Registration Is Over - - Classes Start

IT'S OVER—And with the conclusion of registration for the fall semester Northeast students express joys of concern and relief from the "registration game." Students and faculty alike began classes this morning.

'Guess' Predicts NLSC Enrollment May Double

Northeast's 36th year of college opening activities came to a climax today as underclassmen and upperclassmen began that daily toll and grind known as — classes.

With the conclusion of registration yesterday, classes began this morning at 8 and will follow regular schedules today and tomorrow.

A record number of students is expected to jam into the academic buildings this semester. College officials have failed to comment on exact enrollment except for a total somewhere between 6,000 and 7,000.

Even with an "approximate guess," the number still would easily place the 1967 registration total for the fall semester some 100 to 1,000 students above the 5,960 that registered in the fall of 1966.

With this year's expectations, Northeast's enrollment will have doubled since six years ago when the head count was placed to 2,992. With the 5,960 last fall, the enrollment had increased 99 per cent since 1961.

Over the past 10 years, excluding 1967, the enrollment has risen by 272 per cent.

With registration officially over, attention now focuses on classes. Final date for adding subjects for credit or making subject changes is Sept. 23.

Final date for dropping subjects with an automatic W is Nov. 3.

As for mid-summer, final grades will be due in the registrar's office before noon on Nov. 8.

Northeast will observe its first holiday on Nov. 22. At this date classes will be dismissed at noon for Thanksgiving and will resume again at 8 a.m. on Nov. 27.

Christmas break this semester will be from the close of classes on Tuesday, Dec. 19, until 8 a.m. on Jan. 3.

Students considering resigning from the College with an automatic W must do so by Nov. 3. Final date for resigning from Northeast will be on Wednesday, Jan. 3.

Final exams for the fall semester are scheduled from Jan. 18-23. However, a Review Day will be observed on Jan. 17, for the benefit of students and faculty to prepare for final exams. There will be no classes held on this day.

The fall semester will end at noon, Jan. 24, with mid-year commencement slated for Jan. 26.

As for an official count on Northeast's registration for 1967, the registrar's office hopes to have a total prepared by next week's edition.

Advisers Name Molcany, Whittington Editors-In-Chief Of Paper, Yearbook

Staff members for the two Northeast student publications have been named by faculty advisers Ted

Holmes and Bert Ardoin to serve during the 1967-68 school term. Bob Molcany, junior journalism student from Shreveport, was selected editor of the Pow Wow, the student newspaper. Wanda Sue Whittington, a Monroe junior majoring in elementary education, will edit the Chacahoula, the student yearbook.

Associate editor of the Pow Wow will be Dee Cruse, senior journalism student from Winnsboro, and the Chacahoula associate editor will be Pat Herlevic, Monroe senior majoring in English education.

Other members of the Pow Wow staff will include Dorothy Raney of Shreveport, news editor; Connie Luttrell, Shreveport, society editor; and Randy Smith, Shreveport, sports editor.

Assistant editors of the Chacahoula will include Gary Pool of Springhill and Brenda Posey of Lumberton, Miss.

Molcany served as news editor of the Pow Wow last year. He was editor of the student newspaper at Fair Park High School in Shreveport and has worked with the Shreveport Times and Shreveport Journal. This past spring he received the Best Man Reporter award given by the Monroe News-Star-World.

Miss Whittington was associate editor of the Chacahoula last year. She edited the Ouachita Parish High School yearbook. She is active in the Baptist Student Union, having served the past summer as a summer missionary sponsored by the Baptist students of Louisiana. She is editor of the 1968 Louisiana Baptist student yearbook. She is also a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and Alpha Chi Alpha.

COMBINING FORCES—Looking over editions of the Northeast yearbook and newspaper as they prepare for the coming fall semester are Wanda Whittington, Monroe, Chacahoula editor; Ted Holmes, Pow Wow faculty adviser and News Bureau director; and Bob Molcany, Shreveport, Pow Wow editor.

College Gets Official Seal Designed By Prof. Schutz

Northeast announces the adoption of a new seal, designed by Assistant Professor of Art Mr. Edward E. Schutz which features a torch, an open book and the college motto, "Seek the Truth." It will appear on Northeast documents and publications.

Education as a means of seeking truth is the idea expressed by the new seal, according to Dean Powers.

"A flaming torch symbolic of knowledge that dispels ignorance and fear is the focal point of the seal," Powers explained. "From the torch emanate rays which express the desire of the College to spread the light of knowledge not only through the community but also throughout the state and nation.

"An open book symbolizing scholarly activity is at the center of the design, since it is primarily through scholarly pursuits that the Chacahoula pictures are being made today and tomorrow in rooms 205 and 206 upstairs in the CUB from 8-4. Class pictures will also be used in the organizations section and for membership in club pictures.

Yearbooks for 1967 are available to students who did not get Chacahoulas last spring. Yearbooks may be picked up in the News Bureau, upstairs old CUB from 8-4:30.

aims of the College are realized," the Dean said. "The new motto embodies the realization that the work of the College is a continuing process."

"It is our belief," said Dean Powers, "that education holds the best hope for the individual in his search for true answers. Thus we feel that the seal is an appropriate symbol for our institution."

Dr. William K. Easley, dean of the Graduate School, was chairman of the College Seal Committee. Other members of the committee were Mrs. Maud M. Bentrup, head librarian; Dr. August G. Danti, professor of pharmacy; Dr. L. Marvin McKneely, professor of English, and the late Dr. Joseph R. Brown, former professor of history.

WELCOME, FRESHMEN—Bright signs, cold drinks and loud music were abundant in the College Union Snack Bar this week when freshmen gathered to meet fellow students and survey the pre-registration situation.

Rush Opens Monday With Interfraternity Meeting

Interfraternity Council will host a convocation Monday at 7 p.m. in the CUB Auditorium to begin formal rush.

