guided track squads at Abilene, Tex., High School and Northeast to 99 victories against only 40 defeats — an excellent winning percentage of .712.

Abilene Coach

Before coming to Northeast, Groseclose coached Abilene High teams to 51 victories in 65 meets and three Texas state championships.

Groseclose's first Northeast team in 1961 was the only one that did not win more meets than it lost, posting a 3-9 mark and winding up a close second in the GSC meet.

Pennel and the Styrons

The 1962 team, paced by Dave and Don Styron, swept to 11 victories and won the first of three consecutive GSC championships for Northeast.

John Pennel's pole vault heroics highlighted the 1963 season as Northeast won seven of 13 meets, including the GSC title. Pennel broke or tied the world pole vault record three times during the college season, then four times during the summer, climaxing the year by becoming the first man to break the 17-foot barrier with a 17¾ leap in Miami Aug. 24.

Third GSC Crown

The 1964 Northeast team was 10-1 and again GSC champion. This team featured such stars as NAIA champion hurdler Roger Morgan, discus thrower Gary Walker and triple jumper Doug Constant. Other stars were sprinter Ronnie Fountain and Dalton LeBlanc and hurdler Roger Mann, who helped the Indians post records of 7-4 in 1965 and 9-4 last year, Northeast finishing second in the GSC both seasons.

Saturday's meet, first of the season in Monroe, will begin at 2 p.m. with the field events in Ouachita Parish High School stadium. Running events will begin at 3:30.

Injun Cagers, Saulters End Great Season

Coach Lenny Fant's Indians, picked to finish fifth in the Gulf States Conference pre-season polls, has ended a basketball season that turned out to be better than expected.

Eight school records were set by the team. Little All-American Glynn Saulters accounted for seven of the records as he enjoyed the greatest season ever by a Northeast cager. Saulters was also voted the Most Valuable Player for the GSC.

After opening the season with four straight losses, Northeast rebounded to wind up with a 13-11 record for the full campaign. This gave the Indians their sixth consecutive winning season and placed them third in the GSC.

One of the high points of the season was an Indian championship at the annual Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference Holiday Tournament.

Prospects are good for another successful season next year since four members of the starting five will return. The 1966-67 Redskin team was one of Northeast's youngest in several years with two freshmen and one sophomore in the starting lineup. Freshmen and sophomore members of the team won the championship of the Junior Varsity Cotton Classic Tournament in Winnsboro during the latter part of the season.

Northeast Nine Plays Southern State Here

Coach Bill Dotson's Redskins meet the Southern State nine in a doubleheader tomorrow afternoon on the Indians' new field east of Bayou DeSiard.

This will be the third consecutive doubleheader for the Indians who have split with both Delta State and Arkansas State Teachers College in previous action.

Northeast won the first game of the Arkansas State contest Tuesday, 9-1, as Marvin Brosset and Joe Canal slammed home runs and pitcher Roy Holloway tossed a nifty three-hitter. But the Indians were foiled in their attempt at a sweep when the Bears from Conway, Ar., rallied from behind twice to win a 5-4 decision in the night-cap.

State Takes Lead

Holloway, dropped behind 1-0 by allowing a single tally in the second inning, but soon settled down.

Northeast sluggers were also playing their part in the win. After being blanked for two innings by Arkansas State starter Randy Pringle, the Indians jumped on him for four runs in the third inning and five more in the fifth.

In the third, Don Boniol and David Worthington led off by drawing bases on balls. Then Brosset unloaded with a towering homer to the opposite field, which cleared the left field fence some 315 feet away, and put the Tribe out front 3-1. Canal followed Brosset with a single and later came around to score when the catcher made a bad throw of a pickoff attempt.

Canal Homers

The Indians wrapped things up in the fifth. Brosset led off with a solid single to center, and Canal hit a homer on the first pitch served by Pringle, to give Northeast a 6-1 bulge.