All men interested in formal rush must attend the convocation to be eligible, according to the IFC advisor Dean Jack V. Collins.

The IFC is comprised of four elected delegates from each fraternity. The council governs and regulates the fraternity system. This year's IFC officers are: Fred Wyly, president; Terry Manieri, vice president; Dave Kessler, recording secretary; George Cannon, treasurer.

All rushees must attend all the fraternities' smokers from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, at the fraternity houses.

Wednesday and Thursday smokers will be from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Friday will be open or as otherwise determined by the individual fraternities.

Rush dances will be hosted by the fraternities from 8 till midnight Saturday with addresses announced at the smokers.

The final rush smoker will be held Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the fraternity houses. Silence period begins at midnight and actives are not allowed to speak to rushees until acceptance of bids by rushees Monday.

Bids can be picked up in Dean Collins' office beginning at 1 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

The addresses of the fraternities are: Kappa Alpha, 4110 Loop Rd.; Kappa Sigma, 301 College Ave.; Sigma Tau Gamma, 4109 Bon Aire Dr.; Tau Kappa Epsilon, 905 Filhiol; Zeta Beta Tau, 4207 Bon Aire Dr.

The number of boys going through "This year's rush is expected to double last year's rush," said IFC

Convention Guest Speaker

William Dennis Brown, prominent Monroe attorney, will be the guest speaker for the IFC convocation and will give as his speech "What fraternity life has meant to me."

president Fred Wyly. With two new fraternities on campus, rush is expected to be the best yet, he added.

Traffic Jams Eliminated; Revised Regulations Issued

"Neither rain, inclement weather, nor special events" will alter any provisions of the revised traffic regulations issued by Northeast's Campus Security.

Any motor vehicle operated by a person connected with the College must be registered within 48 hours after the vehicle is brought to the campus. A student using a "family car" on campus must register it immediately. A student is not authorized to obtain a decal for a car not owned by himself or his family.

Vehicles operated in violation of these regulations will subject student operators to disciplinary action which could include suspension from the college. Students operating unregistered cars must park off campus. There is no charge for registering a vehicle, but each student will be permitted to register only one vehicle.

Parking

Parking restrictions on campus streets and parking lots are in effect from 7:30 until 3:00 p.m. Monday through Friday; and from 7:30 a.m. until 11:30 p.m. on Saturdays. Parking restrictions in Residence Hall parking lots are also in effect from 1:00 a.m. until 7:30 a.m. each day.

Faculty and staff parking zone areas are designated and marked with appropriate markers on regular traffic sign posts. Where possible, the street curbing of the faculty and staff zone is painted maroon. Commuter or drive-in student parking area is designated as Zone 1.

Visitors are always welcome at the college and may use any parking space that is not a restricted or prohibited parking area. A visitor receiving a parking ticket should place his name and address on the reverse side of the ticket and mail or return it to Supervisor, Campus Security.

Violations

Moving violations will be enforced at all hours of the day and night. These are the same violations that apply to the City of Monroe. Pedestrians have the right-of-way on all of Mitchell Drive.

The speed limit on Chauvin Avenue, Renwick Circle, Mitchell Avenue, Hippolite Street, LaSalle Street, and Bayou Drive is 15 miles per hour. The speed limit on College Avenue, Bon Aire Drive, Peyton Drive, and Cecile Drive is 25 miles per hour. All speeding and moving violations will be handled through the City of Monroe Traffic Court.

First and second violations for each semester, $1.00 each. Third violation during the semester, $1.00 fine and loss of driving privileges and/or suspension from college. Parking violations must be settled within 48 hours after the vehicle has been ticketed.

In addition to City of Monroe Traffic Court penalties, the college administration may impose an added penalty for "digging out," improper muffler, or failure to obey stop signs.

All fines except moving violations must be paid at the auditor's office, Room 120, Stubbs Hall, within 48 hours after the violation. Ticket must be presented at time of payment.

President Walker Enlarges News Bureau By Appointing Two New Staff Members

Dr. George T. Walker has announced the appointment of two new members to the NLSC News Bureau staff.

Ted Holmes, former Monroe News-Star—World staff member, was named director after Robert B. Anderson, acting director for the past two years, requested appointment to the new position as director of sports information. Bert Ardoin was appointed assistant director of the News Bureau.

Holmes, Anderson and Ardoin will also teach journalism courses in the Department of Languages, President Walker announced, and Holmes and Ardoin will advise student publications staffs.

New Director

The new director was a staff writer for the Monroe News-Star—World in 1956-57. He has also been an information specialist and newspaper editor with the U.S. Air Force; assistant editor with the Louisiana State University Agricultural Experiment Station; on the staff of the Educational and Communication Services, Division of Agricultural Development, Tennessee Valley Authority; and assistant chief of the Southwest area information office, Consumer and Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Holmes is a graduate of Epps High School. He attended Louisiana College and holds the Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts in ournalism degrees from LSU. He is married to the former Izora Walker of Santo, Texas, and they have two sons.

Ardoin

The new assistant director has been assistant editorial specialist and livestock show publicity director with the LSU Agricultural Extension Service for the past five years.

Ardoin previously worked with the advertising departments of the Baton Rouge State-Times and Morning Advocate and of Sears Roebuck in New Orleans. He was also on the staff of the Jennings Daily News.

Ardoin was reared in Eunice and is married to the former Dee Granger of Reddell. He received the bachelor's and master's degrees in journalism from LSU.

As an undergraduate, he earned the Sigma Delta Chi superior scholarship award. He is a member of the Association for Education in Journalism and of the American Association of Agricultural College Editors.

Under the new organization, Anderson will work with the news media in providing full coverage of all athletic activities at Northeast. He is a former sports writer and sports editor of the Monroe Morning World.

Anderson has been in the NLSC News Bureau since 1961. He holds the bachelor's and master's degrees in journalism from LSU. A native of Mississippi, he is married to the former Nike Poulos of Winnsboro. They have one son.

NEWS BUREAU HEADS—Joining the Northeast staff this semester are the two newest members of the Northeast News Bureau department (left) Bert Ardoin and Ted Holmes. Ardoin will serve as News Bureau assistant while Holmes will be serving as News Bureau director.

Northeast Junior Reigns As Queen

Miss Patricia Trudnak of Monroe was crowned as Queen of the Northeast Louisiana Cotton Festival pageant on the night of Saturday Sept. 9.

Miss Trudnak, a petite brownette, sang "Love Is Where You Find It" as her selection in the talent competition.

A junior at Northeast, she is a vocal music education major.

Miss Millicent Parks, a Morehouse Parish lass from Oak Ridge, was first runner-up. Miss Parks is a freshman at NLSC. She gave a rendition of Macbeth for her talent.

Miss Kay Seale, second runner-up, is from DeRidder. As her talent selection Miss Seale played Brahms Rapsody Opus 79 No. 2 in C Minor on the piano. She is a sophomore music major at Northeast.

The out-going Queen was Miss Susan Carter, an NLSC sophomore.

Mayor John Tully proclaimed Sept. 9 as Susan Carter Day in Bastrop.

Ceremonies Held In Sherrouse

Ceremonies were held Thursday, Sept. 7, in Sherrouse Hall where a portrait of the late Monroe business and civic leader William John Sherrouse Sr. was hung.

Mr. Sherrouse's son, W. J. Sherrouse Jr., and College officials including President George T. Walker took part in the ceremonies. Sherrouse Hall, a residence hall for men, was named in honor of Mr. Sherrouse last fall by the State Board of Education.

Gilbert Native

A native of Gilbert, Mr. Sherrouse lived in Monroe from 1927 until his death in 1963. Prominent in both civic and business affairs, he served as president of Central Oil and Supply Co., DeSiard Gas Co., Central Transport Co. and was active in real estate development.

He was director of the Louisiana Motor Transport Association and Bayou DeSiard Country Club and was a member of the national War Production Board during World War II. During the depression he served as honorary president of the 13-parish WPA-ERA. He and a brother also had numerous business interests in Mississippi.

LSU Grad

A graduate of LSU, Mr. Sherrouse worked in Baton Rouge and Winnsboro before coming to Monroe. His family has played a prominent part in Louisiana business since 1828. A modest citizen, many of Mr. Sherrouse's philanthropies were never known to the public.

The portrait of Mr. Sherrouse, the work of West Monroe Artist Herbert C. Moffett, was hung in the lobby of the residence hall.

Federal Grants Are Received

Northeast has received Federal grants totaling $1,649,643 and has been recommended by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to receive two more totaling $46,500 between 1968-70.

The grants will partially finance four major campus construction projects, according to James M. Nicholson, dean of administration; and one is for NLSC's medical technology program.

Grants for the construction projects, which are a new health and physical education center, a new administration - classroom building, renovation of Bry Hall, have been received under Title I of the Higher Educational Facilities Act of 1963.

In Our Opinion

Thanks to Student Government Association President Steve Huffman, the student body has been given another chance.

Why thank Mr. Huffman? He is giving you an opportunity to express your ideas on your future.

At present, the SGA has as one of its main projects the formation of a Union Board. Huffman has agreed to wait until the SGA's next meeting, Thursday night, before calling for a vote on the Union Board constitution.

This will enable the student body to attend the meeting and voice any opposition or comments.

Was Anyone Robbed?

For those of you who went through registration without noticing that the fee for tuition had increased by $10 we thought we would inform you of the change.

Instead of the usual $67 fee, this semester and all future semesters, tuition fees will be $77.

Why the increase? Good question.

The Louisiana State Board of Education passed a bill which called for a $10 increase in tuition fees for all state supported colleges.

The purpose for the increase is to help finance the building programs on all campuses throughout Louisiana. The extra finances from Northeast's registration will go into the Northeast fund for building.

The extra $10 building fee was passed by the state board to aid colleges in their building programs.

We approve whole-heartedly with the suggestion. Now NLSC can improve even better on its "best state campus" appearance.

Wanted: Workers - - Cash Reward

Wanted! Person with little or no experience or a person with ample experience. Cash if you qualify. Hard work, many rewards available.

Sound interesting? Bad news . . . it's not. That is, it is not interesting unless you enjoy the field of journalism

The Pow Wow does not want to come straight forward and say that we need help. If we were to do this, some student or faculty member would remark about the small staff and how could we do a good job.

So we will not ask you directly for help. We have a very capable staff but we are looking for some "journalism lovers" to have part interest in the student voice of the college . . . the Pow Wow.

We could use photographers, artists, sports writers, headline writers, errand runners or just any student who is interested in a good college paper.

If you feel you might qualify, come by room 7, upstairs in the old CUB and talk with one of the "journalism lovers" in the Pow Wow office.

Perhaps we don't have a place for you, but even if we don't . . . we still get a kick out of meeting new faces and future Northeast Indians.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I SIGNED UP FOR A YEAR BOOK—JOINED THE SOCIETY FOR A BETTER CAMPUS—BOUGHT TICKETS FOR A DANCE—SUBSCRIBED TO THE ALUMNI MAGAZINE—GOT A CHEST X-RAY—ENROLLED IN THE FUN & GAMES CLUB, BUT I COULDN'T GET IN ANY CLASSES."

Editor's Note Book

By BOB MOLCANY

We believe a tradition has been broken at Northeast. If you will notice for the first time in many years the Pow Wow does not have an editorial welcoming freshmen.

Now don't get us wrong. It's not that we dislike you, it's just that we felt a traditional welcome was not needed.

But, in case some of you may be offended, we apologize and say WELCOME TO NORTHEAST, FRESHMEN.