Northeast gave freshman Dickie Keith a one-run lead in the first inning of the second game, but soon

Glynn Saulters concluded a great basketball season for the Tribe by being named third team Little All-American and Most Valuable Player in the GSC. He averaged 24.1 points per game, tops in the conference. Team member Paul Thompson was named to the 2nd all-GSC team.

dropped behind when the Bears pushed across two runs in the second and another in the third.

Northeast beat Delta State in the second game of the opening twin-bill Saturday, 2-0, on David Davis' three-hit shutout. Delta won the first game, 7-0.

Stadium Facelifting Completed

Brown Stadium, which has recently been renovated and now is located east of Bayou DeSiard on Peyton Drive will be the site of this spring's GSC track meet and next fall's Redskin football games, according to Dixie White, Northeast athletic director and football coach.

"Our new facilities are first class in every respect," says Coach White. "The stadium is something the players, the coaches and the College can be proud of."

Fans attending games in the stadium will find that there is not a poor seat in the house. The elevation of the stands and the location of the new light poles behind and to the side of the stadium will provide every fan with an unobstructed view of the field. The new lighting system is more powerful than the old one, also with 48 lights atop each of the steel poles.

Spacious Accommodations

Sportswriters and sportscasters will enjoy the more spacious and modern pressbox. The pressbox includes six sections, five booths for radio, coaches and the public address announcer, and a large section for the press.

The main improvements to the stadium are under the stands. Special offices for the coaching staff, a conference room and a film room are located on the second floor, and on the first floor are a big dressing room for the football team, an auxiliary dressing room for the visiting teams and dressing rooms for all other Indians athletic squads except basketball.

The large equipment room, shower room, training room, weight-room and a laundry room complete the under-the-stands accommodations.

Northeast Places 2nd In NAIA Tournament

Northeast finished second — highest ever by an Indian athletic team in a national championship meet — in the NAIA Gymnastics Championships held at Natchitoches last weekend.

Coach Jerry Ainsworth's team finished the two-day meet with 83.5 points, far behind Northwestern's winning 181.5 but well ahead of third-place Southwestern's 55.5.

Eastern Washington was fourth with 46.5, Eastern Michigan fifth with 30.0 and Slippery Rock sixth with 27.5.

Dennis Sullivan of Northeast failed to repeat as NAIA all-around champion but was one of the most outstanding performers in the meet, finishing third in all-around, third in trampoline, fourth in floor exercise and horizontal bar and fifth in tumbling and parallel bars.

Ed Clarke finished second in still rings and fourth in parallel bars. Dwight McLemore was third in side horse and Ruben Villalobos was fifth in floor exercise.

Northeast was fourth in last year's NAIA meet.

Military Defeats Sig Tau

Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity suffered defeat at the hands of the "Old Men" of the ROTC department last Sunday in a softball game that decided who was the best in both ability and stamina.

The "Old Men," as they were labeled by their opponents, proved that age is no handicap against the younger generation as they slid past the Greeks 12-11.

'Only Practice'

Sgt. "Confidence" Crownover stated that Sig Tau never became a threat. "It was only a practice game," he remarked. "Why, we knocked one pitcher out of the box, while relying on heavy hitting and tremendous pitching from Capt. "Fireball" Adams to lead our attack."

Seemingly, from the talk of such men as Lt. Col. "Slugger" French, Capt. "Suave" Taylor, Maj. "Mickey" Milan, Capt. "Babe" Crowe, Sgt. "Lightning" Ingram, Sgt. "Big Red" Roberts, and Sgt. "Monte the Man" Dickey, this display of power has given much confidence to the military ranks.

"Only a practice," commented Sgt. Crownover, as a final quip. This, boasts the military department, is a taste of future matches against the Northeast student body.

Rounding out the night's action, the Jersey Boys took a 3-1 win over Medical Arts Pharmacy as John Di Maria led his team with a 499 series. For Medical Arts it was Elvin Hartung's 525 that led his team. Total pins were 2,796 to 2,741 in favor of the Jersey Boys.