If we can be of any service to you please stop by our offices and have a chat with our personnel.

What can be expected from this year's Pow Wow?

Whatever you want.

Have any suggestions? If so, address them as letters to the editor and let us know.

We have many new and different ideas that we plan to put into effect starting next week.

The new "in" look has come to Northeast and with it, the Pow Wow has started its own 'mod'-ern appearance. This will begin with next week's edition.

What if you don't like some of our ideas and suggestions? That's good. We welcome criticism (some time). With a shortage of experienced staff members this semester, the Pow Wow will have to work twice as hard to please each of you . . . but that is our aim.

We hope to have letters, opinion polls, features, picture pages, contests and anything in general which would lead to better communication between the newspaper and the student body.

The Pow Wow is the student voice of Northeast Louisiana State College and unless the student body is willing to take an active part in the newspaper, then how can the Pow Wow be the voice of the campus?

There are many areas that need praised and criticized on the Northeast campus and we hope to reach the largest majority of these.

If you know of someone or thing that needs praised or needs an awakening, give us a call at ext. 261.

To change the subject a little, how would you like to win a color television set or a cycle? Sound good? Hope so. However, we don't have either of these to offer, but we decided it was time to try and get your attention again.

What are you doing tomorrow night? Like to see a ballgame? If you would, then Brown Stadium is the place. Northeast's football team opens its season tomorrow against Henderson State.

All you need is your ID and some spirit (not liquid) . . . but lung spirit. Let's cheer our team to victory.

Our ending comment . . . today is the 258th day of the year.

Censorship of student newspapers is now under examination by a federal court.

The question under consideration is how much censorship a state college administration can exercise over a student newspaper according to a United Press International report.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. must decide whether to readmit Trop State College former student editor Gary Dickey, who was not allowed to register this fall.

Last spring, Dickey disobeyed a faculty advisor who had instructed him to run a substitute for an editorial criticizing the state legislature.

Dickey ran only one word in place of the editorial — "Censored."

Troy State President Ralph Adams felt that the school newspaper had no right to criticize the governor or the state legislature, for in effect they owned the college and the newspaper.

In the Federal Court hearing, Adams and Dean Annette Gibbs both testified that they felt the contents of the editorial were offensive, but neither had seen the editorial when it was censored. When Dickey appealed to the president, Adams said the decision was up to the faculty advisor.

However, when Adams was questioned as to whether the editorial violated the school policy, he replied, "I'm not sure it does. It's a fairly mild editorial."

Although attorneys for the college held that the issue was the editor's disobedience to the school rule, Judge Johnson said the issue was whether the rule violated Dickey's right of free speech.

"The rule says you can write nice about them (the governor and legislature) but you can't write bad about them," Johnson said in questioning whether the policy was rational. "Did it occur to you that if the school is being hurt by this, it is the invocation of this rule and not by Dickey's action?"

College attorney James Garrett, said a ruling in favor of Dickey would wreck discipline at the school.

New Hours Announced

Northeast's Sandel Library and the College Snack Bar have announced hours for the coming fall semester.

The snack bar will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. each day except Sunday. This is a change from the 10 p.m. closing time of last semester. They will be closed all day Sunday.

Sandel Library will also be observing different hours. Monday thru Friday the library will be open 8 a.m.-10 p.m.; Saturdays 8 a.m.-4 p.m.; and Sundays 6 p.m.-10 p.m.

Sunday hours are the main time change. These new hours were selected for the benefit of the students, according to Mrs. Maud M. Bentrup, librarian.

Sandel has a seating capacity of 850 while the number of volumes total about 110,000. Of this number, 3,000 volumes are on either micro film or cards.

In addition to the volumes, the library also has two typing rooms available for student and faculty use.

A new system of book return will be used this semester by the library. Previously, books were due on certain designated days. This semester all books will be due on Friday only. Regardless of the day books are checked out, students will be given at least two weeks to return their books.

Dear Freshmen:

As President of your Student Government Association, I welcome you to Northeast.

We as upper class students here at the college feel privileged to have the active Student Government that we do. Presently our legislative body, the student Senate, is involved with the ratification of the constitution of an organization designed to increase the quality and quantity of the entertainment presented to the student body.

Studies are also being made concerning a Teacher-Course Evaluation program, student participation in the campus disciplinary structure, and initiating an improved method of polling student opinion.

It is our sincere desire that you will take an active part in student government.

By doing this you will more quickly become acquainted with the institution and will obtain a lesson in life which will add immeasurably to your degree. Participate in all that you can so that your stay at Northeast might be as pleasant as it is profitable.

Should any problems arise, be they trivial or gargantuan, come by the SGA office on the second floor of the CUB and talk things over.

Very truly yours,
STEVE HUFFMAN

Pre-Registration Freshman Assemblies Orient Newcomers To Collegiate Goals

Pre-registration assemblies for Northeast freshmen began Monday with the program including conferences with faculty advisers prior to registration.

President George T. Walker welcomed the freshmen as new "Northeast Indians," and assured them that they are entering a period of years that can be among the most rewarding of their lives.

"You are entering a period of greater freedom and opportunity for decision-making than you have known before," he added. "The faculty and staff have great confidence in young people and their ability to make decisions."

He stressed the importance of their being serious-minded students, though there would be "plenty of opportunity for fun and fellowship."

President Walker voiced his hope that the freshmen are coming with great ambition and determination. He advised them to observe and follow the outstanding leadership of the students in the Student Government Association, campus organizations and church organizations.

Herman R. Sigler, Dean of Student Services, presided at the assemblies, which were held in two sections because of the large crowd of students.

Steve Huffman, president of the Student Government Association, explained the functions of SGA and invited the freshmen to participate in its activities. The cheerleaders led a brief pep rally during each assembly.

The students also met with their academic deans, and beginning freshmen who had not already taken guidance tests were administered the Northeast Guidance Entrance tests.

Freshmen were guests of the SGA at a dance, a movie and free games in the College Union Monday evening.

DR. McLEMORE

McLemore Will Head Lang. Dept.

A Northeast faculty member, Dr. John A. McLemore, has been appointed the new chairman of Northeast's Department of Languages.

The announcement was made by Dr. William R. Hammond, dean of the School of Liberal Arts.

McLemore succeeds Dr. O. Philip James who has accepted a position as Dean of the School of Liberal Arts at Arkansas State University, Jonesboro.

An associate professor of English, Dr. McLemore was administrator for NLSC's Collegiate Program for Superior High School Students prior to the appointment.

Under this program, he served as a liaison between Northeast and high school principals and other administrators in the introduction of college study for outstanding high school students during the summer sessions.

The new department head joined Northeast in the fall of 1965 from Memphis State University where he had served on that faculty since 1956.

He holds the Ph. D. degree in English from the University of Mississippi and the M.A. and B.A. degrees from Memphis State.

A native of Eupora, Miss., McLemore is a member of the South Central Modern Language Association, the National Association of Teachers of English, the Louisiana Teachers' Association, the Renaissance Association and the Modern Language Association.

Debaters Urged To Attend Club's First Meeting

Debaters with high school experience are encouraged to attend the first debate squad meeting to be held Monday at 4 p.m. in Biedenharn 103.

Northeast's debate tournament will include trips to schools in Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana.

In addition to debate activities at the tournaments, there will be individual events in oratory, interpretation, radio speaking, after dinner speaking, extemporary speaking. Students interested in these contests should also come to the meeting.

The national intercollegiate debate topic for 1967-68 is "Resolved: That the Federal government should guarantee a minimum annual cash income to all citizens."

Debate coach will be William R. Rambin Jr., who was added to the speech faculty this fall. Other speech faculty will assist Rambin in developing the program.

Students who wish may add Speech 109, forensic speaking, for one hour credit for their participation in the debate program, although it is not necessary to sign up for credit.

Frosh Run With Pace Of First Day

Dormitories at NLSC opened at 10 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 10, for freshmen arriving for the first activities of the fall semester.

Dining facilities were opened for the evening meal, Dean Herman R. Sigler, student services, said. Vesper services for the freshmen were scheduled Sunday evening in Brown Auditorium with the Student Government Association in charge. William A. Walker III and A. S. Huffman Jr. were speakers from the SGA.

Other speakers were Fred D. Young from the Baptist Student Union, Donald P. Miller from the Catholic Student Center, Alice A. Haynes from the Christian Science Center, William A. Walker III from the Church of Christ, David Y. McGee from the Episcopal Canterbury Society, Joseph H. Kern from the Temple B'Nai Israel, Alice F. Flint from the Wesley Foundation and Billie L. Porter from the Westminster House.

The guest speaker was the Reverend Wayne W. Gray. A big sister-little sister party was held afterward in Brown Gymnasium.

Orientation activities for freshmen began Monday, Sept. 11. On Tuesday new freshman men assembled during the morning for a meeting with Jack V. Collins, dean of men, and woman students met with Miss Martha Madden, dean of women.

Church night was observed at the various campus church centers Wednesday night. The centers and their locations are: Baptist Student Union, 101 College Ave.; Catholic Student Center, 911 College Ave.; Episcopal Canterbury Society, 1308 Hilliol Ave.; Wesley Foundation (Methodist), 112 Delano Dr.; and Westminster House (Presbyterian), 409 College Ave.

With the conclusion of orientation, formal registration for all students began Wednesday, Sept. 13. Registration was concluded yesterday and classes begin at 8 this morning. Dances and meetings were other activities on the freshman agenda for the fall semester.

College Names Directors For Activities And Housing

Two newly created positions have been filled, one in housing and one as coordinator of student activities, according to Herman R. Sigler, dean of Student Services.

Jim V. Haddox, a West Monroe native, has been named Director of Housing while Nicholas L. Lassiter of Monroe has been named coordinator of student activities at Northeast.

Rapid growth of the student body and expansion of dormitory facilities have made it necessary to create the housing director position, Sigler said.

Haddox is a 1960 graduate of Northeast with a B.S. degree in geology.

Lassiter, the new coordinator of student activities, will coordinate the activities of the 70 student organizations, including social, professional and service groups.

He is a 1958 graduate of NLSC, receiving the B.S. degree in health and physical education. He did graduate work at the college and earned the Master's degree in 1966.

'HOPPERS ANYONE?—Not many people during their lifetime get the opportunity to collect grasshoppers in Nigeria, but Dr. Herbert S. Wallace of Northeast spent his

Northeast Grasshopper Hunter Relates Summer Time Nigeria Adventures

By Dee Cruse

Who goes to Nigeria to collect grasshoppers? A Northeast professor of biology, who else?

Dr. Herbert S. Wallace, associate professor of biology, spent part of his summer in Nigeria collecting grasshoppers and photographing plants and animals in their native environments.

"I was photographing mostly plants," Dr. Wallace said. "The animals didn't hold still long enough."

He said he chose Africa because he wanted to collect grasshoppers that are found only in the tropical zone there.

Since Nigeria has been the most politically stable country in the zone, he found it the most logical choice.

Three days before he was to leave on his trip a civil war broke out in the country Wallace had called "the showcase of Africa."

"No fighting occurred where I was working, but there was panic because of the rumors of white saboteurs," Dr. Wallace explained. There was some inconvenience. Roadblocks were everywhere. In one section in the 12 miles he had to travel to his work area there were three roadblocks.

"Guards examined all the cars thoroughly," Wallace said, "and everyday the guards were changed. They didn't understand English very well, but we had no trouble, except for the language."

Dr. Wallace did run into some trouble shortly before he was to leave, however. He was detained at the police station for three hours suspected of being a "dangerous saboteur."

Some farmers misinterpreted the use of his photography and collecting equipment. "They thought I was taking something out of a box and burying it," he said. "Nothing about it was unreasonable. However, I was held until the police decided there was nothing dangerous about my equipment."

Language posed a problem to the associate professor, as exemplified by the roadblocks. "The Nigerians are not just one people," Wallace explained. "There are 12 tribes and 12 principle languages, 20 minor tribes and 20 minor languages, so English is the common language even though it is not widely used."

In dealing with the people, he found that "patience is the prime requisite."

"They are not going anywhere and are not concerned that you are," he commented. "And they aren't interested in helping you unless you are willing to pay them."

Wallace, who has collected 60 per cent of the species of North American grasshoppers, said that this was his first extended trip for collecting. He has collected grasshoppers on the Marshall Islands which are now in the Bishop Museum in Honolulu.

The foreign species he has in his own collection he has gotten through imports and trades.

"I also brought back native handcraft and hides. These will be used for wildlife courses to be taught here next year."

Nursing School Enlarges Staff; Four Are Hired

Four new nursing instructors have been added to the faculty at Northeast this fall semester, according to Miss Jeanne Short, acting head of the Department of Nursing.

They are Miss Gerry Dean Cadenhead of Marshall, Tex., Miss Billie Sue Dixon of Monroe, Mrs. Sylvia Gunter of Bastrop, and Mrs. Betty Edminston Smith of Clay.

Miss Cadenhead comes to Northeast from the University of Colorado where she received the M.A. degree this summer. Her work experience covers a two-year period at Texas Eastern School of Nursing as a medical-surgical instructor and three years at Baylor University where she was an assistant supervisor between 1962-64 and a staff nurse from 1961-62. She holds the B.S. degree from Baylor.

Miss Dixon, a graduate of Neville High School at Monroe, holds the B.S. degree from Northeast and the M.A. degree from New York University. Prior to her appointment at NLSC, she was an instructor at Nassau Community College, Garden City, N.Y. She also has worked as a staff nurse during the summers of 1964 and 1966 at St. Francis Hospital, Monroe.

Mrs. Gunter, a Bastrop High School graduate, holds the B.S. degree from Northeast and has worked as a graduate nurse at St. Francis Hospital. She is married to Ronald Gunter and resides at 1604 Roselawn Ave., Monroe. The Gunters have two children.

Mrs. Smith, a graduate of Chatham High School, holds the B.S. degree from Northwestern State College and the M.S. degree from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga. She is married to Gerald Smith and has two daughters.

Play Tryouts Announced

Tryouts for the first major production of the Northeast speech department will be held on Sept. 21 in Biedenharn Auditorium from 3 to 5 p.m.

The play, "Stage Door" by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, will be presented Nov. 14-15 in Brown Auditorium.

Needed for the cast are 21 women and 12 men.

"They are all good parts," says Dr. George C. Brian, who will direct the play. "There are serious and comedy parts."

Greetings to the new pledges

RENEWED BUILDING and new equipment have the art faculty smiling. Edward Schutz, assistant professor of art, and Walley Runnels, instructor of are move some of the new equipment into the remodeled Bry Hall. The machine will reproduce, enlarge and reduce prints through a photographic process. "It is used by many advertising design studios," said Runnels. "We are trying to recreate the atmosphere of a studio and hope to add more equipment soon."

Faculty, Students Pleased With Bry Hall Renovation

Completely renovated Bry Hall now houses the Northeast Department of Art.

Dr. William T. Persick, department head, says that the modernized structure will have superior facilities. Nine classrooms, individual faculty studio offices, and a centrally located art gallery are some of the main features of the interior structure.

A printmaking classroom will have two floor model etching presses, three lithography presses, a large stainless steel graining sink, 40 litho stones, classroom tables and individual student storage facilities.

Designs

Art History and Basic Design combined in one room will be audio-visually equipped. One thousand demonstration slides have been added to the present collection.

Another room will be occupied with Three-Dimensional Design and Sculpture. A metal band saw, a wood band saw, a radial arm saw, two electric arc welders, two gas welders and numerous hand tools have been purchased.

The Ceramics area will have available 15 electric potter's wheels, a clay mixing machine, two glaze spray booths, a 30 cubic foot gas-fired kiln and a glo-bar kiln.

Eighteen Barclay easels and taboretts have been purchased for the Painting area. The Framing room is adjacent to the Painting area.

For drawing, recently acquired easels will be used, along with taboretts.

A modern Advertising Design area will contain drawing tables, printing press, a visualizer, a process camera and an air-brush.

Facilities for jewelry-making, jewelry casting, enameling, weaving, lapidary and heat treating kilns for plastics will be on hand in the Crafts room.

Reproduction

A program of Graphic Reproduction is also being finalized, and the building will contain a darkroom area with ten enlarging stations and related photographic equipment for each.

The renovation project is being done at a cost of $287,448. Of this amount, $193,000 is construction costs and the remaining is for equipment and architect fees. A federal grant of 087,000 has been received by Northeast on the project.

The work is being financed by the Louisiana State Bond and Building Commission and the grant.

Dr. Persick expressed pride in his faculty, which presently numbers six, with authorization for the addition of another one, and replacement of an Art Historian.

With the increasing faculty, it is anticipated that Art electives will be available to any student at Northeast.

Laird Appointed Alumni Officer At Northeast

A Tallulah elementary school principal, William E. "Billy" Laird, has been appointed Alumni Secretary at Northeast.

Laird will provide full-time service to the alumni interests of the college, according to dean of student Services, Herman R. Sigler.

Laird will work with alumni in their efforts to support Northeast in its program of progress and growth. He will supervise publication of the Alumni News and provide other methods of keeping the alumni informed about the college.

A graduate of Tallulah High School, Laird received the B.S. degree in health and physical education from Northeast in 1957.

He was a two-year letterman in football and was selected for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Laird has served on the board of directors of the Northeast Alumni Association and is past president of the Madison chapter of the association.

C. P. S. Review Course Available As Night Courses

A course designed for inservice secretaries who wish to review for the Certified Professional Secretary examination is being offered this fall.

Northeast's Department of Office Administration is offering the second part according to Dr. D. Delbert Vines, Dean of the School of Business Administration.

The course, Office Administration 406, will be offered from 6:30 to 9:15 each Tuesday evening.

The course, carrying undergraduate credit, will review materials in the fields of secretarial procedures, business law, and accounting.

Secretaries wishing further information about this course should contact Dr. Ruth Bruner.

At Northeast Nine Receive New Doctorates

Nine Northeast faculty members received their doctoral degrees this summer.

Receiving their Doctor of Education degrees in summer commencement exercises were Wallace J. Jones, who received the degrees from Louisiana State University, and Robert Elgin Ward, from the University of Mississippi.

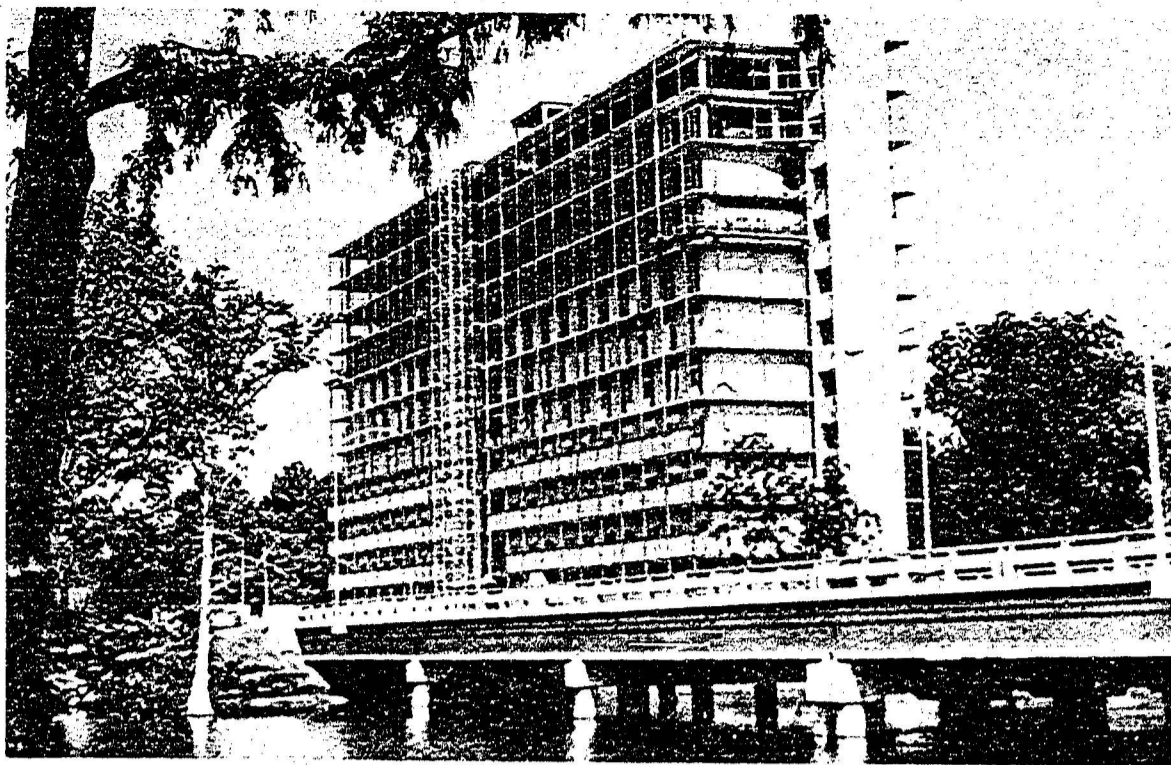

Also earning their degrees from the University of Mississippi, Bobby N. Irby, assistant professor of chemistry, earned his Doctor of Education, while John A. McLemore, new head of the Department of Languages, received his Ph. D. in English.

Joe Barry Mullins, head of the Department of Music, received his Doctor of Education from the University of Illinois; and Reynaldo S. Saenz, assistant professor of pharmaceutical chemistry, earned his Ph.D. degree from the University of Texas.

Receiving his doctorate from Louisiana State University, Edward B. Selby is assistant professor of economics.

Mrs. Catherine Vaughn, assistant professor of education, received her E. D. from the University of Southern Mississippi.

Also receiving his doctorate was Dwight D. Vines, dean of the School of Business. He received it from the University of Colorado.

Olin — 11-Story Skyscraper

Skyscraper Top Project For College

Two new dormitories are under construction and scheduled to be completed within the next three weeks. When 11-story Olin Hall, accommodating 832 men, and Lemert Hall for 212 women, are completed, the campus housing capacity will reach 3,800.

More building is to begin soon. Over $57 million worth of projects has been scheduled including a new administration-classroom building, a health and physical education center-gymnasium and renovation and additions to Brown Hall. Plans are also in the making for a $2 million pharmacy building.

The new pharmacy building will eventually be combined with Hanna Hall and the new administration building to form a U-shaped plant on the former site of Brown Stadium.

The health and physical education center-gymnasium, seating over 7,000, will be built east of the bayou on Bon Aire Drive. A small auditorium will be added to Brown Hall with facilities for teaching drama. The entire hall will also be remodeled.

Awaken Girls! Madden Named Dean Of Women

Northeast has a new dean of women.

Martha Madden of Shreveport has joined the Northeast staff as dean of women, Dean of Student Services Herman R. Sigler has announced.

For the past two years Miss Madden has been a member of the Dean of Student's staff and director and counselor of a woman's dormitory complex at Stanford University in Palo Alto, Calif.

"I have worked with young people for the last 10 years in some professional capacity," Miss Madden said. "Young people have outstanding problems and my ultimate goal is to counsel, analyze and evaluate rather than judge."

"Young people today have so much more to offer," she continued. "They are to be congratulated on pursuing this end, and I feel I can help since I am not so far removed from their generation."

Prior to her work at Stanford, Miss Madden was a guidance counselor at Thomas J. Rusk Junior High School in Dallas, Tex. between 1962 and 1965. She did statistical analysis work for a Dallas management consultant firm in 1958, and in 1959 to 1962, she taught honor courses in mathematics at E. H. Cary Junior High School in Dallas.

In addition to recent post-graduate work at Stanford, Miss Madden holds the M.A. degree in guidance and counselling and the B.A. degree in mathematics from Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

Tennis Anyone? Northeast Court Policy Is Explained

"Swish — swoosh — bang . . . tennis is the name of the game" as Northeast once again has tennis courts.

Tennis is now being offered at Northeast with the completion of 10 modern tennis courts across the bayou.

Constructed at a cost of $52,256., the courts are composed of Laykold, an asphalt-like substance.

The layout consists of two five-court areas, with the playing area colored green and the surrounding area red. A 10-foot chain link fence surrounds the courts.

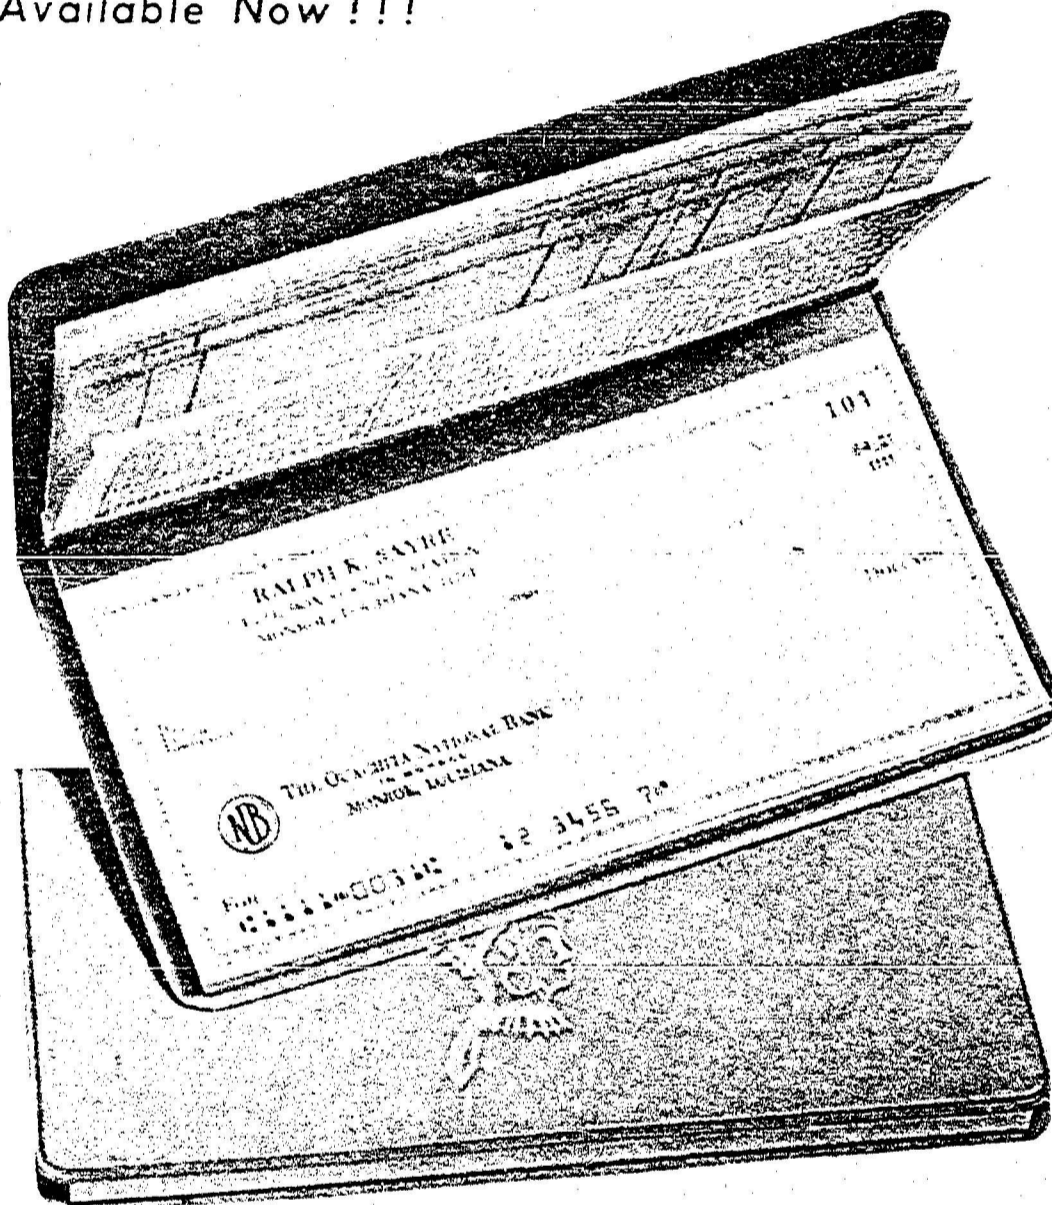

Policies governing use of the facilities have been formulated.

The courts will be open from 1-8 p.m. on weekdays and from 8 a.m. until sundown on weekends.

An attendant will be duty at all times. No food, drink or seating equipment will be allowed in the court area, tennis shoes must be worn by all persons entering the facility, courts must be released after 1½ hours if others are waiting, and appropriate tennis apparel must be worn by players.
